

Pioche Weekly Record

THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1893.

Arrival and Departure of Mails

PIOCHE AND MILFORD. Arrives Sundays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6:30 a. m.

PIOCHE AND ELY. Arrives Tuesday and Saturday, at 6:45 p. m.

PIOCHE AND HELENE. Arrives Tuesday and Saturday, at 6:00 p. m.

PIOCHE AND HIKO. Arrives Tuesday and Friday at 6:00 p. m.

POSTOFFICE HOURS. 8 A. M. TO 7 P. M.

No money orders issued or letters registered after 6:30 p. m. and none on Sundays.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Dave Wertheimer is here from Helene, on a visit.

Attention is called to the notice "Strayed or Stolen," in another column of to-day's RECORD.

Salt Lake Beer at Thompson's, at the low price of $2.50 for a dozen bottles.

C. J. Bookwitz, the jovial individual who supplies this section of country with liquid merchandise, was in town last week.

If you want a dozen bottles of assorted Soda or Sarsaparilla at $2.50, call at Thompson's.

Henry Welland's mine at Highland is improving as depth is attained.

The hall of the Bachelors to-morrow evening promises to be one of the enjoyable events of the season.

The drift from the Meadow Valley No. 3 to connect with the Masepas shaft was finished Saturday morning.

Alex. Thompson has just received a carload of Salt Lake Bottled Beer, Soda and Sarsaparilla, which he is rapidly disposing of.

Miss Minnie Carman returned Wednesday from an extended visit to California.

Malarial and other atmospheric influences are best counteracted by keeping the blood pure and vigorous with Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Alex. Thompson is providing for the wants of the people of Pioche during the warm weather, having just received a carload of Salt Lake Beer, Soda and Sarsaparilla, which he is disposing of at $2.50 for a dozen bottles.

The papers of incorporation of the Keystones mine have been received at the Recorder's office.

Venus, after an absence of nearly a year, is now the evening star, and may be seen in the early evening in the West.

W. B. Stanley was in town Saturday from Vanderbilt and Good Springs.

We have received a copy of "Irrigation in Southern California," an interesting publication.

The Beaver Utonian says the vast area of salt grass land below Milford has been found suitable for the raising of oats.

All parties intending to take part in the anniversary ball of the Bachelor Brotherhood to-morrow evening, are requested to be present at the Opera House at 8:30 o'clock prompt.

Information Wanted. THE RECORD is in receipt of the following letter:

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 17, 1893. EDITOR RECORD—Dear Sir:

I have been informed that one Theodore Snell was in your town last winter.

I have addressed letters to him, but he received no reply.

Yours truly, O. P. WILLES, Pharmacist.

P. S.—He was last heard from in Eureka, Nev., four years ago.

now in the place, and the once busy camp is as silent as a graveyard.

The Needles (Cal.) Eye has suspended publication.

W. J. Dooley, County Treasurer, is expected to return on to-morrow morning's Milford stage.

It is rumored that Mr. E. Tanner, county selectman, will erect a large general mercantile establishment at Milford.—Beaver Utonian.

The United States coins fixed by Congress in 1786 were the gold eagle and half-eagle, the silver dollar, half-dollar, quarter, dime, and half-dime.

Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers is the best, handiest, safest, surest, cleanest, most economical and satisfactory dye ever invented.

The women of Hiawatha, Kans., are raising funds to send all of the drunkards of that town to the Keeley cure, and they expect to have peace and happiness in the town by the operation.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

This is the grape season and people should be careful as to the manner of eating the fruit.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand, of whom 232 are Europeans.

Silver Men Hopeful

Congressman Cannon Paralyzes the Gold Bugs!

Silver .75 5-8, with an Upward Tendency.

Special to THE RECORD. NEW YORK, Aug. 24, 1893.

Silver 0.75%. Local men are confident that 0.80 will be reached in a short time.

Special to THE RECORD. WASHINGTON, Aug. 24, 1893.

During the last few days silver men in Washington felt as if the silver forces were being depleted; but yesterday in the House, Cannon of Illinois paralyzed the gold-bugs by declaring opposition to the repeal of the Sherman law.

