THE TWO-HEADED GIRL.

A Queer Case Which Came Before a New York Lawyer.

In the way of twins, says a New York letter to the Buffalo Express, you have probably seen the so-called two-headed girl, Millie-Christine, consisting of two negroes joined together by nature much more compactly than were the famous Siamese twins.

"But no case was ever presented to me that was easier to decide, and yet more curiously novel," the lawyer recently said to me, "than that of Millie-Christine. The death of Dick Fitzgerald, through whose show agency much of the business of the museums was done, recalls this matter, which came to me about a year ago, but has never been published. Fitzgerald called at my office with a letter from Millie-Christine requesting me to find out whether, if they were to marry one and the same man, it would constitute bigamy in the eye of the law.

A GREAT MONEY-SAVER.

How Old Commodore Vanderbilt Once Saved Five Cents.
My pet Commodore Vanderbilt was a money getter and a money-saver," said an old Wall street operator to a select group of young men who were watching the tape in a down-town office.

WORKING CLASSES

ATTENTION We are now prepared to furnish all classes with employment at home, the whole of the time, or for their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $5.00 per evening, and a proportional sum by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn nearly as much men. That all who see this may send their address, and test the business, we make this offer. To such as are not well satisfied we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars and outfit free. Address GEORGE SIMMONS & Co., Portland, Maine.
