LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Dave Wertheimer will leave in the morning for Helene.

The Board of County Commissioners will meet next Monday.

J. C. Lynch, of Desert Springs, was in town during the week.

Peter Edwards and family of Lake Valley, have removed to Bingham, Utah.

Salt Lake Beer at Thompson's, at the low price of $2.50 for a dozen bottles.

The anniversary ball of the Bachelors Friday evening was a most enjoyable affair.

Commissioner Edwards and County Clerk Clark departed for Helene, Monday, and returned this morning.

William White, who has been absent on a two months prospecting trip, returned here Friday.

Mrs. Fulk, Misses Ida Deck and May Roberts, Clarence and Fred McFadden, departed Sunday morning for Salt Lake.

If you want a dozen bottles of assorted Soda or Sarsaparilla at $2.50, call at Thompson's.

It is unlawful to kill quail before the 15th of next month, and persons caught at such business are liable to get themselves in trouble.

Mining Location Notices for sale at this office.

"What must precede baptism?" asked the sexton when catechizing the Sunday school. "A baby," exclaimed a bright boy with the air of one stating a self evident truth.

Misses Jennette Findlay and Josie Kiernan departed by private conveyance Wednesday. Miss Findlay will visit friends in Provo, and Miss Kiernan will enter St. Mary's Seminary at Salt Lake.

A pamphlet issued by the Keeley institute at Carson contains much information relating to the treatment and cure of the whisky, opium and tobacco habits. The pamphlet will be furnished upon application.

Alex. Thompson, who had the misfortune to sprain an ankle a few weeks ago, has nearly recovered the use of the limb. Mr. Thompson intends to visit the World's Fair next month, but doesn't want to do so on crutches.

W. J. Dooley returned Friday morning from a trip to the World's Fair and the Pacific coast. He enjoyed his vacation immensely and is now satisfied that there are larger towns than Pioche in the United States.

Alex. Thompson is providing for the wants of the people of Pioche during the warm weather, having just received a carload of Salt Lake Beer, Soda and Sarsaparilla, which he is disposing of at $2.50 for a dozen bottles.

W. S. Godbe returned to Bullionville Sunday from San Francisco, and visited Pioche Tuesday. Mr. Godbe, like all true friends of silver, feels much depressed over the action of Congress and thinks the country is on the eve of a stormy period.

Arenic and quinine are dangerous drugs to accumulate in one's system, and it is to be hoped that these poisons, as a remedy for ague, have had their day. Ayer's Ague Cure is a sure antidote for the ague, is perfectly safe to take, and is warranted to cure.

A 100-pound specimen of the ore now being taken from the Old Timer mine is on exhibition at the Reno office and is attracting a good deal of attention, notwithstanding that "pig" silver is below par. The ore is of as fine grade as any exhibited in this camp in many years. It runs away up in gold, silver and lead.

George Castropello, a miner working in the Mendha mine at Highland, had a stroke of paralysis, caused by lead poisoning, Saturday. Dr. Campbell was called and had Castropello removed to town. He is again able to be around, but it will be some time before he will fully recover from the effects of the lead.

There is no better medicine than good sleep and plenty of it, says an exchange, and many a boy and man is crippled in energy by an unwise habit of getting up too early in the morning. The American people would be happier; there would be less crime committed if people slept longer. It is time the so-called sluggard had his rights and the man who prefers his morning snooze to a morning cocktail is estimated at his proper value.

Foster predicts that a storm will cross the western mountains at the close of the 2nd of September, and a cool wave about the 4th.

Alex. Thompson has just received a carload of Salt Lake Bottled Beer, Soda and Sarsaparilla, which he is rapidly disposing of.

In a letter to Clerk W. L. Cook, Judge Judd says that a full term of court will be held commencing on Monday, September 4th next.—Beaver Usonian.

If you desire a luxuriant growth of healthy hair of a natural color, nature's crowning ornament of both sexes, use only Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Restorer.

It is stated that on the Comstock not a whistle will be heard by the 10th of next month. There are only about 200 men employed and these few cannot possibly tide over the unemployment.

The public school will open a week from next Monday. The teachers have not been selected as yet. The trustees will hold a meeting to-night, when the selection will probably be made.

N. P. Dooley, proprietor of The Lode, will leave Monday morning on an extended trip to the outside world. He will visit the World's Fair and the principal cities of the East and West.

