GILMORE

(Too late for issue December 15.) The motor-bus now reaches the curve out on the flat and there is met by the mail messenger who brings in passengers and mail.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoyt have moved in from this ranch to spend the winter in camp.

Returned workers the past few days were Conley Daly, who was at Lemhi; Arthur Poynt, also a visitor at Lemhi; Bob Anderson, who spent a few days at Leadore; and Frank Anderson.

Emil Peterson and bride, formerly Miss Veda Stout, returned Saturday on the motor bus from their visit to Mackay, and are house keeping in one of the Dotcy cottages. As I write, the jingling of bells, beating of pans, oil cans, and loud hallooing tells me that the air around that cottage will soon be rent with discordant notes—to celebrate the home coming.

R. L. Walker of the U. S. Smelter company of Salt Lake is at the P. I. for several days looking after affairs at the mine.

If I only knew their names I could tell of a number of new comers. Not knowing I can only say a man in a gray top-coat, the short man with a fur cap; the one with the long coat and alligator bag, and so on—all are in town enjoying the good feeds and scenery.

Little Hugh Williams is quite well again.

Fred Perine and wife of Leadore came up Wednesday to stay until the ranch work of spring-time begins.

Frank Seymour, of Mrs. Belle Schronover and two real estate men from Baker, Oregon, passed through camp Thursday on their return to Oregon, after taking a look at the Seymour-Schroonover and Freeman ranches below Leadore. These will be exchanged for one ranch in Oregon.

Mrs. Charles Jones and nephew, little Richard Benedict, were in town from the Silver Moon camp on Saturday.

Mr. Shaw came in Wednesday from the Portland returning Friday and taking with him John Rodgers, who will work at the Portland during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Nichols had a belated Thanksgiving dinner Sunday evening at which R. T. Walker of the U. S. Smelter company, and F. Bigelow, bookkeeper for the P. I., were guests. The fine big turkey was raised by Mrs. Russell Yearian of Lemhi.

E. A. McDonald and Homer Dundas are leaving on Wednesday's train to spend Christmas at their old homes. The former goes to Minnesota and the latter to Thorold, Ontario.

Larry Gallaher was so unfortunate as to freeze his hands Monday night, while going to the Latest Out.

Mrs. Jack Bowman of Carmen is up to spend the winter, Mr. Bowman working at the P. I.

LEADORE

Nate Rosenbaum of Rosenbaum Bros., Salt Lake, was calling on Leadore merchants last week. Mr. Rosenbaum has been in Washington, D. C., since his last trip to the valley.

R. F. Wood, who was superintendent of Leadore schools last year, is now head of the schools at Hope, Ida. Mrs. Joe Steele and daughter Maxine were passengers on Thursday's bus for Salmon, returning Monday.

Mrs. Bernard Waugh of Lima is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Saline.

Miss Thompson of Salmon arrived to help take care of the Pritchett children for a few weeks.

Mrs. Will Dalby is expected home Friday from Salt Lake where she has been visiting friends and relatives.

Superintendent Newland left Friday for Sand Point to spend the holidays with his family.

Mrs. Alice Bell was in Salmon for a few days last week on business.

Miss Pearl Dalby is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jim Stroud, and brother, Will Dalby.

Alex Waugh of the G. and P. shops left Tuesday for Dillon to spend Christmas with his family.

Miss Esther Fry of Ft. Lupton, Colorado, formerly domestic science teacher in Leadore, is teaching in a consolidated high school at Mt. Morrison, Colorado, not far from her home.

Mrs. Briggeman of Lemhi stopped in Leadore Saturday en route to Dillon. Mrs. Thomas H. Yearian and Mrs. Briggeman returned to their Lemhi homes Monday, both having visited in Dillon.

Bill Hill of Lee creek came in Friday to play basket ball with the town team in the series of games given at the high school.

A number of children are absent from school because of sickness.

Buster Allred has been quite ill with a touch of pneumonia.

The new bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lipe is nearing completion.

NORTHFORK

Mrs. Eric Ravndal was a passenger on Friday's stage for Salmon where she visited with her daughter Clara at the R. A. Allan home, after which she went to Nevada to visit a sick brother.

Miss Nevada was visiting Spring creek and Gibbonsville schools last week.

Miss Clark was an over night visitor in Gibbonsville Thursday.

Mrs. Hill and children were callers at the station Sunday.

Charles Heim and Ed Vradenburg have both sold their ranches and will locate near Spokane. T. A. Summerland made the deals.

Miss Lillian Clark was a business visitor in Salmon Monday.

Stone's truck took Mr. and Mrs. Vradenburg and their effects to Salmon Monday. They expect to leave soon for their home at Spokane.

Thomas A. Jewell was transacting business in Salmon last week.

Ora Cockrell is in Salmon for a few days.

W. M. Carpenter purchased pasture and hay at Snydams and will keep his sheep there for awhile. Francis Buster is taking care of them.

Will Buster took Mr. Carpenter to Salmon Sunday.

The Home Economics club met at the Halstead home last week. Mrs. Harder and Mrs. Webb were visitors. The next meeting is Wednesday if the weather permits.

Hal Halstead writes that he has expected to be in California and expects to stay there.

Mrs. Webb, who has been visiting Mrs. Harder, returned to Salmon.

Little Roy Motichka is quite sick with a cold.

Miss Clark and pupils are preparing for a program and tree at the school house Friday preceding Christmas.

John Bullard spent Sunday with his mother at Northfork.

Personal property taxes are due this month. W. C. White, assessor.

A. Woffunden and A. R. Costund spent a day or two in Salmon this week from Challis.
