

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FLUE DUST ARRESTER.—The flue dust arrester for the furnace at Bristol, made by Eisenmann, was shipped Wednesday to the furnace. This arrester is of a new design and was gotten up by Supt. A. K. Grim, who possesses a mechanical turn of mind and is the inventor of several patents. The arrester is 16 feet in length, 6 in width and 8 in height, and weighs about 2,000 pounds. It is like three tents, and when placed on the furnace these tents will be upside down, as it were. At the bottom is an opening of about 6 inches. From the top of the arrester is a partition of heavy sheet-iron, which extends down into the tents, or chambers, about four feet. The smoke and dust from the furnace passes into the arrester, and the arrester being so much larger than the pipe from the furnace, the draft there is not so strong, and the flue dust striking against the partitions inside of the arrester, drops down and through the opening at the bottom of the chutes, or top of the so-called tents, into a box constructed for receiving the dust, while the smoke passes on to the other end of the arrester and out of the smokestack. As to the ultimate success of this new invention there is a difference of opinion, but it is generally believed that it will prove to be just the apparatus for catching flue dust.

It will be seen by Judge Rives' letter to Dr. G. R. Alexander, Superintendent of Public Schools, that it is his opinion that the school year consists of from the first of the year to the last, or to more plainly state it, as the Judge's letter exhibits, from the first of January to and including the 31st of December following. It is also his Honor's opinion that the money collected for a certain school year can be used for that year only and must not be appropriated for the payment of debts incurred for the previous year, or prior thereto. There was not sufficient money in the school fund of Pioche District with which to pay the teachers their December salaries, the Trustees believing that they would be able to use the money coming in this year for that purpose, but the letter published this morning shows this cannot be done. Now, all persons know full well, teachers certainly earn their salaries, and it is the duty of the School Trustees to devise some way by which to raise the money, about $130, and pay the teachers their salaries for the month of December. We would suggest the giving of a ball, with that object in view.

MINING matters at Silver Reef are not looking very bright at present. A letter received from that place states that the Christy Company has closed down and paid their employes for their December services with checks dated sixty days ahead. There are some talk of the Stormont Company doing likewise. The letter states that the mines are looking as well as they have at any time for the past two years, and that the closing down is done with a view of reducing wages. Wages at present are $3 for men working under ground and $3 for top hands. The men working at the bottom of the Buckeye shaft, where it is wet, receive $4 per day, 8-hour shifts.

BOTH of the locomotives are ruined. The men who have been engaged in running them appear to know little or nothing about an engine, and during the nights would leave the pumps and pipes full of water. The water would freeze during the night, bursting the pipes, etc. They have burned the locomotives pretty well out since they have been running and they are leaking badly and are now unable to be run. The material will now all have to be hauled away from Delmo's by team. This does away with the idea of taking up and relaying the track, the plan that had been decided upon.

SEVERAL of the men who have been working at the Mendha mine are so filled with lead that we believe it would be a good idea, when the furnace starts up, for Supt. Grim to utilize them as flux and run them through the furnace. Dan Connors looks as though he might have twenty tons of lead in him.

By a letter from San Francisco we learn that Dick Bourne is soon to be married. The name of the young lady is Miss Aldrich, and her papa is said to be in very comfortable circumstances.

MR. TRACY, who fell from a ladder while working at the mill, last Saturday, and seriously injured himself, has improved greatly during the week.

THE administrator in the Capitan estate has been discharged, and his bondsman released and the property divided among the heirs.

THE Frisco Times gives a very promising account of the mines in old Star District, Utah. Several Piochers own interests at Star.

ON Tuesday Mrs. Geo. Nesbitt made her husband a present of a little boy. For an old man George is doing pretty well.

VALENTINES.—There are displayed at Shier's store a fine assortment of sentimental and comic valentines.

JUDGE RIVES will probably leave for Eureka the latter part of the coming week.

THE delinquent list of the Day stock appears to-day, sale day, February 5th.

THE Eureka men all departed for their homes on Monday.

BULLIONVILLE AND PANACA DGTS

The weather is just as genial and warm as the hearts of us Panaca belles.

There was a social hop at sister Pippin's and a rag-gee at brother Nelson's Monday evening.

Some of my lady chums are just dying for a beau, and are envious of the success of their sisters in Pioche, who seem to have no trouble in catching 'em.

