

HERE IN LEWISTON

Ed. Knight and William Benton left this morning for Moscow where they are witnesses in the Peter Kane whisky case.

George Loeb has treated his confectionary store to a new coat of paper, which gives the establishment a cozy appearance.

Jack Ness of Ill. was a visitor in the city yesterday, leaving this morning for Moscow to answer the charge of introducing whisky on the reservation.

The Geo. F. Loeb cigar and fruit store presents a pleasing change today. Mr. Loeb has had the paper hangers and decorators at work regenerating the interior.

The Lewiston Military band, under direction of J. R. Pollard, rendered a number of selections on Main street yesterday afternoon. The music was highly appreciated by a large audience.

McGilvery & Thompson are displaying in one of their windows the $75 brass bed which they are offering as a prize to the lucky one of their customers who draws the winning number. The award will be made during the holidays.

The state board has commuted the sentence of Thomas Vanarsdale, to take effect early in December. Vanarsdale was sentenced last February to one year in the penitentiary, having been convicted of horse stealing. His term would have expired February 28, 1904.

Frank Primus, the seventeen-year-old son of a prominent merchant living near Nezperce, was examined by Doctor Hulbert, before Probate Judge Reese his morning and adjudged insane. Fits of melancholy are his peculiar mania. He will be committed to the asylum at Blackpool as soon as an attendant can arrive to take him in charge.

The steamer "Imnaha" arrived this morning at seven o'clock from Eureka where she made a very successful trip. A number of passengers arrived from points on the Snake river to attend the fair. The Imnaha stopped at the granite quarries above Wild Goose Rapids and took on a load of granite for the new granite firm just recently organized.

Hon. A. H. Hamilton of Ottumwa, Iowa, and his brother-in-law F. R. Caffin of Boise, Idaho, are in the city today en route to Koooskia where they go to get the body of Mr. Hamilton's son buried at Koooskia and take it to Ottumwa for deinterment. Justus A. Hamilton, the young man, died at Koooskia in May, 1899. He was a miner and prospector and had some properties in the upper Clearwater districts.

The salmon run has decreased to the usual winter product. Local fishermen are catching from fifteen to twenty fish to the net, per day. This rate will continue until May and June, 1904, when the spring run, up the river, will be made from the ocean. Norberg & Sons report this morning that they have about 1,000 pounds of fish on hand for fair week. The other fishing firms have a good supply for the markets.

The occupants of the property of O. A. Kjos, located on the corner of Fifth and Main streets, will receive orders November first to move their stocks by the first of December so that the buildings can be moved and the property turned over to the contractors on the new block to be occupied by the Kjos-Beach department store. Those affected by this order will be the Commercial Printery, Mothers Kitchen, William & Fenders confectionary store, Union Furnishing store, Vienna bakery, Gomond picture gallery and Cactus saloon.

The Spokane-Lewiston passenger train did not arrive at Lewiston yesterday but came in this morning at 6 o'clock. The delay was caused by a freight wreck at Pullman Junction yesterday morning. The passenger was held by the wrecked train from 11:55 a. m. yesterday to 2:30 a. m. today. A defect in the crossing of the O. R. & N. track derailed the tender of the freight engine and this was followed by five cars turning over on their sides. A wrecking crew was called but the condition of the track was such that it took more than twelve hours to clear away the debris. The section men from Lewiston were called to the junction on number ten this morning.

One hundred and seven stalls at the racing stables on the fair grounds are filled.

A marriage license was issued today to Jasque E. Templeton and Emma L. Feed, both of Nezperce.

Assessor Gifford has collected $2,000 during the month of October. About $1,500 of this money is taxes of 1903, $500 is city taxes and the remainder is back taxes. Sixty receipts have been issued for taxes of 1903.

Kroninger and Pring, managers of the Lewiston opera house, announce a glove contest for next Friday night at 11 o'clock in which Jack Overdorf of Philadelphia will meet "Kid" Lavique of Michigan. The bout will be ten rounds for a decision.

