TANNING SKINS.

Directions For Making Best Use of the Prey of Gun or Trap.

Many a boy who has been successful with trap or gun would be glad to save some of the fur skins secured as a souvenir or for some purpose, such as making lap robes, rugs, etc. He is quite often prevented from doing this because of the expense when the work is done by a skilled tanner or else by the lack of knowledge of how to do it himself.

There are several processes by which hides may be tanned with the fur on, but the following is about as cheap and handy as any:

Wash the hide in warm water, remove all flesh matter from the inner surface and loose dirt from the hair side. Now wash in strong, rather warm soapsuds. The old fashioned soft soap made from wood ashes is best. Either rub by hand or gently on a washboard. As soon as thoroughly cleansed and rinsed, press as much of the water out as possible. Add the following mixture to the flesh side: Common salt and ground alum, one-fourth ounce each, and one-half ounce of borax dissolved in one quart of hot water. When sufficiently cool to work with the hand, add enough rye meal to make a thick paste. Spread the mixture on the flesh side, fold and let remain in a shady, airy place for two weeks, then remove the paste and wash. When nearly dry, scrape the flesh side thoroughly with a dull knife, and rub with the hands until the skin is soft and pliable.—Kansas Farmer.

Handy For Hanging Things.

Farmers will find many places around the barn where a hook to hang things on will be of great convenience.

DOUBLE NAIL.

First.—Farm and Fireside.

Talk problems over with your neighbor and ask his support in building up the schools; improving the roads and in getting the community organized for social and economic betterment.

Among the Chickens.

Don't tie up the top of the grit sack just because the hens are out on the ground. They cannot get much grit themselves, and what they do get is not sharp enough to do the necessary grinding.

A combination of high roosts and heavy fowls seldom proves satisfactory. Lame birds will surely result. Wide perches, not over two feet from the floor, are the best for the heavy breeds.

One good way to keep insect pests down is to give the birds all the dust they need to roll in. Just try that and see how they will "second your motion" by rolling every day and many times a day.

Dust which is used for poultry should not be left too long in the houses. It gets old and perhaps infested with insects, so that it will defeat the purpose for which it is placed in the boxes.

A flat stone and a hammer are all the tools necessary to manufacture grit from the pieces of broken crockery and dishes which accumulate more or less around every home. The pieces can be pounded fine for chick grit or coarse for the older birds.—Farm and Fireside.

WHEN YOU MAKE REPAIRS.

In making repairs upon the premises it is an economic loss to do shoddy and temporary work. We should feel that the farm and the home deserve the best attention and that all work done upon the farm and around the place should be worthy of the one who lives upon the farm. Do not permit habits of carelessness to come into your life.

Turnips Valuable For Swine.

Roots, among which turnips are classed, are quite generally considered to be a very valuable feed for swine. They are about nine-tenths water and consequently they cannot be used exclusively or even in very large quantities, especially to fattening hogs. Cooking will improve turnips for fattening hogs because it takes out considerable of the water. As a part of the ration they make a very valuable feed for swine of all kinds, especially in winter, and are well worth the trouble of gathering and preparing for the hogs.—Breeder's Gazette.

A Warm Bathroom
PERFECTION
SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Every mother should be careful that the children take their baths in a warm room. The chill of a cold room is dangerous after coming out of the hot water.

A Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater brings bathroom or bedroom to just the degree of warmth you want in five or ten minutes. All you have to do is to touch a match.

The Perfection Heater burns nine hours on one filling and is always ready for use. You can move it anywhere it is needed. There is no waste of fuel and heat warming unoccupied rooms. Just the heat you want, when and where you want it.

The Perfection is fitted with an automatic-locking flame spreader that prevents the wick being turned high enough to smoke and is easy to remove and drop back when cleaning.

Drums finished either in turquoise-blue enamel or plain steel; light and ornamental, yet strong and durable—suitable for any room in any house.
