OVERDOSE OF LAUDANUM

Ends the Life of J. R. Monier.

HAD NO MONEY NOR FRIENDS.

A man supposed to be J. R. Monier came to St. Anthony on Monday, May 4, and rented a room of Mrs. Bulmer in the William's building on Bridge street. There was nothing strange in the man's appearance except that physically he was in a very bad condition. On Friday of last week he entered Watson & Moore's drug store and asked for an ounce and a half of laudanum which was given him after he signed the poison record. He said he had some laudanum but wanted more to rub on for rheumatism. This was about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Dr. Palmer, who rooms in the lodging house, noticed that the man was in a very peculiar condition. The Doctor testified at the coroner's inquest that on Wednesday he entered the man's room and asked him if he could do anything for him, and upon receiving the answer "no," told him that he had better have the county physician. He again replied "no," saying that he had no money but was expecting some every mail. He requested the Dr. to call for his mail, stating that it would be registered. He stated voluntarily that he had a married daughter in Denver and another in Chicago. Again on Thursday Dr. Palmer insisted on calling a physician and he was again answered "no," and stated that he felt better than he had for a long time and that in a few days he could go to work.

"On Saturday morning," said the Dr., "I noticed him lying on the bed, arm over his face, apparently in a very deep slumber, and closed the door carefully and left the room. This was about 8:30 in the morning. No more attention was then paid to him until in the afternoon when the landlady and I walked into the room together and found him lying on his left side with his head thrown back. I touched his pulse, closed the door and went after Dr. Blevins. This was about a quarter of three." The Dr. stated that he knew nothing further of the case except that on Tuesday the stranger said I could have his fur overcoat to pay for his room and trouble.

Coroner Martin Harris of La Belle was summoned Saturday afternoon by telephone and arrived in the evening and held an inquest Sunday morning. The following were summoned on a jury: W. F. Jamison, W. W. Green, John W. Andrews, D. L. Blevins, C. H. Hopf and C. C. Bowerman, with H. G. Fuller as clerk. The following is the copy of the verdict:

We, the undersigned jurors, summoned to investigate the cause of death over a body supposed to be James Bowen, but believed by us to be J. R. Monier, find that his death was due to an overdose of laudanum, taken for the purpose of relieving pain.

Dynamited Church.

The Mosque at Kipruit, Vienna, has been dynamited and 200 moslems at prayer were buried underneath the ruins. A Macedonian named Popoff committed the outrage and afterwards committed suicide. In his possession was found a note saying, "I am one of the Macedonian Knights of Death who are pledged to commit suicide after executing the commands of the general committee."

Notice.

Do not turn your milch cows or other stock out in the morning until the herd boy comes for them, and save having them empounded. H. A. Buchenan, City Marshal.

Thanks.

The St. Anthony Fire Department desires to thank through the columns of the PEAK the proprietor of the St. Anthony opera house for his courtesy to the company in donating the use of the hall for their benefit ball on May 1st.

Institute K. of P. Lodge

Idaho Falls Knights Confer Degrees and Install Officers.

Last Saturday evening Snake River Lodge No. 41, Knights of Pythias, was formally instituted in St. Anthony at Masonic hall, Deputy Grand Chancellor A. T. Shane of the Falls, and his staff having the work in charge. The new lodge starts off with eighteen charter members consisting of the leading business men of the town.

The following members were elected and installed: A. J. Lewis, C. C.; Thos. R. Hamer, V. C.; Wood D. Parker, Prel.; Harry Gesas, M. of W.; Geo. Foulkman, K. of R. & S.; Chas. W. Watson, M. of F.; Caleb Jones, M. of E.; E. A. Strong, M. of A.; Max Marotz, I. G.; M. M. Harshbarger, O. G.

Marysville.

A freak of nature was brought into town last Saturday by Alma H. Hale, in the shape of a pig having two well developed bodies, eight legs, two tails and only one head. J. G. Wood took it to St. Anthony to be mounted, and it can be seen at Fred W. Rising's, the St. Anthony taxidermist.

Mrs. Harris returned Friday from Utah, where she has been visiting relatives for the past month.

Judge J. G. Wood united in marriage last Tuesday, Mr. Samuel Cherry and Miss Minnie Crandal and sent them off with his blessing and the good wishes of a host of friends. They were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson.

Mrs. Nellie Pife of Grant, returned home after a three week's visit with her aunt, Mrs. H. Wood.

Three of our local ninrods were out shooting squirrels last Sunday, but not being satisfied with that kind of shooting, they turned their attention to somewhat larger game, but not so swift. Abe Hillman had a 250 lb. pig running at large and one of the great sports took a shot at it with a 22 rifle and killed it. The hunters have to "dig up" or replace the pig's equal. It was worth $25. How soon will they be taking shots at someone's horse or cow? Such conduct should be severely punished and people's stock will be protected.

Restaurants and boarding houses are springing up at every corner and our town is putting on quite a business-like air. The large store of the Thompson Mercantile Co. will soon be ready for the stock. Lumber is being piled on the Kelley lot for a saloon, so we understand. The telephone line is an assured fact and the railway is in the air, or at least on paper. Who can say that this little town under the mountains is not becoming metropolitan?