R. E. Jackson of the firm of Riley and Jackson of Culesac was in the city yesterday on business in connection with their general merchandise store at that place. Mr. Jackson states the Culesac is forging ahead and that many new buildings are being erected to accommodate the growing demands of business in that section. He also states that the new Wright saw mill with a capacity of 40,000 feet of lumber per day will be in operation this week. This institution will afford a pay roll of fifty men. Mr. Jackson left for his home on this morning's train.

Evert Edwin, the two-year-old son of A. A. Smith of Grangeville died at his father's home, Wednesday, from having a tobacco tag lodged in his throat. On Sunday the child put a Star tobacco tag in his mouth and the parents thought it had been swallowed. A doctor was called and held the same opinion. Later the little throat became swollen and a council of physicians decided that a successful operation could not be performed and the child died. Every thing possible was done to relieve the sufferer.

Lewis Roberts, a boy eighteen years of age, was arrested Saturday afternoon at Greer, charged with horse stealing. The warrant was sworn to by Frank Clark, a ranchman who lives near Culesac. He was arraigned this morning before the probate court and waived examination. Judge Reese fixed the bond at $1,000. He failed to give bail and is confined in the county jail. Roberts was caught by Mr. Clark, Thursday afternoon, at the Fidler ranch, six miles from Greer on Welpe prairie. Roberts was sentenced last January to a term in the penitentiary for assisting in the stealing of horses on Nezperce prairie, and pardoned in June, 1903.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

The many friends of Miss Aurelia Henry of the English department of the State Normal school are pleased to learn of her success in connection with some of her recent work at Yale. Shortly before coming west, Miss Henry submitted to the Houghton, Mifflin Co., of Boston, her translation of Dante's "De Monarchia." Having duly considered the educational merit of the work the company, has notified Miss Henry of its acceptance for publication. In accepting the work, the Houghton, Mifflin Co., "recognize the excellence of the translation, its accuracy and its scholarly character" and place it with the group of Dante writings which they publish. Coming as it does from one of the very conservative publishing houses of this country, the acceptance is a valuable recognition of the merit of the work. Miss Henry's friends in the west will be glad to know of her recent success.

E. H. Hutchinson of the Spokesman-Review arrived in the city on the delayed Spokane train. He will take in the fair in the interests of the Northwestern Homeseeker and Investor. Mr. Hutchinson states that about thirty Spokane people who had contemplated coming down on Sunday's train missed the train owing to the fact that no announcement was made in the Spokane papers of the change in the schedule. Sunday's train left an hour earlier than under the old time card.

President Geo. H. Black of the Lewiston Normal school will visit Moscow, Wednesday, where he will deliver an address to the students of the state university at the morning assembly.

Clay McNamee and family are in the city and will reside here. Mr. McNamee has been a practicing attorney at Grangeville for several years and will open offices in this city.

Frank R. Coffin of Boise is a visitor in the city today. Mr. Coffin is a pioneer of the early '60s in the Idaho mining camps. He walked into Lewiston from The Dalles behind his pack animals in March, 1862, en route to the Florence diggings. Lewiston was then a tent town of many thousands, mostly miners who had spent the previous season in Pierce and Orofino districts. His party remained here only a few days and pushed on toward Florence. They had to abandon their horses en route and pack in on foot over the snow. Mr. Coffin spent that season in Florence and went the next year into the Boise basin. Later he became a prosperous merchant in Boise and was Idaho's first state treasurer.

Mrs. H. I. McDonald of Trout Lake, B. C., is visiting with the family of Geo. A. Frost. Mrs. McDonald lived in Lewiston fifteen years ago and the improvements in the city were pleasant surprises to her.

Justice C. O. Stockslayer of the supreme court of this state who arrived in the city Saturday evening to attend the session of court this week is always a welcome visitor among his friends and acquaintances in Lewiston. The judge's home is in Hailey and he reports that recently while he and the family were away from home his residence and its entire contents were burned. The affair is believed to be of incendiary origin, though the judge is very charitable in believing the fire might have been accidental. He reports the value of his loss at about $3,000 besides many personal effects that can not be replaced with money. His many friends will sympathize with him in this unfortunate affair.

Henry Max of Grangeville was an arrival in the city on the Clearwater train this morning. Mr. Wax will remain throughout the week and is of the opinion that more than 250 of Grangeville residents will be down during the week to attend the big fair.
