

LEMHI COUNTY NEWS IN BRIEF

GATHERED AND REPORTED BY THE RECORDER'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS

LEADORE NEWS.

The first oratorical contest held last Saturday evening, April 8, drew a packed house. Standing room was at a premium. A fine program was rendered to a highly appreciative audience. The primary speaker to obtain the gold medal awarded was Juanita Williams of Leadore, while Elsie Reddington of the Cotton District was awarded the grammar grade one. Each child contestant was given a treat of beautiful cut flowers, sent in from outside hot houses. D. C. Reed, in a few well chosen remarks, awarded the medals, which were engraved suitably with date and occasion, with blank space for the name of contestant. It is to be hoped that this new introduction, in school development will continue from year to year, gaining in popularity and true worth. A word of thanks is due those whose efforts brought this about, and to all who were instrumental in entertaining an audience capable of appreciating their efforts to entertain.

A business deal was consummated last week, whereby M. W. Friedorff becomes the owner of the Leadore livery barn and lodging house, buying the same from George Martin, who has conducted the business for the last three years. Mr. Friedorff will take possession immediately, developing and elaborating upon the present holdings, in a practical way that cannot but be of benefit to the community. Selling does not mean that the upper valley will lose the Marins. Far from it. Mr. Martin still retains his 320 acre ranch south of town, and expects to be interested in other business ventures. Mrs. Martin, prior to settlement, will pay a long deferred visit to friends and relatives on the outside, spending a month at the lower coast altitude.

TENDROY NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Will Mahaffey are the proud parents of another boy, making them a full male quartette.

Pauline Mulkey, who was a Salmon visitor this week, came home with a good hard cold which does not help her with the Easter program.

There is a camp of Indians up the Agency just below the Narrows clearing willows and sage brush off a piece of land for Bond & Buchanan. They are doing a good job and are very proud of it when they meet a friendly white they point to themselves and say, "me work".

Clarence Smith and family are living in their new home since last week.

The Social club are preparing a musical program for the Easter Sunday service. Of course it will be good, as they are in the habit of having good things and the people expect nothing else.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett have packed their outfit for removal. We hope that they will be happy and successful in their new home. Ren goes with them and may stay if they find what suits them. They have several places under consideration. They are good friends and neighbors.

Anna Decoria went to Salmon sick last week. She was helping Mrs. Will Mahaffey while she was sick. She was pretty sick.

Mr. Mulkey lost one of his milk cows last week. Milk cows are not plenty enough to lose without feeling the loss.

Joe Vaughn and wife are settled on the Carpenter ranch.

Clarence and Vern Carroll proved up on their ranches last week. They have good places.

Next Tuesday evening Rev. Clow comes to talk to us for our betterment. Social after preaching. Come.

George W. Snyder last Friday advertised a mare and colt as estrays on his dairy farm below Salmon. The Recorder was printed and distributed no sooner than Mr. Snyder received a telephone call from Chet Mathewson saying the animals were his. Quick results follow all advertising in this paper.
