MINING BOOM MAY BE COMING THIS WAY

There is every indication of great mining activity in the dozen or more mining districts in Lemhi county within the coming year. This is the view of conservative mining men who are watching the situation.

The Silver Dollar mine at Gilmore is now under lease to a gentleman named Mullin, who recently struck gold there running two thousand dollars to the ton. His lease has only nine months still to run but Mullin has turned down an offer of $25,000 for his holding.

Another mine at Gilmore of the Pittsburg and Idaho group reports another strike of rich lead-silver ore. At Spring Mountain an E. Baby Joe of Leadville Mining company rich silver and lead is also reported in recent strikes. At the Month gold going two hundred dollars to the ton has been uncovered.

There are numerous other activities reported.

UNITE GOOD ROADS AND PREPAREDNESS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Lane has made a formal statement on his attitude toward military legislation as follows:

"I am opposed to the creation of a large standing army, which, in addition to being a burden on the people, I fear will later be used to override the liberties and rights of the citizens of this country.

"I will favor an endeavor to secure an amendment to the bill to enlist from 50,000 to 1,000,000 men (now idle) for periods of from six to nine months, pay them ruling wages and employ them in building highways across and throughout the country, at the same time training them in rudimentary military tactics say two days each week. By pursuing this course we could turn back into private life about 1,000,000 healthy young men each year who would not be ruined by life in barracks and we would secure the roads which are badly needed.

"One man in a trench armed with a machine gun can defeat 100 men marching in dress parade order against him, and the old order of 'hay-foot-straw-foot' style of military drilling has gone never to return.

"In regard to the navy I would say that so many millions of dollars have been frittered away and lost by paying extortionate overcharges for an inferior quality of armor plate for battleships, and for munitions of war to private contractors that I am not in favor of throwing away another dollar in that way. We have expended hundreds of millions for preparedness and have been left defenseless.

"I would be in favor of a bill providing for government owned and operated plants for the manufacture of all such vessels and armor plate, powder, mines, aeroplanes and other means of defense such as we need to safeguard this country from invasion."

Hon. J. T. Pence, chairman of the democratic state central committee, has issued a call for the committee to meet in Boise on March 6.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnson returned from Leadore Wednesday night after a two weeks visit. They brought home with them some pictures of snow scenes taken while there and beyond.

J. W. Mahoney of Armstead, who is heavily interested in the Banrock mining district in Montana, also in the Big 8-Mile district of Lemhi county, left Salmon Thursday, intending to return within ten days.

Rev. Father O'Neill is announced to begin this Friday evening a mission at the Salmon Catholic church, to continue a week or so. Father O'Neill is an eloquent divine and his mission here will afford a rare opportunity to hear him.

Dan Young is advertising a large sale of his farming stock and implements. His ranch, which he recently sold to J. E. Crook and where the sale will take place February 29, is located 4 miles east of Salmon. Mr. Young is to remove to Oregon. Another large sale of stock, to take place March 7, will include a herd of dairy cattle recently bought in Montana and brought here by A. W. Pipes.

SOME OF THE GREAT THINGS FOR WHICH IDAHO IS NOTED

Idaho Falls, the greatest originating point for freight shipments of agricultural products in the United States.

American Falls holds the record as the second greatest shipping point for wheat in the United States.

Twin Falls is the greatest producer and shipper of all kinds of seed in the United States.

St. Anthony is the greatest producer and shipper of seed peas of any section in the world.

The Arrowrock dam is the highest in the world, and will furnish water to reclaim and irrigate over a quarter of a million acres of land.

Idaho has the greatest irrigation projects in the world, and the greatest amount of land cultivated under that system of agriculture.

Idaho has the greatest bodies of land which can be farmed without irrigation, or "dry farmed," and which produces high-grade wheat that yields from 20 to 30 bushels to the acre.

Idaho has the largest lumber mill in the world.

The great sugar factories of Idaho are among the world's record for the production of red clover seed, 15% bushels to the acre.

