

BRISTOL AND JACKRABBIT DISTRICTS.

The developments made in the Day mine have caused owners of mines in Bristol District to renewed exertions in the development of mines owned by them, which mines had only been partially worked for some time past.

In the Cave mine, owned by the Rowa Brothers, a development there has shown that the vein carries a large amount of silver along with the copper, for which it has always been worked.

In the Jackrabbit District the Day mine is still holding its own, besides getting 43 tons of first and second-class ore worked at the Raymond & Ely mill, as detailed elsewhere, another large lot has been shipped to the same mill, under the charge of Nat. Miller, for reduction; this it is expected will work even better than the last.

The work being done and the developments being made show that these two districts will be of immense importance in mining circles before a great while.

DAY MINE ORE.—The crushing of the ore from the Day mine at the Raymond & Ely mill was completed on Sunday night last, the mill having crushed 38 tons of first-class ore and five tons of what is called second-class. The pulp assays of the first-class ore averaged about $561, while the second-class was $150. It was demonstrated by the dry kiln of the mill that the ore carried with it 18 per cent. of moisture, and in some cases it was found to contain even more.

RELOCATED.—We gave warning several weeks since that some of our old mines were subject to relocation on account of the lawful amount of work not being performed on them every year, and notified owners that if they wished to hold such mines it would be necessary to do some work.

ONE FROM DRY VALLEY.—Bob Wash has been engaged for a few weeks past in taking up a portion of the flooring of the Dry Valley mill and gathering from the ground the accumulation of ore, etc., that has worked itself through the flooring during the time the mill was in operation.

FOR THE EAST.—Charley Heath departed for New York City Tuesday via Salt Lake City. He has gone east for the purpose of interviewing the Directors of the mill and mining company of Fabranagat and having them resume work on an extensive scale, recent developments warranting the same.

PAID UP.—On Tuesday Miles Quillen, ex-County Treasurer, paid into the County Treasury $480, being the balance due by him to the county. This squares him up in that matter of indebtedness and we are glad to be able to publish the fact.

MEETING NOTICE.—The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Kentucky Mining Company takes place to-day in San Francisco at the office of the company, 309 California street, at the hour of 1 o'clock p. m.

POCCH BULLION.—$18,482.41 in bullion was shipped by Wells, Fargo & Co. during the week.

CHANGES.—Meadow Valley street is rapidly taking on a new appearance, owing to the removal of buildings from it. The building formerly known as the Lafayette Restaurant was sold for taxes two weeks since, and afterwards sold to parties for removal to Royal City, and last Saturday it was taken down and carted away. Adjoining it is the old Theater building, which we understand is to be taken down, removed to Royal City and put up as a hotel, to be called "The Palace," and will be a fair imitation of its San Francisco namesake—maybe so. It is best that this theater building should be taken down, else the wind some day or night will save the trouble of employing carpenters to remove it as it is in a very shaky condition, so that a strong gust would soon capsize it. The removal of these two buildings from that street will add much to the security of every one located on that street in case of fire, as their height and amount of aged timber in them caused them to be dreaded in case of a conflagration. The lot adjoining F. W. Clute's store, occupied by the Lafayette Restaurant, was purchased by Ed. Clute for the purpose of leaving it unoccupied, as a better security in case of fire approaching the brick and stone store.

CONFESSIONS OF LEE.—W. H. Stevens, the agent in Pioche for Mr. Bishop's book, "Mormonism Unveiled, or The Life and Confessions of John D. Lee," received a large number of these books last Monday, and has been busy during the week delivering them to parties who subscribed for the same. Those desirous of learning the workings and doings of the Mormons will do well to call on Mr. Stevens and secure one of these books. This is the most thorough exposure ever made of Mormonism, and being the confession of Lee, who at one time was high in authority in the Church, made but a short time prior to his execution, can be relied upon as being strictly true. Mr. Stevens will please accept our thanks for a copy of the above book.

GRAND JURY.—A Grand Jury will probably be summoned at the first meeting of the Court on Thursday next, and we do not well see how they are going to avoid running the county into about $10,000 additional debt by finding indictments against Sloan, Newman, Dean and McMauns, without the indictments brought against them charge them with a less degree of crime than murder in the first degree. We hope to see the coming Grand Jury composed of tax-payers and business men of the town, who will have the interests of the county and their own at stake in the transaction of the business that comes before them.

