LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.
For fine family liquors, call at the Palace.
Mrs. Julia McFadden returned from Salt Lake on Saturday's stage, after a month's visit there.

The primary department of the public school closed Friday and the grammar school will close on next Wednesday.

The house of S. E. Wertheimer has secured the exclusive handling for this section, of the celebrated McFadden whisky.

Fancy ice cold drinks at the Palace.
If silver is not remonetized look out for a commercial earthquake.—Homer Eder.

Twenty teams on their way to Ferguson district, to load with ore, camped at Bennett Springs Monday night.

The only cold air refrigerator in town is at Wertheimer's sample rooms and all honors are correspondingly cold.

There is not an idle man or boy, who wish to work, in town. Pioche is certainly not the worst place in the country.

Salt Lake Beer at Thompson's, at the low price of $2.50 for a dozen bottles.
She was plump and beautiful, and he was wildly fond of her; she hated him, but woman like she strove to catch him. He was a sea.—Ex.

Alex. Thompson has just received a carload of Salt Lake Bottled Beer, Soda and Sarsaparilla, which he is rapidly disposing of.

China Dick has another claim in Ferguson district for which he has been offered a good sum, but the offer has no temptations for Dick.

Step in and keep cool at the Palace.
This is the longest day in the year, and it has been about the roughest one in this section—a howling wind and clouds of dust since early till do wrens eve.

Mining Location Notices for sale at this office.
A schedule for the arrival and departure of the Milford mail has finally been arranged. It will hereafter arrive daily, except Monday, at 6:30 p. m., and depart daily, except Sunday, at 8:30 p. m.

Apply kerosene with a rag when you are about to put your stove away for the summer, and it will prevent them from rusting. Treat farming implements in the same way before laying them aside in the fall.

Alex. Thompson is providing for the wants of the people of Pioche during the warm weather, having just received a carload of Salt Lake Beer, Soda and Sarsaparilla, which he is disposing of at $2.50 for a dozen bottles.

Stewbees are selling at wholesale in New York for two and three cents a quart. In Pioche they would bring just now a dollar a quart. But New York has thousands of persons to whom three cents is more than a dollar is to the resident of Pioche.

The celebrated McFadden whisky is the finest in the world. Families supplied. S. E. Wertheimer, has the sole handling of this famous whisky.

A number of teams loaded with merchandise for our merchants arrived during the week from Milford and all departed loaded with ore for the Salt Lake smelter. Freight in this section of country is a paying business.

If you want a dozen bottles of assorted Soda or Sarsaparilla at $2.50, call at Thompson's.

Herman Prudential, County Assessor, now in the southern part of the county, sent a box of luscious apricots to friends in town. In his liberality he did not forget Tax Record force. Thanks, Herman, and may your shadow (which is of pretty good size now) never grow less.

The finest bar liquors in the country are dispensed over the Palace bar.
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Godbe were up from Bullionville Monday, visiting relatives. Mrs. Godbe had a narrow escape from serious injury at Bullionville, Sunday. She was riding in a road wagon when the wheels struck some obstruction and she was thrown out on the ground, one of the wheels passing over her body. Fortunately the wagon was a light one, and Mrs. Godbe escaped with a few slight bruises.

The Palace is the coolest and pleasantest resort in town.

Mike Cohen is now a full fledged officer of the county, having been appointed a deputy sheriff by Sheriff Turner.

Sheriff Turner is now in Meadow Valley Wash, looking after the affairs of the Colburn estate, of which he is administrator.

A clergyman has discovered a remedy against the plague of flies—and a very simple and pleasant one—namely, a window-garden of geraniums and calceolarias.

Angus McMaster, who was last year foreman of the Magnolia mine at Ferguson, is now in Beaver, Utah, having returned from the Henry Mountains.

A large tent ordered by Carl Schuman last January from San Francisco arrived last evening. It has been on its travels ever since, owing to the shipping clerks being ignorant of the geography of the country.

It is a mistaken idea about the nutrition of beer. Baron Liebig, the German chemist, says that as much flour as will lie on the point of a table-knife contains as much nutritive ingredients as eight pints of the best beer made.

"What a pretty dimple your boy has," said a lady while visiting a family, as she patted the hopeful on the head. To which the infant replied: "You tickle me a pretty dimple? Well, you do ought to see the one on my tummy."