Hill, of New York, speaks in the Senate to-morrow. Silverites are hopeful of the final result.

HELENE NOTES. C. R. Crandall a mining man, has been quite ill, but is now convalescent.

Charles Morris, who has a bond on the Sunbeam, arrived Monday to make the final payment.

Four men are working in the Magnolia and the mine looks as well or better than it did a year ago. All that is needed is a mill to work the ore.

Six men are employed on the Flagstaff. A drift is being run to tap the shaft a hundred feet below the shaft. Assays run $25 in gold and 100 cent in silver.

Doc Meeks has enrolled all the names of the men in the district. There are sixty-five men in the April Pool canyon, Helene and Golden. It is estimated that there is one hundred and ten men in the district.

Wm. Maynard has about finished cleaning the road between Bennett Springs and Helene. Mr. Maynard has made a fine road to travel. We hope that there will be no more kicking about the road.

The Jim Crow is looking better as work progresses. The drift is one hundred and eighty feet and ore has been struck within sixty feet of the shaft. The whole face of the drift is in ore. Six men are working on the mine.

Monday, Dan Roeder sued John Patcher for six dollars. Before doing so Patcher promised that he would pay before night, but Roeder sued for the six dollars, notwithstanding, making it cost Patcher $16.00. Such is life in the far West.

Last Tuesday night about ten o'clock a man entered the cabin of John Vistica and stole a saddle and shot gun. The fellow had never grabbed John by the leg and pulled him out of bed. John thinking that it was one of the boys, crept back into bed and went to sleep. He now thinks that the robber is a fellow by the name of Will Pratt, better known as "Race Horse Pratt." All that John wants is his saddle and the fellow can have the gun. After the above occurrence, D. H. Bertoni's place was broken into and about twenty dollars worth of clothing stolen. It is supposed that Pratt is the fellow that robbed this place also.

Mr. Reeves left for Pioche Sunday after supplies for the April Fool mine. The mine never looked better than it does now and the scribe hopes to see a mill there before fall. H. P. S.

Death's Dolinga. N. H. Carlow, one of the old residents of Lincoln county, died at the residence of his son George, in Pioche, last Monday morning. The deceased came to this section of the country in the 60's and filled the office of County Assessor in the year 1870-1. During the past four years he has resided at Panama, and came here only a few weeks ago. He was 80 years of age. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon, the remains being followed to the grave by a large number of friends.

Intelligence has been received here of the death of Mrs. John O'Connor, at Spanish Fork, Utah, on the 17th inst. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor were married in Pioche about three years ago, and resided here until last fall when they removed to Salt Lake. For some time the health of Mrs. O'Connor had been failing, and she was at the home of her parents, at Spanish Fork at the time of her death, which came unexpectedly.

Grand Lodge A. O. U. W. The Grand Lodge A. O. U. W. of the Nevada jurisdiction met at Reno last week. There was a good representation. The following Lodges were unrepresented: Anchor No. 12, Mason Valley; Lakeview No. 17, Hawthorne; St. Elmo No. 22, Lovelocks; Uphurch No. 24, Wadsworth; Pioche No. 26, Pioche.

The following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing term: Grand Master Workman, W. L. Taylor; Grand Financier, C. B. Zabriskie; Grand Overseer, E. M. Reynolds; Grand Recorder, J. A. Hantoon; Grand Receiver, F. M. Edmunds; Grand Guide, M. G. Cecil; Grand Inside Watchman, Wm. Mooney; Grand Outside Watchman, G. A. Fletcher; Trustee, long term, H. W. Hand; short term, C. A. LaGrave.

It was decided to hereafter hold only biennial sessions, and the next Grand Lodge will meet at Winnemucca on the second Wednesday in May, 1895. The reports show that there are 1246 members in the State; that the jurisdiction is in a healthy condition, having $2,600 in the general fund.

YELLOW PINE DISTRICT.

