Mrs. O. P. Zortman was up from Gibbenville this week.

James Stevens of Idaho Falls, came in on Wednesday's train.

There is basket ball tonight and the county oratorical contest Saturday night at the high school.

If you like the Recorder show a copy to your friend and he will like it too. And then he'll subscribe.

E. G. Stroud is in town today from his ranch home. He is the father of Sheriff Stroud.

Postmaster Roy B. Herndon, E. Benedict, and Maurice Cotton drove to Leadore in a machine on Thursday.

Manager Frazier is planning to reopen the New Bungalow movies.

Shirley Johnson made a trip to Leadore in his speeder on Tuesday.

Former Sheriff Matt Stewart and Jim Barker are in Salmon today from Baker.

Pittsburg and Gilmore trains have made regular runs this week without delay. All roads in the intermountain country have been handicapped for a month by the heavy snows.

Rev. E. N. Quist, the Presbyterian minister of Salmon who resigned his charge here some time ago, has been called to a pastorate at Hanford, Washington. He will leave for that place about April 1.

Donald Martin was up from Boyle Creek Tuesday and Wednesday for the services of a doctor in Salmon. The visitor accidentally let a window fall on his wrist causing a bad injury which involved the arm to the wrist.

The Recorder is made up of eight pages today and every column carries interesting advertising and reading matter for the people of Lemhi county.

If you like the paper show it to your neighbor and thus extend the circulation for the benefit of the county.

The work of repairing and reconstructing a road across the valley from Tendency, undertaken at their own expense by the residents of the neighborhood, is proceeding satisfactorily. Later in the year the county commissioners will build a necessary bridge to make the road of the most use.

All-day blaws even in the shade set in Tuesday and have continued through the week. The roads are drying out nicely. The time is not remembered when the severity of winter gave way more gradually. Pretty much all the snow is settling into the soil as it melts.

In a drive by the people of Flathead county the other day, covering several square miles of the game region they killed 100 coyotes, 7 wolves, 2 mountain lions, some skunks and a lot of other varmints that could not be counted after they ran afoul of the skunks.

Miss Faye Stewart comes from Boise today to take the stenographers place with the county recorder, succeeding Miss Dixon, who resigned some time ago. Miss Stewart has been making efforts to get here for the past week but the uncertainty of the train service on the Short Line caused her several delays in starting forth from home.
