TRIMMING AN ELEPHANT'S FEET.
(New Haven Register, November 2.)

Yesterday Professor George Arating-stall and four assistants were occupied all day in trimming the feet of two elephants. The operation is performed three times a year—once on the road, once in the Fall, and again in the Spring.
The sole of an elephant's foot is heavily covered with a thick and horny substance of material similar to the three toe nails upon each foot, and as it grows thicker and thicker it tends to contract and crack, often laming the animal.
When the work of trimming is undertaken, the elephant stands upon three legs, and places the foot to be operated upon across a big tub. Two men hold the leg down and one stands at the animal's head to prevent him from turning.
Then Professor Aratingstall, with a two-foot drawing knife, proceeds to shave off great pieces of bone from the sole of foot.
Shavings of bone six inches by four, and a quarter of an inch thick, are rapidly cut, the edges of the foot being carefully trimmed. Often pieces of glass, wire, nails, etc., are found imbedded in the foot, which have been picked up during street parades. Sometimes these irritating morsels work up into the leg and produce a festering abscess. A large nail was found yesterday in Pallas' foot, imbedded over three inches from the bottom. Professor Aratingstall extracted it with a small pair of pliers, then syringed the wound with warm water. The Professor, when hurried on the road, sometimes draws out such nails with his teeth. Pallas apparently suffered great pain, but seemed to know that the operation would give relief. He held the foot high and quietly, of his own accord, until all was finished, then flourished his trunk, trumpeted, and expressed almost in words his sincere thanks.

After paring the foot, each toe-nail is cut between and then filed down, giving each foot a white, clean look with its settings of polished nails. It takes about six hours to finish dressing an elephant's feet, and it is said to be one of the hardest bits of work that the men have to do.
While busy making the chips fly, Professor Aratingstall said: "Did you know that three times around an elephant's front hoof is his exact height?" "No.
Is that so?" "Yes, and to prove it, look here." Then he proceeded to measure the front foot of the brute, and three times its circumference was found, by mounting a ladder, to be the exact height of the animal.

ECLIPSES IN 1884.

In the year 1884 there will be five eclipses; three of the sun and two of the moon.

1. A small partial eclipse of the sun, March 27. Invisible. Visible to Northern Europe, and a portion of the North Polar Sea.

2. A total eclipse of the moon, April 10. Visible in a greater or less degree to North and South America, Asia, Australia and the Pacific Ocean.

3. A partial eclipse of the sun, April 23. Invisible. Visible to the Southern extremities of South America and Africa, and intervening Atlantic Ocean.

4. A total eclipse of the moon, October 4. Invisible. Visible to Europe, Asia, Africa, South America and Atlantic Ocean, and partly so to the eastern coast of North America.

5. A partial eclipse of the sun, October 18. Invisible east of Utah. Visible to the Pacific coast, Siberia and intermediate ocean. At San Francisco the eclipse will begin at 4:22 P. M., the sun setting at the moment of greatest obscuration.

SEA SERPENTS EXPLAINED.

In reference to a letter which appeared yesterday in the Times, headed "The Sea Serpent Once More," perhaps the following story will throw some light on what the Rev. Mr. Highton saw and on sea serpents in general. In 1848 I was attached to her majesty's ship St. Vincent, bearing the flag of Sir Charles Napier, and lying at Spithead. One Summer evening about six o'clock, just as the officers were sitting down to dinner, the midshipman of the watch ran into the ward-room and reported that a sea serpent was passing rapidly between the ship and the Isle of Wight (this was after the reported appearance of the Dedalus sea serpent). We all got our glasses and went on deck, and there, sure enough, about a mile off, was a large monster, with a head and shaggy mane about one hundred feet long, and tapering to the tail; it was going with the tide, and had a rapid, undulating motion. Two or three boats were manned, and some officers got their guns and went in pursuit. We watched them from the ship; they gradually got close, and guns were raised and leveled at the creature's head; but just as we thought the sport was about to begin, down went the guns, and from their gestures we saw something very laughable had occurred. On their return we found that the supposed serpent was a long line of soot. Some steamer in the Southampton waters had evidently swept her dirty funnel, and the soot from tubes or fun-nels is always of a very sticky nature, and as it was pitched overboard it went away with the tide, sticking together, and gradually forming into the shape of a long serpent, the wave motion giving it an undulating, life-like appearance. In this case, if the boats had not gone out we should of all believed we had seen the real serpent, and this "arrangement in soot" is evidently what Mr. Highton saw. The curl he describes toward the tail end arose from an occasional wave having a little more than ordinary velocity, and carrying its dusky crest, for a moment along with it; while a strong tide and fair wind would give considerable velocity. My story will, I think supply a "raison d'etre," not only for Mr. Highton's sea serpent, but probably for the whole brood.—[Letter to London News.