W. B. Stanley, after a short visit to his home at Lake Valley, returned to Vanderbit on Saturday last. Mr. Stanley is interested with A. G. Campbell in mining property in that district and is satisfied that it will be a great camp in the near future.

A Mohave squaw took sick Thursday near the railroad hospital and was carried off to her camp to die. Fire from her funeral pyre illuminated the surging waters of the Colorado river as it winged her poor spirit to the happy hunting ground Thursday night.—Needles Eye.

JOB PRINTING in all its branches, equal in style to any, done at this office.

The White Pine News says that Supt. Jackson has his faith unshaken in the Chairman mine and the district in general, notwithstanding the sudden change of mind of Marcus Daly and other Montana men. The owners of the Chairman have again assumed control and are working their former quota of men.

In the United States Court at Carson last Friday the jury in the case of Mrs. H. M. Johnson vs. the Southern Pacific Railroad company, found a verdict for plaintiff for $25,000. The plaintiff's husband was an engineer and it was claimed lost his life on account of the negligence of the company.

The Ogden Standard says that work on the round-houses and station at Montello, the Nevada town which is to take the place of Terrace after the removal of the Southern Pacific shops to Ogden, will commence in the early part of July. Some of the buildings at Terrace will be removed to the new station.

A Mendocino county (Cal.) man has discovered a novel method of protecting his lambs from coyotes. His flock is corralled on slight elevations, around which are suspended lanterns. The positions of the lights are changed slightly every evening, and since the adoption of this plan not a single lamb has been lost from wild animals.

R. G. Schofield of the Old Timer claim has made a discovery of a ledge of great width cropping out in a number of places on the east side of the company's tunnel. The fissure represents manganese, black sulphates and free gold. A survey will be made to find out the distance to be run. The owners are greatly elated over the discovery.

A party consisting of George Warren, William Dwyer, August Werner, J. G. Brown, James Murphy and George Petty, arrived in town Friday from Vanderbilt and Goods Springs. Mr. Werner came from Goods Springs, where he has been looking after his interests in the Clementina mine and other property; and the others of the party from Vanderbilt, which they report as n. g. at present. The heat is intense and water scarce.

The editor of the Carson News has a level head. She says in her paper that the local gossip is a pest. Every camp is afflicted with one or more. If it be a female, or a male, if it is creeping, crawling creature, who first befalls and then devours; it is a caterpillar on the social tree; a big spider, that never goes out except to fetch something in. It seeks to pull down, because it cannot build up. The flames of Tophet are being prepared for all of that ilk.

Ed. T. Anderson, who came over from Cherry Creek with J. C. Raper a few days ago, was found in a dying condition in a room in Monroe's lodging house Friday morning. Dr. Davis was summoned and pronounced the man beyond medical aid and he was dead in half an hour after. An empty ounce vial, which contained laudanum, leaves no doubt that the drug was taken with suicidal intent. The unfortunate man had been suffering from brain trouble. He was a stranger in these parts. He came from the Deep Creek country. The jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to his death from an overdose of opium.—White Pine News.

A Warning.
A certain man in this town had better keep his mouth shut or he may get in trouble. He had better keep off Buchanan street. We know.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

A final meeting of citizens was held Tuesday evening to consider arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration. The programme will be in another column. The programme is a good one, and will meet with the approval of all. The races arranged for the youngsters is a new feature in this section, and we expect to see all the boys and girls in town entered for the prizes.

Although Pioche has not as many residents as in former days, still the patriotism of those who are left has not diminished, and the coming Fourth will be celebrated with a greater enthusiasm than ever before.

A Car Load of Wood Burned.
For the past few days the locomotive of the P. C. Co. has been engaged in hauling wood to the top of the hill near the Raymond & Ely works, for use in the Yuba mine. At half-past twelve Tuesday the wood on one of the cars was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was immediately given and the fire department promptly responded. In a short time a stream was playing on the burning wood, but the fire had attained such headway on account of a stiff breeze which was blowing, that all of the wood and the car, besides a few cords alongside the track, were consumed.

About twelve cords altogether were destroyed. The loss will be about $400. A spark from the locomotive is supposed to be the cause of this fire.

It is suggested that the P. C. Co. buy a new spark-arrester for that locomotive or else keep it hoisted during dry weather.