Idaho has the greatest water power development and water power resources of any section of the world.

Idaho ranks third among the states of the union as a producer of wool.

Idaho ranks first as a producer of lead in the United States, the output having increased over 50 per cent in the past year on all mineral products, with a total production of $37,780,000.

The United States land office at Blackfoot, Idaho, did more business during the year 1915 than any land office in the United States, giving homesteaders title to more than 600,000 acres of land.

BRAIN POWER IN THE SEXES

One Authority Declares That Woman is the Equal of Man in Respect of Ability.

Doctors have been discussing the comparative brilliancy of woman's brain as compared with man's.

Doctor Baruch of Columbia, says that woman's gray matter does not compare in brilliant manifestations with that of man. Now to their rescue has come Doctor Dorland of Chicago, who maintains that woman has every whit as much brain as man and quite as much brilliancy, proving his contention by the names of 400 women.

He further says that woman has only really emerged from the background during the last seventy-five years, not long enough for her to achieve those heights reached by unfettered man. Her finer sensibilities, her quick intuition have been a powerful incentive in the building up of civilization. What matter if she is inconsistent, illogical, physically frail? These qualities do not discount the fact that all the same she may possess deep penetration and a keen mind.

Who denies mentality to man even though he is known to possess boastfulness, conceit and pride, which qualities he is pleased to call foibles?

Among the four hundred women cited as proving the contention of woman's brilliancy equaling man's, are Queen Elizabeth, Catherine of Russia, Mme. Curie, Rosa Bonheur, Ellen Terry, Frances Willard, George Sand, Julia Ward Howe, and Florence Nightingale.

Comrades Offered Sympathy.

A French soldier allowed to visit Paris for a few days in order to see his three motherless children has been base enough to marry a widow with three children of her own and so to place himself beyond the reach of the military law, which excuses from service all fathers of six or more. And now his comrades at the front have sent him a letter of commiseration, assuring him that should he at any time feel the need of repose he may remember that the trenches are always open to him and that the comparatively peaceful tranquillity of the firing line are always at his service.

Movies Replace Throne.

The spirits of China's dead emperors must shiver as they pass over the Forbidden City between the hours of eight and midnight in the evening. An extensive section of the "city" has been opened as a public park, in the center of which stands an imperial pavilion which has been given over to a modern moving picture show. Any coolie who will pay the price of admission, a few cents, may sit beneath the eaves of the pavilion which in recent years contained a throne. The decorations of the great, heavy-roofed buildings are continued in the style of the late dynasty, dragons forming a conspicuous part.

Still Whales in the Ocean.

The catch of 400 whales on the Pacific coast off Washington, more than ever before taken in that section in a single season, is the report from a whaling station in the Northwest. This news comes only shortly after the announcement that New Bedford has permanently given up the industry and turned her famous old vessels to other uses. There are evidently still whales in the seas, sperm whales, too, for the report says that "the proportion of these taken was large." Whaling, like most other industries, is apparently susceptible to improvement through modern methods.

How He Lost His Fish.

An Easterner was spending his first summer in Montana, says the Washington Star, where he had a good opportunity to indulge in his favorite sport of trout fishing. One afternoon he had been unusually successful, but just as he was setting out for camp with a heavy string of fish he caught sight of a great pine that had blown down, and was lying with its top in the water—just the place for hooking a monster trout.

Pushing along the fallen pine, he climbed upon it by dint of hard scrambling, holding on as best he could with his rod in one hand and his string of fish in the other. The tree was close to the bank and the stream was running bank full. He was in the midst of the branches, crowding onward, when suddenly an immense bear rose up close beside him.

There was no hesitation. To run was impossible. On the impulse of the moment the man dashed his string of trout full in the bear's face. In doing so he lost his balance, and the next instant there was a tremendous splash, and he disappeared in the rushing water.

The fisherman emerged some distance farther down the stream, and scrambling to the bank, looked back. There on the pine sat the bear, intently watching the hole where he had disappeared. He did not go back to inform her that he was not there, but made for camp at good speed.—Youth's Companion.