FOR YOUNG MEN TO REMEMBER.

That clothes don't make the man.

That if they once get in debt they may never get out of it.

That parting the hair in the middle brings on softening of the brain.

That to deal honorably with all men they begin with their washerwoman.

That they need something more substantial than cigars, kid gloves and a can to start housekeeping with.

That they can't reckon on their father's fortune to bring them through life. Fortunes are slippery things—better have something else to fall back on.

That a girl who decks herself in the latest things out and parades in the street while her mother does the washing, isn't worth wasting much love on.

That a fellow who deliberately proposes matrimony to a girl when he can't support himself, is either a first-class fraud or a fool—unless he marries for money and becomes her hired man.—[Excerpted from the

A SILVER SKULLED MAN.—One of the quickest curiosities on the globe is a man with a silver skull, who is now visiting in Louisville, Ky. During a fiercely contested battle in the late war this interesting individual was struck in the head with a piece of shell, which tore away the entire top of his skull, leaving the brain most horribly exposed. Strange to say, he survived the terrible wound, and a noted surgeon, who was one of the physicians in attendance upon the late lamented Garfield, succeeded in fitting a silver plate over the opening, which shielded the brain equally as well as the skull. This plate is about the size of a man's hand, and works on hinges, and may be raised up and down at will.
The reskulled man does not experience the least pain, and as he wears a wig, all evidence of a shattered skull is concealed.

A dude wrote a letter to General Sherman saying he would like to marry anyone of his daughters and called the next day to see what Tecumseh thought of the scheme. The old war horse caught him by the dome of his trousers and coat collar and landed him on the sidewalk. The sutor challenged General Grant, Sherman and Sheridan out on the sidewalk and said he would lick them all. They declined the proffered honor.

A Kentucky paper has noticed that insane murderers are always sane enough to employ the most celebrated lawyers to defend them.

HEART DISEASE!

CURED BY

DR. RUSH'S REGULATOR.

FOR HEART TROUBLES.

Wm. G. Osgoodby, the well-known safe manufacturer of Buffalo, Philadelphia Pittsburg, Newark and Atlanta, Ga., says:

ATLANTA, Ga., October 17th, 1883.

DR. RUSH'S MEDICAL ASSOCIATION:

DEAR DOCTORS.—The three bottles of "Dr.
Rush's Regulator" ordered were received by express last week. I have taken nearly one bottle and am thoroughly satisfied with the result.
For over two years I have been troubled with sharp pains in my heart. My physician, upon examination, pronounced it enlargement of the heart, and was unable to give me any relief.
The trouble grew worse until I had become convinced that I could not be cured. While in New York City, last week, I called upon one of the most prominent physicians there, who charged me $25 for an examination and then recommended your "Regulator." Knowing you to be a regular Medical Association, and NOT A PATENT MEDICINE SCHEM, I ordered the three bottles.
I have not been troubled since I commenced taking it, but shall continue and take the entire three bottles so as to obtain a permanent cure.
You have my sincere thanks.

I am, gentlemen, Very respectfully,
Wm. G. OSGOODBY

has never failed to give relief. It has been used successfully for years in subduing the most stubborn cases of heart difficulties. A positive cure for Enlargement, Palpitation, Fluttering and Fatty Degeneration of the Heart. Price $1.00 per bottle; six for $5.00. Sold by druggists, or sent direct by Dr. Rush's Medical Association, Nantua, N. Y., U. S. A.
