LOCAL AND OTHERWISE

Orders for candidates cards will receive prompt attention. Regular meeting of McPherson W. R. C. No. 6, this evening. Special business. We have just received a consignment of the latest styles in cards. Candidates please take notice. Deputy Sheriff Stewart, Lou Ramey and Arthur Ludwig attended the races at Baker on Sunday. F. W. Nienan and wife visited Ulysses during the week. The took a load of fine fruit to the camp. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will serve dinner on election day. Full particulars later on. Mrs. Colter went to Midway Wednesday where she will have charge of the hotel this winter. Miss Kate Delaney will assist her. Special Sunday dinner at the Shenon house beginning at 12 as usual. Supper on Sunday will begin at 5:30 instead of 6 o'clock. Ladies don't overlook our jackets, children's, misses and ladies. All new and up to date. G. H. Monk & Co. Mrs. Mingle, proprietor of the Hotel Lemhi Cafe will serve a fine Sunday dinner commencing at 5:30. Wine, young turkey and all the delicacies of the season. Jesse W. Crossley, a polygamist of Wyoming, has withdrawn from the republican ticket for presidential elector. Still the republicans would have the people believe that polygamy is a thing of the past. Edward J. Turner, of Soda Springs has been here for the past two weeks visiting his sisters Mrs. Sarah Brown and Mrs. Morgan. He left Tuesday for his home taking Mrs. Brown with him, to spend the winter. E. S. Mahoney was in town yesterday from his ranch on Middle Fork. He says Thunder Mountain district

Mrs. Matt Davis was in town Friday and attended the Eastern Star reception. M. Hewitson and son George have gone to Idaho City, Boise county, from Custer. George Sandilands left yesterday for Gilmore where he will go to work for the company. Mr. Gooding did not say a word about the best sugar bounty for the benefit of the Mormon church. Mr. Gooding did not mention the 8-hour issue. The republicans are in a hopeless tangle on the labor question. The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. Kadletz Thursday, afternoon, Oct. 20, promptly at 2:30 o'clock. A carriage load of young ladies and gentlemen from Carmen attended Presbyterian church services last Sunday evening. A new cook has been engaged at the Shenon house, and hereafter the best meals to be had in town will be served at that popular hotel. Messrs. Doddridge and Boss, railroad promoters are again visiting our town, but so far nothing has been given out for publication. Wanted—At the Lemhi Cafe 10 tons of potatoes, also onions, beets, cabbage and other vegetables for winter. See Mrs. M. Mingle. Judge Padgham left for Redrock Sunday to meet his wife. He has fitted up the HockenSmith house in Brooklyn and will go to housekeeping. Allen Merritt returned yesterday from Leesburg where he has been for the last week surveying the mining property of Messrs. Rowe and O'Neil for a patent. Mr. Gooding did not say a word about the timber syndicate merger with the republicans, which is to secure the exemption of $1,000,000 worth of timber from taxation. Senator Heyburn zenas his makers. He says there is no such thing as Mormon influence in Idaho politics. He was made senator by the Mormons and for the Mormons. County Commissioners are in session this week, but expect to adjourn today. This is the last regular meeting of this board, and the tax payers will breathe easier now that it is over. Court adjourned Friday evening and Judge Stevens and Stenographer Deitrich left Saturday. The Judge convened court at Paris on Monday for Judge Budge, who has gone to the World's Fair. The republicans of this county are trying to keep all public discussions of county, state and national issues away from the voters. The fact is, the issues will not stand the light of intelligent investigation. The Lemhi county cattlemen have already contributed $100,000 to the beef trust. This trust now asks the cattlemen to vote for Roosevelt because the president lent his moral support to the trust during the late strike. It has developed since the Smoot investigation that the Mormon manifesto and their public promises to obey the laws against polygamy, were made to deceive the public. It has been discovered that the same immoral practices are continued without the formal marriage ceremony. Dr. Kenney brought to this office four beautiful apples of the Wolf River variety, which are the largest and finest we have seen this year. Two of them weigh 20 ounces and measure 1 1/2 inches in circumference and the other two tip the scales at 17 ounces. They were raised on his place in Brooklyn. He sent them east, two of them to R. W. McIride, of the Idaho mineral exhibit, with the request that he place them among the Idaho fruit, and the other two went to his brothers in Minnesota. Hon. B. F. Clay, democratic candidate for Congress, arrived on Monday's coach from Redrock, and left Tuesday for Challis where he was billed to speak in the evening. Mr. Clay is a thorough Kentucky gentleman, a descendant of Henry Clay. He has a fine stage presence, a beautifully modulated voice, and his language betokened culture and refinement, and his remarks were well received. He was introduced by Thos. J. Atkins, chairman of the democratic Central Committee in a neat and biting speech. The music by a double quartette was a pleasant feature of the evening. Many people remained and were introduced to the distinguished speaker. Mr. Gooding's figures which he used to prove that there was no Mormon interference in state politics two years ago, were false. The Mormon order came in 1900 when the democratic Mormons were ordered to vote against the democratic state ticket. In 1898 the democratic majority in Frenout county, which is a fair example, was 1,175 for governor. In 1900, after the order came from Salt Lake, the republicans had a majority of 53 for governor. Here is positive evidence of a transfer of all the Mormons from one party to the other at a time when there was no local or national issue to induce such results. Mr.

Fifty Years the Standard PRICES BAKING POWDER Made from pure cream of tartar derived from grapes. PRIDE BAKING POWDER CO. CHICAGO.

