

THE ONLY ONE TO BLAME.

Elsewhere in to-day's TIMES will be found a card from Sheriff Gray, in which he corrects some mistakes that crept into the article concerning the way in which Mr. Cranston was maltreated by Deputy District Attorney Ruick and others of the Bellevue party...

Since the receipt of the card, Mr. Cranston has also called at this office, and requested corrections almost identical with those made by Sheriff Gray. He says that the warrant was served upon him by Deputy Sheriff Wilhoit, who brought him to Bellevue. That officer having been out two days and one night, he naturally needed rest; so when Bellevue was reached Cranston was put in charge of Mr. Little, the night watchman of Bellevue.

Mr. Wilhoit's name having been mentioned in connection with the arrest, at Muldoon, it is only fair to state that, since the warrant was regular on its face, that gentleman had no choice but to make the arrest. No discretion is allowed by law, in such matters, to any officer whose duty it is to make arrests.

The Sheriff's deputies are therefore free of blame in this matter. Such is not the case with Mr. Ruick, however. As Deputy District Attorney, as the highest representative of the people within reach, he was the natural, legal counselor of the officers who had Mr. Cranston in charge. He is therefore responsible for what has occurred in his office.

Brother Clay, of the Bellevue News, was up here yesterday afternoon, and being shown the place where the terminal depot was likely to be, muttered: "Mebbe that rell-rod'll kum, after all!" Later in the evening, being asked what he thought of the county seat business, he said: "Well, I never giv it up till now."

A new strike is reported from Bullion. It was made in Mayflower ground, in an old abandoned shaft, within 150 feet of the Bullion mine. Work was discontinued in the shaft last summer, there being no ore in sight. A couple of men resumed sinking recently, and had only gone a few feet when they cut into a well-defined ore vein.

The other strike reported is in the Jenney mine, which is situated about half-way between the French Boys' group, on the Bullion and Deer creek divide, and the Weltone mine, on Deer creek. This strike was made yesterday morning. The ore is a fine gray carbonate. The extent and value of the ore body is unknown, but it is believed to be very great.

350 BANNACK INDIANS, On the Way to Dig Camas Within a Few Miles of Hailey.

Joseph G. Garrison, the well-known Indian scout who traveled through this section years ago, when the fierce Bannacks held full sway and probably camped on the very spot where Hailey now stands, came in this morning from Deer Creek, where he was working a prospect which he owns. He had a bundle of blankets tied behind his saddle, and at the ends of this bundle a piece of buckskin covered with feathers, beads and fringe could be seen. It was Mr. Garrison's scouting suit.

He said that he had been sent for by some of the settlers on Lost River, to intercept a band of about 200 Indians, composed of bucks and squaws in about equal parts, who are on their way to Camas Prairie, at a point about 15 miles west of Hailey, to dig camas root. These Indians hail from the Lemhi Reservation, and all have passes; but as they belong to the famous Bannack tribe that devastated southern Idaho three or four years ago, it is feared that, if they go through to Camas Prairie unaccompanied by white men, the cowboys will make trouble. Mr. Garrison has therefore been sent for by some settlers and two former scouts who, like himself, have some regard for the Indians now that they are peaceable.

Back of the band now on Lost River there is another band of 180 Indians heading this way—so that there are altogether about 350 Indians who want to get some of the favorite root for which they "fought, bled and died" about three years ago. As the white people have no use for the root, it is not likely that they will drive the Indians off or molest them.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Strahorn, who have been in town for the past two weeks, will leave to-morrow morning for Denver, Colorado, where they will remain for about four or five weeks—after which they will probably return here to take a look at us and our mines, and note progress. Although to-morrow will be a day upon which superstitious people hold that is unlucky to start on a voyage, they do not propose delaying their departure on that account. In fact, so many trips of theirs, begun on Friday, have proved so enjoyable that they have almost got to look upon the day as a lucky one.

THE DEPUTY SHERIFFS. They are Not Implicated in the Cranston-Ruick Business.

EDITOR TIMES: In your paper of this evening there occurred a few mistakes, which I wish to point out: 1st. The warrant was regular on its face. And my deputy, Joe Wilhoit, had no choice but to make the arrest. It was Mr. Wilhoit instead of Hi. Hunter, who made the arrest.

2d. Mr. Cranston testified on the stand that Mr. Hunter had not given him any whisky. 3d. Cranston got to Bellevue about 1 o'clock at night. The justice's office was therefore closed, and he was held until the following morning, when he was taken to the justice's office, but had no hearing.

My deputy went to Muldoon for the purpose of serving a subpoena of the District Court upon Cranston, and Deputy District Attorney Ruick, then at Muldoon, there placed the warrant of arrest in his hands for service.

I write as above merely for the purpose of clearing my deputies of any imputation of wrong-doing in this matter. D. H. Gray, Sheriff. Hailey, Idaho, June 28, 1882.