ANOTHER FIRE AND A BIG SCARE.
To-day at noon, when the wind was blowing a hurricane, our citizens were startled by the ringing of the fire alarm bells and the blowing of the locomotive whistle. In a moment a crowd of excited people were in the streets inquiring where the fire was, and it was a great relief when it was learned that it was only some brush at the head of upper Main street, at the same point where the wood was burned Monday. It appears that that fire was not completely extinguished and the smouldering embers were fanned into a flame by the high wind, igniting the brush on the hillside. The department responded promptly and extinguished the fire, to the relief of all.

HELENE NOTES.
Ten four-horse teams loaded ore from the Monitor last Saturday.

Last Sunday the Jim Crow connected with the Monitor. Both mines are looking splendid.

Mr. Cohen came over from Hiko Monday. He reports everything north very quiet at present.

J. A. Clark came in on Saturday's stage on business connected with the Jim Crow mine.

Doc Meeks made a flying trip here Friday and returned to Pioche Saturday. Doc's trip was all business.

The Magnolia has started up again. The Ferguson brothers and Charles Garrett come from Hiko to take charge.

Mr. Reed and wife are now living in town. Mr. Reed has rented the saloon formerly owned by Brown & Warren.

Wm. Culverwell and Joe Conway came in Saturday from Meadow Valley Wash to settle the account of Wm. McCowan.

The Flagstaff is improving with every foot of development. Two men are now working, but it is the intention of the owners to shortly increase the force.

George Petty came in on Monday's stage. He has some good claims which he is going to work this summer. He says that Vanderbilt is a good place for a poor man to stay away from.

Wm. Bailey, who has been working in Cedar for the year, left Monday for New York and Vanderbilt districts, where he has some good mining claims, which he will work this summer. Uro.

Wonderful Discovery, or a Fish Story
The Walker Lake Bulletin publishes an account of the discovery of a subterranean river in Nye county by a man named John L. Oberdorfer. It is supposed to be a subterranean waterway that probably drains the State, and may prove to be capable of furnishing enough water to supply the wants of the people. It has long been a mystery what became of our sunken rivers. Now it is probably explained by the discovery of a huge subterranean tunnel. The discoverer explored the river for a distance of two miles. The average width of the stream is about 100 feet, and from bank to bank is over 200 feet. Mr. Oberdorfer saw in the stream some fine trout, and caught one eight inches long. He is making preparations for a further exploration.

A Cook Book Free.
"Table and Kitchen" is the title of a new cook book published by the Price Baking Powder Company, Chicago. Just at this time it will be sent free if you write a postal mentioning THE RECORD. This book has been tried by ourselves and is one of the very best of its kind. Besides containing over 400 receipts for all kinds of pastry and home cookery, there are many hints for the table and kitchen, showing how to set a table, how to enter the dining-room, etc.; a hundred and one hints in every branch of the culinary art. Cookery of the very finest and richest, as well as of the most economical and home-like, is provided for. Remember "Table and Kitchen" will be sent, postage prepaid, to any lady sending her address (name, town and State) plainly given. A copy in German or Scandinavian will be sent if desired. Postal card is as good as letter. Address: Price Baking Powder Co., Chicago, Ill.

AN OLD TALENTED REVIV'D.

A PIE Ending of Jim Harrington, who Killed John Lynch in Pioche in 1873.

A dispatch from Wallace, Idaho, says "that James Harrington was shot and probably fatally wounded by R. A. Cunningham, a cook, on the 10th inst. Harrington kicked a dog belonging to Cunningham, and in the trouble resulting from the kick, Harrington was shot. Harrington is a desperate man, formerly from Virginia, Nevada, and has the reputation of having killed ten or twelve men. His only regret now is that his gun was a borrowed one and would not run readily."

There is a strange coincidence connected with the affair, as here in Pioche in 1873, in trouble which grew out of the kicking of a dog, Harrington killed John Lynch, who kept a restaurant on Meadow Valley street. THE RECORD of July 8, 1873, gave an account of the killing of Lynch and the cause which led to it. "A man named Schoonmaker was in the restaurant, having with him a small dog. While there Harrington, Con. Sullivan and Edmund O'Neill came in; Sullivan took hold of the dog and in playing with it, hurt the animal. Schoonmaker expostulated with him, when he apologized, saying he had no intention of hurting the dog. When the parties got out on the sidewalk, O'Neill upbraided Sullivan, saying he was a d-d coward to apologize about hurting a dog. Schoonmaker made some reply, which drew an offensive remark from O'Neill, and Schoonmaker struck him. The parties clinched, and then Harrington, who seems not to have had anything to do with the first difficulty, opened fire with a six-shooter. One of the shots entered the brain of Lynch, another entered his shoulder, O'Neill was struck in the hip, Schoonmaker in the side, and Sullivan in the wrist."