The Chief One.

"When the war is over there will be some foul changes in the scene of war."

"Yes, and I guess each of the main powers is hoping to bring one about by turning into a Turkey gobbler."

The postponed farmers' institute for salmon will come off next Tuesday and Wednesday. The lecturers were storm-bound down in southern Idaho to prevent them from getting here this week.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Chairman C. A. Norton of the local organization having in hand the farmers' movable institute for Lemhi county, received a wire Wednesday morning from the director stating that because of train delays the Salmon institute would be postponed till next week, Tuesday and Wednesday, afternoons and evenings. On the same dates the meetings also for Lemhi and Tendency will be held. There will be four lecturers.

The postponed dates as first given out were Monday and Tuesday and so they are published but Mr. Norton wishes to have it known that while the lecturers will arrive here on Monday's train they will not hold sessions till the following day. Everybody should arrange to hear them.

R. D. Edwards says that his father, E. S. Edwards, is doing fine at Rochester, Minn., where he went for treatment, and he expects his parents back to Salmon about the first of March.

George Anderson is down from the Queen of the Hills, expecting to meet Frank Bennett who is returning from New Mexico about March 7.

TERRIBLE THINGS TO FOLLOW WAR IS THIS PREDICTION

To the Editor:

Sherman said, "War is hell." He was mistaken. War is worse than hell. Hell is the place where, after the judgment day, the wicked are to be punished according to what they deserve. But in war the innocent are punished, and the instigators of the bloody carnage go unpunished. War will never cease as long as men are unregenerate, and the nations glorify war by putting the laurel wreath on the brows of those who sent shot and shell crashing through the bodies of men.

Men are horrified at the disregard of international law and treaty obligations by the belligerent powers engaged in the present war. But the necessities of war recognize no law, either human or divine, as too sacred to break. It is utter folly for men to think that men frenzied by the spirit and exigencies of war will respect law, justice, or humanity. War is entirely outside of God's purpose, and is not amenable to any law or obligation.

Terrible as is the present war in its destruction of human life and its disregard of the restraints of law and justice, yet this war is as nothing in comparison to the significant and terrible things that will immediately follow the present conflict. New and startling developments will come quickly. Men everywhere will be ready to condemn the old regime as a total failure, and unfit to rule humanity. Remedies of all kinds will be suggested to avert future wars, and to usher in a reign of universal and lasting peace. All kinds of extensive religious combinations will be effected in order to guide the ship of state safely over the turbulent political seas. Attempts will be made to have the voice of the church dictate legislation, and have the civil officers submit to the decrees of the church, and regard its pronouncements as an equivalent to a "Thus saith the Lord."

They will demand righteousness by law, God and Christianity legally recognized in the fundamental law of the land, a standard of religion set up for all men by the state, and Sunday laws universally enforced, irrespective of individual faith or conscience in the matter. All these things will follow in quick succession as proposed remedies, and the authority of the church will be exalted above the state.

History repeats itself with unflinching accuracy. When the Roman government went to pieces after the days of Constantine, the church took advantage of the situation and placed herself in the forefront, making the civil officers subservient to her decrees. Her reign, which was at first welcomed, proved to be the base the wreck and ruin of civilization for centuries. No greater calamity could befall our republic than for it to repudiate its Constitutional guarantees of individual freedom in religious matters, and its strict adherence to purely civil functions. Unless our rulers maintain an uncompromising loyalty to fundamental principles upon which our government was founded a worse catastrophe will befall our nation at the conclusion of the present war than that which the war itself will bring to the nations of Europe. The losses of war are forgotten in a few days, but the subjection of the civil power to the spiritual powers will inaugurate a train of evils which two millenniums could not efface. Omens of the coming storm and upheaval are clearly visible in the religious, political and social worlds.

Very sincerely yours,
J. E. CROOK,
of Seventh-day Adventist church.
