KENDRICK IDAHO

Trade in Kendrick and thereby help build up the home merchant, the one that should have your support.

Moscow is wanting her streets paved, they surley want to do some thing or they won't have any delivery horses left, for they will all be lost in the mire. Better do some thing before spring for you won't need it then.

Don't stop and wait for summer months to come, but get in and fix up your residence and buy a little paint and use the brush and make your neighbor ashamed of himself so he will do likewise then the old town of Kendrick will have more of an air of importance than an old town of by gone days, where no one cares for its appearance. If you will but look at other towns around you and see the way they keep their residence and other buildings it will make you, if you have any pride get up and move.

When leaving town buy your tickets at the station and thereby show the railroad company that the town is working for the interest of the company and then the company will in return make improvements around the station that will make the town have a better appearance.

The Gazette has for the past few weeks been sending out sample copies of the paper to different people over this country and if the paper looks good to you we would be glad to put you on the regular list. Now if this paper does not suit you don't tell anybody, but us, and if it does suit you tell everybody. We want you for a subscriber and promise to give you the news as near straight as we can get it and all of it we can get. So if you know any thing phone us.

NOW is the time to order your tailor-made suit. Fashion has made her last decree and we are showing in the "Edesco" line from Edward E. Strauss & Co. everything worth while in fabrics, colors, tone, and style. We are sure you will like everything about them from quality to price.

An absolute fit guaranteed.

There never was a better time in the history of the Potlatch country than right now, for the different towns to get together and boost for the country. In this hour, and time and age of affairs is no place for towns to be fighting and the people in the different towns to be always knocking one another, if you would all join in the fight for one goal and that be for the betterment of the country as a whole, the eastern people would take more kindly to the reports from the west than the way it is going in some localities. Cut out the strife between towns and at home in each town and all work for the one great end, the country as a whole, and then you will be able to see better results.