The RECORD said in relation to the popular feeling over the shooting: "When on Sunday morning the news was heard, a profound sensation was created. People began to wonder if there was ever to be an end to the reckless use of firearms in the streets of the town. The propriety of taking steps outside the forms of law for the preservation of order and the protection of the lives and property of the people was freely discussed."

"The man by whose hands the shooting was done is regarded as a dangerous fellow, and has killed three men before."

At that time Pioche had within its limits probably as hard a gang of villains as ever came together in a mining camp. A day that a murder or shooting affair did not occur was considered a very quiet one. Even with this condition of affairs the killing of Lynch appears to have created a great deal of excitement for a short time, but was forgotten in a day or two by other tragedies.

Harrington was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment, but was pardoned after a short term of imprisonment, and next was heard of in Virginia City, where in 1876 he murdered in cold blood a miner named John Sullivan. For this crime he was sentenced to twenty years imprisonment. The Chronicle says he was pardoned about two years ago, and his whereabouts were not generally known until the news of the recent shooting was received. It is probable the wounds he received in Wallace has put an end to his earthly career.

F. & A. M. Grand Lodge.
At the annual communication of the Grand Lodge F. & A. M. at Reno last week the following elective and appointive officers of the Grand Lodge for the ensuing year were chosen:

John E. Jones, Grand Master, Eureka; Phil A. Doyle, Deputy Grand Master, Carson; Jno. C. Hazlett, Senior Grand Warden, Dayton; Enoch Strother, Junior Grand Warden, Virginia; H. L. Fish, Grand Treasurer, Reno; C. N. Noteware, Grand Secretary, Carson; Albert Lackey, Grand Chaplain, Gold Hill; Trammor Coffin, Grand Orator, Carson; Harvey V. Randall, Grand Marshal, Silver City; W. W. Stephens, Grand Standard Bearer, Dayton; S. S. Sears, Grand Bible Bearer, Eiko; Stewart Logan, Grand Sword Bearer, Gold Hill; R. H. Kinney, Senior Grand Deacon, Reno; W. H. Tully, Junior Grand Deacon, Virginia; T. W. Pettie, Grand Pursuivant, Genoa; Jno. Shoemaker, Grand Steward, Eureka; B. H. Reymers, Grand Steward, Mason Valley; J. H. Eppworth, Grand Organist, Dayton; L. J. Flint, Grand Tyler, Reno.

The next annual communication of the Grand Lodge will be held in Virginia City on the second Tuesday in June, 1894.

The following were elected officers of the Grand Lodge: Royal Arch Masons: J. W. Eddley, W. H. P.; R. H. McKinney, D. G. H. P.; Stewart Logan, G. E.; Trenmor Coffin, G. S.; C. A. Bragg, G. T.; C. N. Noteware, G. S.; William Southwell, G. O. H.; George Bryson, G. R. A. C.

The Secretary of the Grand Lodge reports a loss of twenty-three members in the last year, caused by many persons from the mining towns leaving the State.

Frosted fancy drinks at the Palace.

NEVADA NOTES.

According to the last census the population of Virginia City has decreased 1,600 in three years.

A recent arrival from Candelaria informed a Reno Journal reporter that but seven men are left in that town.

The News says Carson people have secured the establishment of the Nevada Keeley Cure Institute in that town.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows met in Carson Tuesday and the Grand Encampment held its initial session the evening of the same day.

R. C. Blossom being the lowest bidder, the county printing was awarded the Central Nevada for the sum of seventy-five cents per square of ten lines.

Thomas S. McAvin, one of the oldest residents of Cornucopia and this section, died last Saturday after a week's illness from lung trouble. His funeral took place Monday and was largely attended.—Times Review.

Colonel F. C. Lord received a letter this morning from Adjutant General J. Poujade, in which it was stated that Governor Colquhoun had decided not to call out the Nevada militia for encampment duty this year.—Virginia Chronicle.

The Silver State says: It will be remembered that in the late Rocklin fire a young lady by the name of Miss Alice Irish was burned to death in the Davis hotel. It was thought that she could not make her escape out of the burning building, but it has since been ascertained that she was locked in her room and the hotel set fire to by a waiter whose attention she had disregarded.