Mr. Hans Munson and J. G. Wood are taking dry herd stock for the summer. They also expect to commence making cheese in town in the course of ten days, or as soon as the machinery can be placed in their building. Mr. Munson is an expert cheese maker of long experience, from Cache valley, and the people can rest assured of a good article. They will pay a good price for milk delivered at the creamery.

A few of our people here turned out to beautify the ground around the ward house Saturday. The building is being white washed and cleaned throughout, and seats will be furnished in the near future. The ground will be fenced and shade trees planted around, with a yard left for tying up teams. W. G. J.

Died.

CANNON—At Salt Lake City, May 9, 1903, Mrs. Alma F. Cannon, wife of Harry L. Cannon of Driggs, Fremont county, Idaho. The funeral services were held at the residence of A. P. Driggs, Forestdale; the remains were interred in the West Jordan cemetery at 5:30 o'clock on the 11th inst.

H. L. Cannon returned from Salt Lake City the first of the week, where he has been for several weeks on account of the serious illness of his wife, lately deceased. Mrs. Cannon has been in a Salt Lake hospital for several months under treatment of the best medical aid in Salt Lake, but their efforts were of no avail. Mr. Cannon's many friends throughout the county will deeply sympathize with him in this the saddest experience in a man's life—the loss of a kind and devoted wife.

Fortune Floating in Air for Someone

Balloon Worth $500 and Bearing World's Fair Pass, Belongs to Whoever May Find It.

Floating somewhere in the earth's atmosphere, free to wander wheresoever it may, is a balloon that is worth any man's time to capture.

The balloon itself is a silk structure, 50 feet in diameter, 30 feet long, made of heavy yellow silk and covered with a rope netting. This great airship is worth $500 on the market, and it belongs without any reservation whatever to the person who captures it.

And this is not all, for securely fastened to the bottom of the balloon, in a silk bag, oiled so as to keep out the moisture, is a document which gives to the captor of the airship a pass or season ticket to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, good for the entire season.

The balloon is one of several that ascended at St. Louis on Thursday night of the dedication period. Mr. Pain, who had charge of the pyrotechnics at the World's Fair dedication, had a number of captive balloons that were to figure in a spectacular aerial display, but several of them escaped and these balloons have been falling in different parts of the country. One was recovered by Oren Volentine of Sorento, Ill., and another by James C. Husey, of Worden, Ill.

But neither of these balloons is the prize-bearer. This particular balloon which was dispatched on its journey, destination unknown, was sent up by Aeronaut Carl Meyer, after dark Thursday, April 30. It's only cargo was a message, written on official World's Fair stationery, and signed officially by President David R. Francis, conveying the information that the finder of the balloon upon presentation of the letter, and a written statement regarding its finding, would be supplied with a pass to the World's Fair from May 1, 1904, to the close of the fair, Dec. 1, 1904.

The great balloon was filled with hydrogen gas, more than 22,000 cubic feet being used at a cost of about $200. This is sufficient to keep the balloon in the air from two to three weeks. It is at the mercy of every wind that blows, and may be found a thousand miles hence, or it may wander around and when the gas finally has leaked, fall close to where the ascension was made.

When the balloon arose it carried a huge light that burned possibly half an hour. It arose rapidly and was caught by a wind from the southeast. The breeze was strong and the light could be seen moving northeast through the sky. It arose and struck another

The Knocker.

When a forward move is made,
See him knock it.
When a progress game is played,
Tries to block it.
Cry o' "Onward" 'till 's him sick,
Calls from him a hefty kick,
'Cause he fears he will be a nick
Out o' pocket.
At industrious mankind
He's a mocker.
Asked to pull, you'll always find
He's a balker.
Nothin' in creation could
Set him sawing progress wood;
Nothin' in his eyes is good,
Damanockee.
When the final trump the last
Echoes waken
Are by Gabriel's ringing blast
Rudely shaken,
And the dead rise from the ground
In obedience to the sound,
You will see him goin' round
Belie-snikken.
—Stateline Oracle.

Protecting the Fish.

Warden Richards is causing the dams of the county to be equipped with the Montana fish ladder. This device is inexpensive and it enables the fish to easily get over any dam. Another new scheme for preventing fish going out in ditches, is the building of a paddle wheel at the head of the ditch. The wheel allows all trash to pass through, but fish rarely go by it. Mr. Richards intends to have every stream in the county, where ditches are taken out, to be equipped with either wheels or screen headgates. He has already had nearly all the dams fixed up with fish ladders. The rest will be attended to very soon. —Montpelier Examiner.

Jessie Morrison

Gets Twenty Years.

Topeka, Kan., May 9.—The supreme court today upheld the 20 year sentence imposed on Miss Jessie Morrison by the Butler county court, saying the murder was a butchery of such savage and vicious nature as was rarely equalled and never excelled in the criminal history of the civilized world. She had been tried three times on the charge of murdering Mrs. Clara Castle, a successful rival for the hand of Olin Castle, of Eldorado, Kansas. She slashed her victim to death a week after the wedding. The first jury disagreed, the second gave her five years and on appeal she got 20 years. Olin Castle married a Kansas girl in California a few weeks ago.

current and struck off due east, rising higher and soon disappeared.

The balloon will rise and fall with the temperature, until it finally descends. As it strikes the colder strata of air the gas will condense and the airship will fall. When it strikes the warm atmosphere near the earth it will expand and the balloon will again rise. This it will repeat many times. Then the balloon may be seen in scores of places before it comes near enough to earth to be made captive.