John Hearty was acquitted of an assault and battery on Hidalgo Fillipi, before Justice Findlay, Saturday afternoon. It was a cowardly act on the part of Hearty.

The brethren say, that the great army of coast bachelors arrayed against Mormonism, are simply jealous of polygamists, hence the cry against that holy and revealed doctrine.

The Clover girls say the next time a newspaper scribe visits their valley, and goes to writing about it, taking them a whole day to put their calico dresses in dancing trim, they will tar and feather and ride him on a broncho.

When a young Miss of sixteen summers refuses to correspond with a widower of forty-five, but at the same time sends him an appropriate New Year's card, what is to be done? is the question that is at present troubling one of our mail contractors.

Jimmy Ryan purchased several head of beef steers from the Hamblin boys during the week. Jimmy is the coming bonanza stock man of the county, and is a good example of what an honest and industrious young man can accomplish on small beginnings.

Quite a number of Piochers and Eurekaans, headed by Bob Fulks and his newly-wedded bride, came down on Sunday, putting up at brother Wedge's, where a sumptuous repast awaited them. In the afternoon a portion of the party attended the 2:30 meeting of the Saints, and expressed themselves as much pleased with that portion of the discourse which vividly portrayed the beauties of the polygamous state.

Tom Mills, who carries the mail between Bullionville and the Muddy, is a model carrier that Uncle Sam may feel proud of. Not long since, while making the trip, his horse became sick, and could not be induced to go any further, when Tom shouldered his saddle and mail bag, and footed it to the station, some fifteen miles, arriving there in good season.

The young Miss teaching the primary department of our public school, having occasion a few days since to reprimand one of the little Edward boys for some breach of school discipline, said: "You little 'Injun,' I will whip the life out of you." Wonder where this young person got her certificate to teach, anyhow? and at what academy did she learn such a choice vocabulary of pet phrases.

Our lady shootist came to grief a few mornings since, while trying to recover a mallard duck that she killed in the tules a few minutes previously. As she was about to reach the game the treacherous ice gave way precipitating her into four feet of water, from which she was extricated, more dead than alive, by Billy Gedding, who happened to be passing at the time. Billy says that she has given the slough a wide berth since her watery escapade.

Well, this has been a lively and exciting week in Panaca. There have been several little skirmishes. There has been much ill-feeling displayed by the staid old sons of Zion at the disclosure of the teacher of the school referring to the "Book of Mormon" during school hours. They were working this thing pretty sly. My dear brethren made threats to run poor, dear, old aunty Hulse out of Panaca, accusing the old lady as being the girl who sends the RECORD items from our village. They also went for J. C. Kelly of Bullionville, and accused him of being the guilty party, and frightened him nearly to death. When I learned about my brethren going to bloodatone poor John it affected me so that I went into my room "and laft, and laft" till the tears flowed down my cheeks and flooded the room. I felt very sad over the matter, for I did love Johnny Kelly once; but then he used to buy no candy and brass jewelry. Why don't he do it now? In our humble opinion we think it is a shame and an outrage for all the old bulls of this village to go after a poor, innocent old lady like Mrs. Hulse and attempt to gore her to death. None but a pack of cowardly fanatics would do such a dastardly act. If they want to bloodatone any person, why do they not go to the guilty one and make her suffer, for disclosing the plain truth? but instead these brave bulls attack a helpless and aged woman. Now, I am the guilty girl, and no one has heard me deny it. Come and see me, if you are anxious for a fight, and I will accommodate you all, and send you home with bloody noses. For the last week I have been devoting my time to the development of my muscles. I had a feather pillow hanging in the center of the room, and I would hit it some gigantic blows. I hit it such terrific blows that you could almost hear the feathers groan with pain. My muscles have been developed to such an extent that they are the size of a 50-pound cannon ball and as hard as steel. I know I am able to knock down ten thousand Paddy Sullivans and ten million Johnny Ryans. Whoop! tread on the train of my dress, you village bulls, if you dare.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

DR. G. R. ALEXANDER, Supt. PUBLIC SCHOOLS, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEVADA:

