

THE RINER SISTERS.

If you want to be entertained to a degree that you have rarely been entertained before; if you want to feel the pure joy of just being alive, do not fail to blue pencil your date book for the Riner Sisters, who furnish one of the most satisfying programs of the chautauqua. They come to us with the unequivocal indorsement of chautauqua and lyceum bureaus all over the country. Everybody says, "They just walk out and make good." Kaleidoscopic in variety of expression, they register in the language of the movies the acme of droll mimicry, ironical gravity, pensive sadness, mirth-provoking pantomime, and at times the wholesome touch of a light waded seriousness. They are inevitable fun-makers of strictly Class A distinction. Handsome, refined, talented, loving their work as much as the public, which is almost "much too much," they weave themselves into the hearts of any audience in a manner wholly captivating. They never fail to "draw" and "go" big. Although it is not uncommon for an audience to almost break up a Riner program with laughter, there is yet the happy balance of an unconscious dignity that will meet with the approval of the oldest inhabitant. A Riner repertoire—a large measure of which is original—runs the gamut of solos, duets, individual and combined impersonations, piano solos by Miss Irene Hummel, pianist accompanist, with an individual charm all her own, reading of play and story, monologues, short, straight and dialect readings, a program of its kind not to be excelled anywhere.

LABEL NOT SUSTAINED.

The libel suit brought against the Silver City Avalanche by a county commissioner of Owyhee county resulted in a verdict for the defendant. Intelligent juries do not support attempts to throttle the press. Criticism of public officers, when honestly inspired, is a safeguard of good government. Courts, juries and public opinion will not sustain attempts to beat down this safeguard.—Caldwell Tribune.

EMINENT JURIST COMING.

Judge R. M. Wanamaker, of the supreme court of Ohio, who will speak at the chautauqua in Blackfoot, brings a message of even greater individual interest and importance than that of preparedness—a constructive treatment of the vital problems of our federal, state, district and local courts. No man in America today is so ably equipped, by reason of actual participation, and demonstration of contending principles, to point out the glaring weaknesses of our system of jurisprudence, and at the same time offer a workable remedial solution to the problems.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." Judge Wanamaker comes to us, not as a radical or vehement dilutant, but with a personal record in the courts of the great State of Ohio, which vindicates his contention that it is not only right but possible to exercise the same thoroughness and dispatch in the official conduct of court procedure that is employed in the various professions, institutions and industries of the country. As district attorney, as judge of the court of common pleas, as judge of the supreme court of his State, Judge Wanamaker struck a new note in the annals of jurisprudence in this country. He proved not only to the people of Ohio, but to many outside thousands who were eager to familiarize themselves upon the subject, that after all, the dispensation of equal justice guaranteed to every one under the law is a thing of simple and direct method.

Judge Wanamaker has the unconscious poise, dignity and presence of the man who knows—who takes stock only in results. He is a very pleasing speaker, fluent, carefully avoiding the obscure phrases of legal parlance—using only the language familiar to all. He appeals to all classes, of every degree and standing, because what he has to say is meant for everyone. It is this quality, as much as anything else, that has endeared him to the many thousands who have heard him in the east. To hear Judge Wanamaker is to be instructed and entertained by one of the foremost constructive men of our time.

KEEP A FLOCK OF SHEEP.

Western farmers are overlooking a good source of revenue by not keeping a small flock of sheep. The growing of wool and the raising of sheep in this country are on the decline. We produce a large surplus of cotton and cereals but are forced to go into foreign markets for 50 per cent of our wool.

Sheep are good animals to have on a farm, and their value should not be overlooked. A flock of twenty or thirty could be easily kept on practically every farm with very little additional expense, since they subsist largely upon weeds, shattered grain, etc., that would otherwise be wasted.

With wool selling at 30 cents a pound a flock of twenty sheep would bring annually $60 to $80 from that source, besides raising twenty-five to thirty lambs and providing the table with fresh mutton.

Forethought.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance. E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us." Obtainable everywhere.

Chicago, June 10.—Charles Evans Hughes, of New York, was nominated presidential candidate by the Republican convention on the third ballot.

Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, was nominated vice president on the first ballot.

Hughes received 949½, and his nomination was declared unanimous; Roosevelt, 18½; Dupont, 5; Weeks, 3, and Lodge 7.

Leaders say both will accept the nominations.

Reading of the Roosevelt message urging Lodge's nomination was closely followed. The message gave Lodge's record and attitude on public questions for several years, and declared he had been thinking of the question for months and pointed out the necessity for united action in defeating the Democrats.

Smoot presented the peace committee report recommending Hughes' nomination, contending that no other was so available or so able to command the support of all factions.

Senator Lodge, supporting Hughes' nomination, spoke in the warmest terms, declaring Hughes "thoroughly a man, distinguished and upright."

Arizona gave Hughes 5 and Roosevelt 1; Colorado, Hughes 9, Roosevelt 3. A. M. Stevens, of Colorado, moved Roosevelt's name be withdrawn, and Colorado changed its vote solid for Hughes. Montana, 7 Hughes, 1 Roosevelt. Utah gave Hughes 7 and Roosevelt 1. Wyoming was all for Hughes. The necessary number was secured when New Jersey was reached.

The official count gave Fairbanks 863, Burdett 108, others scattered. A great demonstration started when the results were announced. The convention then adjourned.

Resigns From Court.