The projectors should hurry up the building of the proposed railroad through Eastern Nevada. A trans-continental railroad operating through this section of the State would not only prove a profitable investment to the owners of the line, but would also help to open up one of the richest mineral and agricultural sections in America. It is true that water is scarce in many places, but it could undoubtedly be had by sinking artesian wells to fill up the gap.—Belmont Courier.

MINING NOTES.
After paying all expenses for May Con. Cal. Virginia has $92,169.48 on hand.—Chronicle.

The White Hills Company want miners, wages $3 per day, board $1 per day, water 50 cents per barrel, wood $11 per cord and other things in proportion.—Mohave Miner.

The San Francisco Chronicle says one invariable rule may be laid down and that is that not one prospector in a hundred ever becomes rich from a mine he discovers himself.

The Mount Diablo mine at Candelaria closed down for an indefinite period. We are informed that the cost of producing silver was so great that it left no margin for the owners.—Mason Valley Tidings.

From all over the world there is a great demand for isinglass stone. There are a number of mica mines in Nye and other portions of Nevada that could be made profitable since that mineral is in such demand.—Belmont Courier.

Another mining boom is on in Colorado. The new strikes are made about 50 miles from Creede, on the divide between Creede and Silverton. The new camp is called Bear Creek. Snow is deep there yet, but a stampede is setting in.

Rumors from the Oeur d'Alene country, Idaho, say that trouble is brewing again between the union and non-union miners, and an out-break may occur at any time. The miners are determined to run the non-union men out of the country.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says that men are guarding a precious spot of earth in the O'Kanogan district of Washington with Winchester because a seven pound piece of gold ore contained two pounds of pure gold—that is to say of the value of $175,000 a ton.

The Old Reliable is now enjoying what some people would call a boom. Not only the ore producing properties of the camp are growing richer and more extensive, but prospectors are daily developing new claims and bringing to light new and promising bodies of ore in all parts of the camp.—Bingham (Utah) Bulletin.

At a meeting of Fraser & Chalmers Mining Machinery Co. recently, the chairman stated that during the depression in mining in this country, in 1892, the company had been unable to earn a dividend, and that business had fallen off greatly. Fifteen customers bought in 1891 less than one-quarter of what they bought in 1890, and in 1892 they bought less than one-tenth.

A prominent Mesa Cityite desires that the Gazette should warn prospectors that there aren't the Superstition mountains no claims as yet discovered that warrant any such rush as has been coming in for the past several weeks. There are a number of very good free gold leads, but even the best of a quartz country is hardly the one to sustain much of an influx.—Phoenix Gazette.

A STRANGE PROCESSION.

It was a strange procession, probably unparalleled in history, which wound through the avenue of Jackson Park among the palaces of the great World's Fair at Chicago, last Friday, in honor of the anniversary of the Battle of Bonker Hill. In front of these evidences of the flower of civilization walked representatives of the most untutored savages, gathered from the four corners of the earth and the islands of the sea, intermingled with representatives of the oldest civilizations and other queer outlandish people. The denizens of that motley fall, Midway Plaisance, turned out in full force. Warriors of every clime, from United States regulars who headed the procession, to the Dahomayan Amazons, filed by, intermingled with Oriental dancing girls, South Sea Islanders, Algerians, Bedouins, Turks, Egyptians, Esquimaux, camels, baboons, donkeys and trained wild beasts, making such a turnout as never gathered even the triumph of the victorious Roman General returning from conquest.

The Puylog Mine.
A dispatch from San Diego says: Henry Siebold has returned from the desert, whither he went a few days ago with old man Ingram to more definitely locate the Puylog mine, which Ingram recently discovered. The extreme heat overcame Ingram, who came back, and Siebold, being unacquainted with the country, after going on some miles further, abandoned his object. When the summer heat is over they will make a new expedition. Mrs. Ingram stopped at the edge of the desert.

Born.
At White River, Nev., June 14th, 1892, to the wife of Stewart McAnnis, a son.

PROCESSION.
Procession will form at 10 a. m., at Court House, with Marshal and Aids, and Band. March with Car of State along Laour street, up Meadow Valley street, along Cedar street, and down Main street to Thompson's Opera House.

Meeting called to order by the President of the Day, with remarks: Music by the Band.

"Star Spangled Banner," by the Choir. Reading of the Declaration of Independence.

Song, "Red, White and Blue." Music by the Band. Poem.

Song, "Sword of Banker Hill." Oration.

Song, "America," Choir. Music by the Band.