The Mining and Scientific Press of the 19th inst., contains the following:

J. V. Keeley, formerly of Pioche, Nev., is in San Francisco in the interest of mines in Yellow Pine district, Lincoln county, Nevada. If the old Nevada theory still holds good that a mining camp is no account unless it is hard to get at, then Yellow Pine is possessed of claims to distinction, for it is very difficult of access. At present the nearest way is by rail from San Francisco to Blake's station on the A. & P. road, in San Bernardino county, thence to Vanderbilt thirty-five miles, and north-east fifty-five miles further to Yellow Pine.

The Nevada Southern railroad, a Denver corporation, is building through the district and extending northward. Mr. Keeley finds Colorado men more disposed to develop that country than are residents of San Francisco. So far, Denver capital has been solely invested to the exclusion of San Francisco capitalists, though every dictate of business suggests that to this city the output should come.

The country rock is mostly lime, badly broken up and bidding defiance to the theories of formationists, porphyry dikes intervening in every direction. The ore, chiefly red oxide, from the Keystone, Clementine and other mines, averages an assay of $325 in gold. The former mine has shipped seventy tons to Denver with very satisfactory results. On this trip Mr. Keeley brought fifty tons to San Francisco at an expense of $80 per ton. The returns were fully up to the average.

So far nothing but free milling ore has been touched, but the whole country is full of base ore enough to run half a dozen smelters for an indefinite period. The climate is something awful. Nothing but sharp, shining sand and brilliant sunshine, the thermometer ranging from 90 degrees to 120, water of four cents a gallon and everything to eat, drink or use packed fifty miles through sand and hot deep, make an undesirable combination.

But the gold is there, and lots of it, and with due encouragement on the part of capital Yellow Pine district will bring back to Lincoln county the old-time prestige of the days when the Ely district was pouring hundreds of thousands of dollars monthly dividends into this city.

THE PEAR AND CHERRY SLUG. [Newspaper Bulletin No. 8.] Each year at about this season the leaves of the pear and cherry trees are attacked by great numbers of small dark-colored slimy worms presenting different sizes, owing to their varying ages. These are the young of a small black "saw-fly," so called because of its habit of sawing a slit in the leaf within which its egg is deposited. The insect is injurious only in its younger or larval stage, the only one in which it is commonly observed. The eggs are placed within the substance of the healthy leaf near the upper surface. The young larva on hatching, breaks through the leaf skin and at once begins to feed upon the green tissues of the leaf, leaving untouched the framework which is more woody in texture. This continues for two or three weeks during which the growing larva casts its skin several times. Usually all excepting the last of the cast skins are eaten, the final casting being left adhering to the leaf. The nearly mature worm is somewhat less than a half inch in length and is enlarged near the head, which reminds one of a young tadpole. The color is dark olive. The most peculiar and characteristic feature is the slimy condition of the skin, owing to which the term "slug" has been applied. This slimy skin is replaced at the final moult by one of light yellow in color. The appearance of this stage is soon followed by the descent of the larva into the ground, where it remains between two and three weeks within a silken cocoon. The mature females on emergency lay eggs for a second brood. Between the periods of the two broods is a period when very few if any of the worms can be found, but individuals of the second brood may be found until late in Autumn.

These worms yield to treatment most readily. Owing to the tender nature of their bodies, a true poison is unnecessary in destroying them. Almost any moderately caustic liquid which will not injure the foliage will destroy them by simply contact. Of those of this nature that have been proved valuable and only moderately expensive may be mentioned tobacco decoction, kerosene emulsion, buhach and white hellebore. Common road dust sifted upon the trees when the worms are plentiful will destroy very many of them. They are thus killed by the closing of their breathing pores by the dust. The buhach and white hellebore should be applied in liquid form. These being vegetable products, no injury to the tree will follow.

Illustrated Bulletin No. 10 of this Station relates to this subject and may be had on application.

F. H. HILLMAN, Agricultural Experiment Station, Reno, Nev., Aug. 11, 1893.

CANNOT BE REPEALED.

There is no doubt about the Senate having at least a majority of 10 against the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law, even if it should pass the House.

Cleveland will be thwarted in his infamous designs against silver and the interests of the people