Food and Fresh Air.

You can live forty days without food, but you cannot live four minutes without air. These things being true, is it wise to stuff ourselves with food and starve ourselves for want of air?

AVOID CONTAGION.

Get the Health History of a House Before You Move into it.

To those intending to buy or move into a house that has been occupied the following advice is offered by the Woman's Home Companion:

"Guard your family from contagious disease germs in the new house. It has been proved that thousands of tuberculosis and scarlet fever cases annually are the result of moving into houses which have not been disinfected.

"Secure the 'health history' of the house you expect to buy or rent. It will be supplied by your board of health, your health officer or any physician who practices in your town. If it has housed a tuberculosis patient don't take that house; find another.

"No matter what the 'health history' of the house, have the plumbing examined, the drains flushed and the entire house disinfected.

"If the walls are to be repapered have the old paper removed. "Do not move into any house where the cellar has been flooded and is moldy.

"In towns where there is neither city water nor sewerage system make sure that the well and the cesspool are widely separated."

Quit Your Knocking

Put the hammer in the locker; Hide the sounding board likewise; Anyone can be a knocker; Anyone can criticise; Cultivate a manner winning; Through it hurts your face to smile And seems awkward in beginning; Be a booster for a while. Let the blacksmith do the pounding; That's the way he draws his pay, You don't get a cent for pounding Saint and sinner, night and day. Just for solid satisfaction Drop a kind word in the slot, And I'll warrant you'll get action On your effort on the spot. Kindness every time beats kicking; Mirth is better than a frown; Do not waste your time in picking Flaws with brothers who are down. And it isn't so distressing If you give a little boost To the man the fates are pressing When the chicks come home to roost.

—Brighton, Colo, Register.

Purify your toilets, drains, sinks, garbage cans, etc., and prevent contagious diseases. We have the best Peroxide of Hydrogen on the market. It is 25 per cent stronger than required by the United States Pharmacopoeia. It is an excellent antiseptic and you should have a bottle or two in your possession at all times.

A Lesson For Nellie.

Mrs. Washington was a strict disciplinarian about certain matters and among other things always required the members of the household to follow the example of her husband and dress for dinner, which was at 3 o'clock. On one occasion Nellie Custis and her cousin, Martha Dandridge, appeared at the table in their morning gowns, but no comment was made upon it until a coach was seen approaching and the visitors, some French officers of high rank and Charles Carroll, Jr., of Carrollton, one of Miss Custis' ardent suitors, were announced. Instantly the girls, in a flutter of excitement, begged to be excused in order to change their gowns, but Mrs. Washington shook her head. "No," she said, "Remain as you are. A costume good enough for President Washington is good enough for any guest of his." Needless to say, Miss Nellie never overlooked her proper garb for dinner again.

A Cautious Reply.

At West Point they tell a story of a man known as Ginger, on account of the peculiar color of his hair, who graduated at the foot of his class after six years at the Point.

Ginger distinguished himself while reciting to an instructor in ordnance by a remarkable answer to the question "How many pieces will a twelve pound shell burst into?" the average number having been determined well by experiment. After due reflection Ginger lifted his eyes to those of the instructor and replied:

"Children have no kick when it comes to being hard hearted. When parents want to marry they almost never succeed in getting the children's consent."—Pittsburgh Post.