REPORTING.—E. B. Dorsey arrived in Pioche a week since for the purpose of visiting and reporting on the Mayflower mine of Bristol to a company in San Francisco, who are desirous of taking hold and working it. His report has been forwarded to the proper authorities. During the week he has also visited and examined the Alps and Day mines. Mr. Dorsey is the gentleman who reported in favor of the company purchasing the Day mine.

CONDOR MILL.—Owing to unforeseen circumstances the Condor mill will not be ready to start to work until about the 20th of November. It will be placed in such good shape when completed that there will be no necessity of shutting down on account of repairs being needed to machinery. We hope to see it in operation at the time mentioned as a number of chloriders are anxious to have work done.

CARELESSNESS.—The mail that left Pioche on the Hamilton stage on the 19th instant returned here on the stage that arrived on the 20th, although the sack was labeled, in large letters, "Hamilton Mail." This was owing to carelessness on the part of the driver of the wagon or buckboard, as it could not have been taken out of the wagon at Prairie's where the change is made for Ward.

P. S.—An elegant Billiard Table, newly upholstered, with new ivory balls of any size desired.

NOT CONNECTED.—We stated in our last issue that a paper was to be started at Silver Reef and that George Goldthwaite was to be its editor. He writes us under date of October 22d that the item is in error, as he has no connection with the paper to be started, either directly or indirectly, as editor or otherwise.

BACK DOWN.—The buckboard that arrived from Salt Lake on Wednesday broke down previous to reaching Pioche, so that it was 11 o'clock on Thursday before it departed on its trip.

FREIGHT ARRIVED.—The Eureka and Palisade teams arrived on Sunday last, bringing a large lot of freight to a number of our merchants.

DISTRICT COURT.—The District Court will commence its November term on Thursday next, November 1st, at 10 a. m., the time to which the court was adjourned.

Go to Clute's for fine groceries.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.—We perused a letter dated July 30th, from R. Strouss, from the Gold Fields of the Transvaal Republic, South Africa, addressed to W. E. Griffin. Strouss says he don't know of a claim in the country that is paying, with two exceptions; the diggings are spotted and water scarce. Crowley and Mattocks are yet in the Diamond Fields. Mattocks found a twenty-three carat diamond, but the European war has knocked the African diamonds so they do not bring high prices. The climate is beautiful where he is located, it being the winter time in that country. The situation is about 140 miles from Delgoa Bay. Strouss earnestly requests his friends to stay away from that country without they have plenty of money and come to see the place. He says the natives, as a rule, are all Mormons. Old Seccoconi has one hundred wives and the Zulu King, it is said, has two hundred. It is a rare thing to see a half breed, and if one is seen the boys know there has been a missionary located around there somewhere. Strouss sent some specimens of African gold to Mr. Griffin. At the writing all hands were well.

RAYMOND & ELY.—Everything is looking very well around the mine; are still going down on the winza on the 1200-foot level, the ground through which they are working is perfectly dry. The mill has been engaged the past week in working ore from the Day mine, with satisfactory results, and are now engaged in cleaning up on it. The ore was worked to a percentage of about 90 per cent. of the pulp assay.

A COMPROMISE.—We understand that efforts are now being made whereby the claim for one-third of the Day mine, by Valliancourt, will be settled by a compromise, on the basis of $5,000 and 5,000 shares of the company stock. This is probably as well as could be expected as we understand that some new evidence to be had since the injunction case was heard will place a new face on the claim for one-third.

ALPS MINING CO.—The chloride stope in 9th level continues to yield the usual amount of first-class ore, two trains of which were sent to mill during the week; the average working of the ore was $162, bullion carrying 20 per cent. of gold. A vein of high grade ore has been discovered on the 11th level, west. There is no change in company's Alps mine since last report.

REDUCTION.—F. W. Clute calls attention in the Record of to-day to the very low prices at which he has now placed his tea, coffee, sugar, soap, canned vegetables, and all other kinds of goods in which he deals. He has a large and extensive assortment of goods which he intends selling at living prices. Give him a call.

BULLION.—Eight bars of bullion came up on the cars last Sunday, seven of which were from the Raymond & Ely mill, valued at $1,500 each. The other one was from the Alps mill, being valued at $1,902. In this amount there was $302 in gold, the balance, $1,600, being silver.