Washington, June 10.—Justice Hughes declared when informed of his nomination that he had nothing to say then, but he would issue a statement later today. He would be busy working on a court decision for Monday, which will probably be his last day as justice of the supreme court.

Justice Hughes sent a telegram to Harding, accepting the Republican nomination. He sent his resignation as associate justice of the supreme court to President Wilson by messenger. Harding sent congratulations to Justice Hughes.

Hughes' Pedigree.

Charles Evans Hughes was born in Glens Ferry, New York, April 11, 1862, making him four years younger than ex-President Roosevelt, and six years younger than President Wilson.

His father was a Baptist minister, and his mother was a devoted woman who shaped his early education with the idea of preparing him for the ministry. He was graduated from Brown University in 1881, one of the Phi Beta Kappa honor men in his year. Finally he attended the Columbia University law school, holding the prize fellowship from 1884 to 1887.

The public first heard of Mr. Hughes in 1905 and 1906. It was in those years that he served, first as counsel of the Stevens legislative commission investigating the gas companies of New York, and then as counsel for the Armstrong legislative committee for the investigation of insurance business in New York. In the insurance investigation he unearthed nation-wide scandals and the whole country followed the dramatic story which he revealed.

In 1905 Mr. Hughes was nominated for mayor of New York by the Republican convention, but declined the nomination. The following year, he was elected governor of New York, and in 1908 was re-elected. He was appointed justice of the United States supreme court in May, 1910, and resigned the governorship to go to the supreme bench.

THE COMUS PLAYERS.

To meet the ever growing demand for high-class drama as a feature of chautauqua, the management were fortunate enough to secure the Comus Players, a company of dramatic artists whose work is conformant to the best chautauqua standards.

The members of the company are well known in dramatic circles throughout the country—having won distinction in the popular and Shakespearean roles: Archibald Reddie, who is the heavy-character man of the troupe, has distinguished himself in many western productions of standard plays. Miss Janet Young, known to footlight fans as the Sweetheart of the Northwest, is a well trained young actor, having received his dramatic education in the exacting schools of Europe. Ralph Ash, who is cast opposite Miss Young, has the physique of the matinee idol, happily combined with rare interpretive ability.

The Comus Players are to give "Carson of the North Woods," a Canadian classic of frontier life around Quebec. This is a play of strong moral appeal. As a prelude to the foregoing, the Comus Players give a favorite selection from Shakespeare.

DAY OF CHEAP MEATS IS GONE FOREVER

"The day of cheap meats is passed. Production is not keeping up with the increase in population and the devastation caused by the European war means that in the future—for a long time to come, at least—America will be called upon to furnish a greater supply of meat to the world than in the past, with a constantly increasing price to the consumer."

The above is the expressed opinion of one of the greatest packers of the United States, who is familiar with the meat industry of the country. The people of the United States are the greatest meat eaters of the world as a nation; are the best fed and best cared for people. Immigrants from some of the southern European countries that had meat on the family table once a week or less in their former homes, become meat eaters in America for the reason that they are better paid and meat has been cheaper.

Meat will never—or not for a long time—be beyond the reach of the average American family, and there is little danger of them being forced to cut their allowance to one time a week, but it may be necessary in a number of cases to cut the family meat bill from three times a day to once a day, and for the housewife of America to learn to serve the less desirable and cheaper cuts of beef.

In France and Germany, where cooking is more of an art than in the United States, and where the art is learned from necessity, the cheaper parts of the beef are served in a most palatable way by the proper cooking methods and season. It is easier to make a three-inch thick tenderloin steak taste good than a piece of "chuck-steak," but the latter has just as much nutrition in it and can be made to taste almost as good, though of a different flavor.

The cutting down of the range in the United States, the constant increase in population and the falling off in production are accountable for the to-be-expected high prices.

The people of the United States will have to learn to substitute other foods for meats, as the people of England, Russia and Norway do today. The livestock industry is to become from all indications one of the best paying branches of American agriculture.

Mrs. Myrtle Jones, of the Brown-Hart Company, spent Sunday in Lava Hot Springs.

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY.

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Blackfoot. No Blackfoot resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

Mrs. J. L. Wilson, R. F. D. No. 2, Blackfoot, says: "I had attacks of kidney complaint for four years. The first symptom being pains across the small of my back for three or four days. I tried various medicines, but without getting relief, until I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved very effective."

Over two years later Mrs. Wilson said: "I still consider Doan's Kidney Pills a first-class kidney medicine." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wilson has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

The Reward of Careful Attention

There's no accident about successful cattle raising. Good buildings are a first essential.

A well-planned cattle barn soon pays for itself. You can almost see the difference in the condition of your stock. It is one more safe-guard against loss from disease.

In planning your cattle barn, you naturally have problems of your own to take into consideration. The size, location, and interior arrangement must be adapted to your needs.

Instead of putting up a separate building you might find it better to build an addition to your present barn equipment. In any event you will consider the convenience to yourself and your hired help of having a building of ample size.

Talk it over with us. We want to help you decide upon the one best building for your purpose.

TYPHOID is no more necessary than GEM STATE. Army experience has demonstrated the almost miraculous effect of Gem State Typhoid Vaccine. Be vaccinated NOW by your physician, post and your family. It is more vital than horse language. Ask your physician, druggist, or send for "Have You Had Typhoid?" telling of Typhoid Vaccine, its uses, and danger from Typhoid Carrier.