DEAR SIR: From an examination of the various sections of the school laws of this State and reconciling their various, and in some respects, incongruous provisions, I think that it is contemplated by the statute that our School Financial year runs from and including the first day of each January to said day, and that it can only be exactly ascertained what amount is in any particular District School Fund, by the apportionments which are required to be made on the first of each quarter following the first day of January. If this was not the case, and the school year for all purposes ran from the first of September to said date, and the apportionments are made according to the statute, on the first of each quarter following the first day of January, we would have the school year ending with July and August unapportioned, and September commencing the next, in the same condition, thus preventing any EXACT yearly financial statement ever being possible. I am also of opinion that any and all legal debts which are properly chargeable against a school district should be paid TO THE EXTENT OF ALL funds properly apportioned to such district during such financial year as hereinbefore indicated, and that any and all debts incurred during such year which are in excess of such funds, can never be paid out of any money subsequently apportioned thereto.

Very respectfully,
HENRY RIVES,
January 16, 1884.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Bullionville, January 18, 1884.

EDITOR RECORD: For some months past I have been the victim of your mischief-making female correspondent, inasmuch as the authorship of her articles are by many attributed to me. Now, if there is any one thing I dislike more than another, it is to be wrongfully charged with something that I am innocent of. When I was writing for your paper, I did not try to disguise my personality behind the cloak of a non-descript, but boldly stated my convictions, irrespective of parties, creeds and conditions; and, in fact, so severely did I censure all parties guilty of wrong-doing, that it was often remarked, that I did not even condone the faults of friends, but showed them up in their true light. In view of these facts, I cannot see how any person can be so unreasonable as to blame me for this young lady's writings, for when I was at Salt Lake, and out at Jackrabbit, she kept sending your paper her weekly badget of news; and it seems to me, also, that any one conversant with the English language could tell at a glance the difference between her silly gabble, and my writing. Of course I do not ask, or expect, that you will betray your lady correspondent, but I do think that some people ought to have sense enough to lay the blame where it properly belongs.

Yours respectfully,
J. C. KELLY.

PANACA, January 16, 1884.

MR. EDITOR: In your issue of the 12th inst. the Panaca school is misrepresented, and the public is falsely informed. To correct this misinformation is the object of this article.

First. The "Book of Mormon" has not been used in our public school, at any time while I have been teacher.

Second. The "Book of Mormon" has not been referred to in any way, in school, to prove either old or new revelation.

Third. We use no books in our public school, only those prescribed by the State, nor is there any sectarian doctrine taught. To these statements I am prepared to make affidavit.

Further, I challenge your scribbler to prove, by affidavit, giving time and circumstance, when the Book of Mormon was used as stated, or stand a self-confessed falsifier.

A. M. FINDLAY, Teacher.

A PRINTER'S DREAM.

A printer sat in his office chair. His boots were patched and his coat threadbare, and his face looked weary and worn with care. While sadly thinking of business debt, old Morpheus slowly around him crept; and, sleeping, he dreamed that he was dead, from trouble and toil his spirit had fled, and that not even a cowbell tolled, for the peaceful rest of his cowhide sole. As he wandered about among the shades that smoke and scorch in the lower hades, he slowly observed an iron door, that creaking hung on hinges ajar, but the entrance was closed with a red-hot bar, and Satan himself stood peeping out, and watching for travelers thereabout, and thus to the passing printer spoke: "Come in, my dear, it will cost you nothing, and never fear—this is the place where I cook the ones who never pay their subscription sums; for though in life they may escape, they will find when they're dead it is too late; I will show you the place where I melt them in, with red-hot chains and seraps of tin, and also where I comb their heads with broken glass and melted lead, and if of refreshments they only think, there's boiling water for them to drink; there's the red-hot grindstone to grind down his nose, and the red-hot rings to wear on his toes, and if they mention they don't like fire, I sew up their mouths with red-hot wire; and then, dear sir, you should see them squirm, while I roll them over to cook to a turn." With these last words the printer awoke, and thought it all a practical joke, but still at times so real did it seem that he cannot believe it was all a dream, and often he thinks with a chuckle and grin, of the fate of those who save their tin and never pay the printer.

WHEN the Mormons first came in from Utah for the purpose of tearing up the track for removal, many remarks were made as to the low wages they received—$1 1/2 per day. Those who have seen these men engaged at work now say that they, at that price, receive about $1 per day more than they earn.