Candidates cards printed at this office with neatness and despatch. The republicans formally opened the state campaign at Boise Monday night with Senator Heyburn as chief orator to sound the key note. A certain political fire-eater of the last campaign in this county has grown so mild that all present conditions suggest a sheepskin wig for him. Senator Cannon's sharp and incisive retort on Secretary Taft's speech about President Roosevelt's conservatism is going the rounds of the press. He said: "It was uttered purely for publication and not as a guarantee of good faith."

Gooding said, in his speech that he would gladly die to save Idaho from the Mormons. The democrats would not demand this sacrifice. Such a fate would leave an awful lot of orphan sheep. The republicans of Lemhi are afraid of state and county issues this year. The wind mill is silent as the Mormon temple that holds the records of plural marriages. Gooding may lubricate the wind mill with mutton tallow, so that it may grind on protection for trusts and bounties on Jap-grown beets.

Hon. W. C. Whitwell and H. G. Redwine will address the voters of Lemhi county in Anderson's Opera house, Tuesday evening, Oct. 18. The arguments made by Mr. Gooding and Col. Miller will be replied to in a fair manner. Everybody invited, republicans especially. Fine music and dancing at close of speaking.

The hemming contest by the Eastern Star Chapter was a very spirited affair. After due deliberation the judges awarded the first prize, a couple of boxes of fine candy, to Mrs. Elizabeth Yearlan, while Mrs. Ada Merritt carried off the booty. A delicious supper was served and the evening pleasantly spent with music, dancing and games. Joe Porterfield, the poet and mine owner of Wilson creek, left for his home yesterday, where he will devote the winter in developing his mine and composing another verse to the following rhythm, which he has been humming about town for the past week: Hoboes and muckers, Dagoes Swedes and suckers, Finlanders and Turks, Cousin Jacks, pintos and shirts, Burros, cayuses alfalfa and Jacks and all the old backs; Will Shoup and saltpetre has caused me to leave in short metre.

Marshall Cozier, who was deputy clerk of the United States court at Moscow, was relieved because of the discovery of a shortage in his accounts, he having misappropriated money paid in connection with land proofs. The amount has not been made public but it is understood to have been some $600. Cozier accepted a nomination from the democratic county convention for probate judge, but resigned when his offense became known. His trouble was the old one of drink. The lodge of Elks to which he belonged has sent him to a cure establishment in the hope that he can be straightened out.—Statesman.

F. R. Gooding, republican candidate for governor, arrived Tuesday and will remain till tomorrow. He is accompanied by Col. Allen Miller, the Scotch-Irish "speller" who is considerable of a comedian. The opera house was filled with a good natured crowd, of representative citizens who greeted the speaker enthusiastically. The meeting was called to order by M. M. McPherson, the newly elected chairman of the republican county committee, who introduced the speakers, Mr. Gooding being the first. His personal appearance is not prepossessing. His set speech was very well done for a man of his limited education. His pronunciation, "wim-ling" for women, "ruing" for ruin, "quesshun" for question, and "Hanner" for Hanna, proved that his early education had been sadly neglected and if he was a self-made man, as has been claimed, that he had made a poor job. His speech was one of clever evasion had misrepresentations. Col. Miller was introduced merely as a foil to the dullness of his predecessor, and was most amusing. His illiberal countenance and

The Record on Labor. [Communicated.] It is an easy matter for unscrupulous politicians to declare that they are the friends of labor. It is likewise easy for a party to claim that it is also the only true friend of the laboring man. When this is done at the beat of the drum with loud professions, it is hard to distinguish the difference between the real and the false friend, but when the test comes it is an easy matter. So far as the politics of Idaho is concerned, it is only necessary to refer to the record of the two parties upon labor questions to satisfy any right-thinking man. When the democratic party came into power, there was no law upon the statute books concerning arbitration. The democratic party placed a compulsory arbitration law upon the books, and this law is not only in the interests of labor but of the entire citizenry of the state. It was Lincoln who said that in a contest between man and the dollar, man should be placed upon the top. The democratic party favored compulsory arbitration that strikes might be done away with; that justice might be carried out between capital and labor, and that one should not be at the mercy of the other. It was a democratic state administration which proposed a constitutional amendment providing for the passage of a law for an 8-hour work day for underground miners, and those engaged in ore reduction works. That the democratic party was right in doing this, was conclusively proven when the amendment was adopted by the voters of the state by the tremendous majority of more than 20,000. Before being able to enact an 8-hour law, in accordance with the solemn decree of the people, a republican administration was placed in power in the state. The democrats of the last legislature made an earnest effort to enact an 8-hour law and were a unit for it, while the republican party was almost a unit against it, one of the prominent members of that party announcing in opposition to it that "to shorten the hours of labor means to lengthen the hours of dissipation." This member, Mr. Owen, has been re-nominated by the republican party for the same office of representative. It was claimed by some republicans who were induced to believe so by false statements, that the last legislature did not represent the sentiment of the party upon the question. The republican party in state convention absolutely ignores the question of an 8-hour day. The democratic state platform speaks plainly and squarely in favor of an 8-hour day. The Lemhi republican platform makes no promises. The Lemhi democratic platform speaks in no uncertain terms in its favor. Another fact which indicates strongly which is the true friend of labor, is that in passing the sugar bounty law the democrats made an effort to have incorporated a provision that if the corporation used Japanese or Chinese labor it would not be allowed the bounty. The republicans of the legislature were a unit in opposition to such a provision. This is the record of the parties. How will you vote? The political "Jack Pot" must be "sweetened" by Lemhi county to the amount of $10,000 in sugar bounties but under the rules of the game Lemhi can never hold a winning hand.
