There was a free fight on River street, last night, and a couple of soiled doves are going around, to-day, with "Mansard roofs" on as a consequence. No arrests.

The case of A. J. Jackson vs. B. M. Mallory, being a contest over the entry of the section of land adjoining Hailey on the north, is on trial in the United States Land Office in this city, before the Register and Receiver.

While working in the tunnel at the Jumbo mine, yesterday morning, Captain Gunn was struck in the right eye by a piece of rock that came near knocking his eye out. He will be compelled to wear a bandage for a few days.

The public school teachers of Bellevue and Hailey intend to organize a Teachers' Institute, to meet the first Saturday of every month, at places to be designated at each meeting. All the teachers in Alturas county will be invited to attend.

Miss Burke, assistant principal of the Hailey public school, returned from Salt Lake City, day before yesterday. Miss Van Hoesen, teacher of the Intermediate Department, and Miss Capwell, of the Primary Department, will arrive to-morrow.

By having your clothes made here you can pick out the goods, try them on, thus guaranteeing a perfect fit; and you help to prosper the community by keeping money here. So, just order your fall suit from Lund & Anderson, and get good goods, well made, and cheap.

Last night was so cool in the valley that ice must have formed in the mountains, and the vegetables growing in the foothill gardens must have been slightly "touched." The present cold wave will, however, probably be succeeded by more comfortable weather that will permit all growing crops to ripen.

Mrs. Winnie S. Holliday, widow of R. T. Holliday, deceased, has petitioned the Probate Court to set aside, for her's and her minor son's benefit, the entire estate of her deceased husband. The hearing on the petition has been set for September 10, 1887, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans, who have been stopping at the Camas No. 2 mine (in which Mr. Evans is interested) for a few days, came in yesterday. They will reside with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Venable, in the Furey dwelling, on the corner of Third avenue and Crox street, which they have rented until April 10, next.

The non-arrival of Captain Guyer is beginning to give grounds for alarm. He was to have left Chile, in South America, in time to have reached here by the end of June or beginning of July. As he has not arrived, and nothing has been heard of him for some weeks, it is supposed that he is quarantined somewhere.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS.

Lund & Anderson in the Field With A Large and Varied Stock.

Lund & Anderson, the merchant tailors of Hailey, have already received a large stock of Fall and Winter goods of the latest patterns, and have over $2000 worth additional on the way from San Francisco, Chicago, and New York, samples of which can be seen in their establishment in Krieg's block, on Main street.

As many are now thinking of ordering their Fall and Winter suitings, they are invited to call and examine their stock before buying elsewhere. Prices range from $35 upward a suit, and the goods are much superior in quality and make than any that can be ordered from the outside.

A FLORIDA BOOMER.

What He is Credited with Saying of the State.

The following alleged interview with a recently returned Florida immigrant is published in a Nevada paper. It "fits" lower California just as well:

Just sit down, my son, till I tell you a few things about Florida. The first thing you strike is the sand flea. They call it the sand flea, but it runs everywhere, especially in the grass. It is a small white insect, and as you walk through the grass the little animals to the number of about a million crawl up your trouser leg and begin to operate. Why, I've seen high-toned society women squat right down in the presence of a crowd and rub their bare calves with a corncob to scratch off those fleas.

Cockroaches? I should smile! They crawl right into bed with you, and in the morning they are all about the stove on their hind legs waiting for you to build the fire. If you have meat for dinner, they climb on the table and eat without an invitation. Mosquitoes, did you say? They are big enough to be governed by a game law, and can lick a chicken in a fair fight. The first time one came buzzing about my bed I thought it was a drunken man muttering to himself.

Snakes? Yes, snakes! They reach down from a tree, snatch a child from your side, and whisk it up into the branches before you can tell your name. Bedbugs? Now you come to the real business. They weren't known for awhile, because the early geologists got 'em mixed up with mud turtles. They eat holes through a house and then the whole gang come in.

Around Again.

Mr. E. J. Stoltz, the practical cutter, is in Hailey, and is at the Alturas. He has a fine line of samples of cloths for suits to order, also a full line of gents' furnishing goods. Call on him at once, and leave your measure for your fall and winter suits. Perfect fit guaranteed. He will visit Bullion and Bellevue shortly.

$500 REWARD for a remedy that will cure as bad a case of Piles as Dr. Williams Indian Pile Ointment.

A PROBABLE FATALITY.

Herman Schaub Found Nearly Dead at His Cabin Door.

Herman Schaub, foreman of the Climax and Commodore mines, in Crox gulch, was found lying on his face, near his cabin, by Jesse Huddleston, about 6 o'clock last Monday evening. He was removed to the Miners' Hospital, where the physicians pronounced him to be suffering from cerebral apoplexy, or, the rupture of a blood vessel in the head. The last seen of him was Sunday, about 9 o'clock, when he left with a friend who accompanied him as far as the forks of the road. It is supposed that he over-exerted himself in walking up the hill to his cabin, and that as he reached it he fell to the ground, where he remained from 10 o'clock Sunday night until found, 20 hours later.

Unconscious when found, he is still in the same condition, and the physicians are of the opinion that he will die.

Silver Production.

The Mining and Scientific Press says: Our silver mines at the present time are producing about $48,000,000 a year. Under the workings of the Bland bill $24,000,000 are coined into silver dollars; $9,000,000 go into the arts, and England gets $15,000,000 at 80 cents on the dollar—her own price—and this she sends to India and exchanges at 100 cents on the dollar for wheat, and for whatever other products she requires from that kingdom of her own. Here is a clear profit of 20 cents on every dollar taken from the silver producers of America and put into the pockets of English bankers and merchants.

A Slander on the Ladies.

The Brooklyn Eagle says a very angry woman always stutters. If we had a babe that didn't know any more than to say that, it would be severely corrected. The angrier a woman is the more voluble she is, the clearer her enunciation, and the better her elocution. Granted that she uses horrible grammar and frequently contradicts herself, but the flow of her language is as unobstructed and as rapid as if there weren't a dam in the world outside of the exasperation of her suffering husband.

Sure of the One in Front, at Least. A certain New York gentleman while traveling in the East met a Dervish carrying a couple of baskets slung over his shoulders—one dangling in front and one behind. In each basket was a charming young woman.

"What is all this about?" asked the New Yorker. "My daughters." "Been doing this sort of thing long?" "Eighteen years; ever since they were babies." "You ought to be pretty certain of their virtue," ventured the New Yorker.

"Well," said the Dervish, scratching his head in a meditative sort of way, "I'm dead sure of the one in front."

The Heated East.

Comstockers who have been East this summer complain terribly of the heat—heat both by day and by night. Letters from such as are still in the Atlantic States are all to the same effect. In addition the ladies complain of the moisture of the Eastern atmosphere; it takes the curl out of their hair and the crimp out of their bangs. Much as they are troubled on account of the heat, however, we do not believe they have adopted the fashion of Miss Fanny Davenport, who, it strikes us, dresses rather too scantily, hot as it has been. In a recent letter to a friend she says: "My hair combed back from my brow, a large straw hat, a colored apron—this completes my costume."—Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise.

Fall and Winter Dress Patterns. Friedman has just received a quantity of choice Fall and Winter Dress Patterns.

An End to Bone Scraping. Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years. My doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a box, and bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents a box, by J. A. Rupert.
