To the Ford owners: New Ford possibilities are always coming to light; the latest discovery by one of the prosperous farmers on L. B. R., is its use as a gopher destroyer. An extension pipe is fastened to the exhaust from the engine, the car is placed so the pipe extends a short distance into the squirrel hole and the engine is started; this sends the deadly gas into the den of squirrels, and proves to be their destruction. It works on the same principle as the squirrel smoker but is a much more pleasant task for the manipulator.