THE WARD REFLEX says there is a rumor around that camp that A. J. Blair was expected to take charge of the Martin White Company's affairs on or about the first of November, the Reflex has not been able to trace the rumor to any reliable source.

LAMED.—E. J. Clute, while driving to Bullionville last Sunday, met with an accident in having one of the horses of the team run a nail into its foot. This was not discovered until after driving the animal some distance, and then he was getting pretty lame.

TOYS, ETC.—Krause has just received direct from Europe, and also from Chicago, a large lot of toys and a variety of articles which must be seen to be appreciated. All these articles are suitable for Christmas presents for children.

ASSAY OFFICE.—A. H. Eganuel announces in this issue that he is now prepared to make assays of any kind of metals, ores or pulp at reasonable prices. All assays made by him he guarantees to be correct.

ARRIVED.—Mr. Armer arrived here from Ward Saturday evening last. He intends fitting up the store on Main street, adjoining Eisenmann & Co., for the purpose of opening up in it in the grocery and provision business.

ON HIS RETURNS.—Judge Rives telegraphed from Evanston Tuesday that he was on his way to Pioche. He will probably arrive here either to-night or Sunday night.

LATE last Saturday evening Mr. Pougade visited our office and presented us with a bottle of that article which "lightens the printer's heart," for which he will please accept our thanks.

If you have read "His Young Wife," "That Husband of Mine," and "The Annals of a Baby," you may now tackle "The Horrid Girl" or "How Do You Like It."

Deputy Sheriff Goble, of Baker county, Oregon, killed a noted desperado and cattle thief named Simpson, in Pine Valley, in that county, last week, while attempting to arrest him. Simpson was ordered to surrender, but instead of obeying he drew his six-shooter, but before he had time to use it he was fired on by Goble and his assistants.

Blue Jeans Williams thinks that a man can drink as much whisky in common clothes as he can in purple and fine linen.

SCENTED SOMETHING GOOD.—A couple of Austrians recently made a horseback trip to Tuscarora, and one of the incidents of the journey is related as follows: One day they were traveling over a long barren stretch, and as mile after mile was traversed and no habitation appeared in view, the travelers were seized with the pangs of hunger. It was getting along towards evening, and as they rode wearily ahead, almost hopeless of obtaining the desired and necessary refreshments and picturing to themselves the horrors of starvation, they smelled a smell. "By the great horn spoon!" exclaimed one of the horsemen, "there's a house near by and they're making coffee." "Yes," replied the other, "and judging by the smell it's way up coffee, too." The scent of boiling coffee is welcome to the nostrils of a hungry man, and the riders urged their horses forward in the direction from which it proceeded. The smell kept growing stronger as they advanced, and soon began to grow disagreeable, and when in a few moments they came upon a skunk sitting in the road, all their visions of gastronomic bliss vanished; they forgot their hunger, and the aspirations of two whole lifetimes were crowded into one insignificant object—to get out of range of that skunk.

Gold Hill News: Last Saturday about 4 o'clock, while Con. Sullivan was working on his claim, the Maple Leaf, located east of the Ward mine, J. J. Casey approached and ordered him to leave the ground. This Sullivan refused to do. A row ensued and Sullivan was shot by Casey, with a pistol, the ball taking effect in the fleshy part of the right thigh, passing directly through. The wound is not considered of dangerous character. Casey gave himself up to the officers and was held in $500 bonds to appear for trial. It is averred that Sullivan and Casey had been partners in the mining claim over which the trouble was caused.

Austin Reveille: There will be a large number of shade trees planted this Fall in Austin and on ranches in the vicinity. The trees were ordered last Summer and comprise different kinds of shade trees which grow in the Eastern States. The success experienced with the locust trees, which have stood the test of several years, is an encouragement that transplanted trees will flourish in this section.

Eureka Sentinel: We learn that the Rieves & Berry mine, at Spring Valley, has been incorporated under the title of the General Connor, and work will be commenced on the property early next week. General Connor, who has been negotiating its sale in San Francisco, has been very successful in his operations, and he will have charge of the property, directing the future workings.

SEVERE DROUGHT.—Mr. Charles Bird, who returned this week from Santa Clara, Washington county, advises us that the people of said town have been hauling their water for more than four months, and the entire failure of the crop has resulted from the failure of water in the Santa Clara river. Some very promising discoveries of silver ore have been made near the town.—Beaver (Utah) Square-Dealer.
