KENDRICK IDAHO, FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1916

Let the other fellow experiment. You are looking for a sure thing.

A game of Poker has wonderful possibilities and brings quick returns but the risk is great.

Outward show may be easily purchased but true happiness cannot for it is a home made article.

It is said that the three greatest diseases in America are vacations, Coca Cola and the Saturday Evening Post.

Now that spring is here close up your desk and take a day off. You will live longer for it and "As we journey through life let us live by the way."

The high price of eggs again raises the question why more people don't keep hens. It is so very expensive, for the hens can get their living from their neighbors back yard.

The scarcity of dyes will annoy those men most whose artistic tastes are not satisfied until they have pink neckties to go with their blue shirts.

The tremendous popularity of President Wilson is seen in the fact that in the primary elections being held in the various states, he is receiving in many places more votes than the combined vote of all Republican candidates, and no favorite son has thus far been able to secure an indorsement in the Democratic party.

To accomplish things really worth while requires time. We learn that Moses required eighty years to get ready to do forty years work; that Jesus of Nazareth had a preparation of thirty years to do three year's work. We in America are in a hurry. We get ready for our life work in a rush. It might be well to remember that a mushroom can be raised in a night, a big squash in one summer, an oak in a century.

Now that the Creamery is an assured success would it not be well for the Commercial Club to look about for more profitable enterprises. Kendrick should be able to secure a factory that would establish a payroll. With an abundance of raw material on every hand and unlimited waterpower, if properly applied, it would seem that something could be found to supply this public need. Let us keep the ball rolling.

FIRE INSURANCE

An investigation into the rapid increase in fire insurance rates in Idaho has been started by Governor Alexander. He had been notified that in north Idaho, in particular, fire insurance rates had been increased from thirty to forty per cent. The Governor believes that the people have a right to know if there is any reasonable excuse for such a marked increase.

One reason given for the increase is that the per cent of fires had increased so rapidly that the risks are much greater. How true this is cannot be told at this time nor has any reason been given why the fires have increased so rapidly.

The Governor has directed the Attorney General to ascertain if the insurance companies, responsible for the raise, can be reached under the terms of the anti trust law. When the Governor wants to know anything he goes after it until he reaches the basic facts. He is not a quitter and will soon be able to report his findings to those interested.

The Democratic Convention closed its labors a week ago. The following are the only political conventions yet to be held in which Idaho is directly interested:

June 7—Republican National Convention at Chicago.

June 7—Progressive National Convention at Chicago.

June 14—Democratic National Convention at St. Louis.

Both of the Kendrick churches are using electric lights and the plan of lighting is very good. The old kerosene and gasoline lamps that were formerly used were almost an excuse for one to go to sleep in church. The frosted globes on the electric lights produce a very soft light and the lights are so arranged that there is no discomfort occasioned by them.

If farmers could be sure of receiving present market prices for the 1916 bean crop it would pay to plow up the whole Potlatch country and plant it in beans. But that is one of the serious draw-backs to farming. The farmer has to put in the crop that he believes will bring the best price. It is more a matter of guess work than anything else, for while the price on one particular crop may be very high in the spring, this crop may not be worth half the price in the fall at harvest time.

This year there is an unusual amount of summer fallow ground, owing to the fact that during the past couple of years every acre available has been seeded to grain in order to take advantage of the high prices. If the bean crop is as good as the average, with the present prospect of good prices next fall, there will very likely be more money made on the bean crop than on the average grain crop. That's where the Potlatch county can put it all over any other section of the northwest—just the fact that it is not necessary to lose a year summer-fallowing the ground. It is a very creditable showing, too, that every year the bean crop acreage is increasing and thus the Potlatch becoming more famous every year.

We believe that the Gazette job shop deserves all the patronage of this territory. If you have a job of printing you want done, let us at least figure with you before sending it away to some mail order printing supply house. We know there is very little printing sent out of Kendrick for Kendrick is loyal to its business interests but we would like to see the time when there would be nothing in the way of printing sent away from the home shop. If you have a job that you think we cannot handle bring it in, we want to see what it looks like.

Automobile owners are beginning to worry over the high price of gasoline and much time is being spent to produce a substitute. It might be well to take heed to the sky-ward price of sugar and line up a substitute for it. If the autos run out of gasoline we can walk but what about coffee for breakfast without any sugar?

You hear a good deal about the reporter's "nose for news." The best news nose on earth is as a petrified mushroom compared to the 16-year-old girls nose for "trade lasts,"—Ex.

PREPARING THE DASHEEN.

A Staple Article of Food in the South is Invading the North.

The dasheen, which has been successfully raised in some of our southern states and Arizona, has become quite popular as a rival to the potato. It outdoes the potato in that it can be grown as a summer crop in a region where the potato must be grown almost entirely as a spring crop. It ripens its tubers in October and furnishes them for the table at a season when northern grown potatoes have to be shipped in.

This vegetable is a staple article of food for millions of people in tropical and subtropical countries. In general it is used in the different ways in which the white potato and the sweet potato are used. The flesh of the large spherical corms and of the larger tubers (which are usually much smaller than the corms) is frequently somewhat gray or violet when cooked, but this does not affect the flavor. Baked dasheens, stuffed dasheens, scalloped dasheens, boiled dasheens, fried dasheens, mashed dasheens, creamed dasheens, dasheen salad, dasheens as filling for fowls and other meats, dasheen soup, candied dasheens, dasheen pie, dasheen pudding, dasheen shoots, dasheen greens—prepare and cook as you would potatoes. This is a novelty that amateur gardeners will enjoy trying.

The Idaho Falls (Idaho) Register has discovered a man who insists that the statements he receives from local merchants bear the label of the local printing establishments, declaring that it is just as necessary and proper for the local merchants to patronize the local printer as it is for the resident to refrain from sending to the mail-order houses and patronizing the local merchant.—Star-Mirror.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is cataract. Cataract being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Cataract Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Credit and Confidence

Credit and confidence grows with business relations, and when once established with a strong bank, is additional working capital for a successful business. Our local experience with local conditions enables us to assist you in the right way.

Notice the character and ability of the men who have charge of the bank; see that the officers are experienced bankers and the directors are responsible business men. The bank should have ample capital, the larger the capital the greater the protection for the depositor. A large surplus and profit fund is also an additional protection.

If there is anything about the banking business you do not understand, call and let us explain it to you. We want you to make our bank your banking home.