The South is again in control of the House of Representatives. The Speaker has given chairmanships to thirty-two Southern members, while the North and West are given only twenty-three.

The Yuba has closed down, this time owing to foul air, and work will not be resumed until the connection is made with the Mazepa shaft, which work is being prosecuted through the No. 3 of the Meadow Valley group.

Alfred H. Nelson, an absconding Ogden manager of a building and loan association, has been captured at Helene, Mont. He was known as a "prominent business man," but he now occupies a prominent cell in the county jail.

Hyman is not alarmed at the condition of the silver market. Yesterday he sent some chickens to his partners who are working a prospect near the Half Moon, and intends to send them a weekly consignment of this food until silver increases in value.

A fire in South Chicago Thursday night destroyed over two hundred buildings. Four thousand people are homeless. Loss about half a million dollars. South Chicago is a manufacturing district and the buildings destroyed were the homes of workmen.

Don't buy a blood purifier because it is "cheap." The best—the superior medicine—Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is, in the end, the cheapest blood-purifier in the market. The ingredients of which it is composed are the most expensive and medicinally efficacious that can be obtained.

Lee Mantle, appointed Senator from Montana by the Governor after the Legislature failed to elect a Senator, has been refused a seat by a vote of thirty-five to thirty. This settles the fate of the Senators from Washington and Wyoming.

The jury in the case of M. B. Curtis (Sam'l O'Poen), for the murder of Policeman Grant, in San Francisco about three years ago, returned a verdict Thursday afternoon of acquittal. The jury on the first ballot stood nine to three for acquittal. This was the third trial of Curtis, the jury in the first two trials disagreeing.

The great Tabernacle choir of Salt Lake departed on Tuesday for the World's Fair. It is expected that their appearance will create a sensation. The choir is composed of 250 members. President Taylor and nearly all the high officials of the Mormon church accompanied the excursion.

R. L. Wooten, well-known throughout the West as "Uncle Dick," died at Trinidad, Colo., last week in his eightieth year. He was the greatest pioneer in America and the oldest Indian fighter in the world. He was the man who guided Kit Carson and Fremont through the Rocky Mountains.

The Virginia Chronicle announces the death of Matthew Rapson, who resided on the Comstock over thirty years. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, United Workmen and Chosen Friends. Thomas Jenkins, another old resident of the Comstock for a quarter of a century, died last week. The ailment in both cases was miners' consumption.

A short but bloody riot occurred in front of the Chicago City Hall at three o'clock Friday afternoon. Police officers and parading unemployed workmen came together, and clubs and rocks were used with serious effect but nobody was killed. When Mayor Harrison learned of the fight, he ordered that hereafter there should be no more parades nor meetings allowed.

A Scurvy Organization Exposed.

The Salt Lake Tribune publishes an expose of a secret society existing in that city organized for the express purpose of depriving Catholics of the means of earning a living or holding any office in the territory. The president is a worthless fellow named C. M. Jackson. The Tribune prints his photograph and if Jackson looks anything like the picture, he is a fit representative of such a despicable organization as that mentioned. The Tribune gives a list of some of the members, who are at present holding office under the Liberal government (and who secured their positions on account of howling "down with the Mormons") and says that such a cowardly organization is worthy of the Dark Ages rather than this century of enlightenment.

THE HOUSE VOTE TO REPEAL.

The House of Representatives on Monday repealed the Sherman Silver Purchase Act by a vote of 239 to 110. The general impression had been that the act would be repealed, but the tenor of the news from Washington for the past week was that the measure would have a majority not to exceed forty. What has brought about this great majority in its favor, is not stated. Many reasons and surmises can be given, but we will have to wait for further advice in order to learn the true reason.

The dispatch announcing the defeat of silver was received here Monday evening and fell like a pall on our citizens. The dispatch is as follows:

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28, 1893. Silver is defeated. The Wilson bill repealing the Sherman act was read at 2 o'clock. Bland offered an amendment for free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, which was defeated by a vote of yes 123, nays 227. The announcement of the result was received with great applause by the anti-silver men.

An analysis of the vote shows that a majority of the Democrats voted against free coinage. A vote on the question of free coinage at a ratio of 17 to 1 resulted in 100 yeas, 240 nays.

The amendment to re-enact the Bland-Allison act was defeated, 126 to 213. The Wilson bill was then passed by a vote of 239 to 110.

Where Are We At?

EDITOR RECORD:—What will be the condition of silver when the Sherman law is repealed? I would like to know. Yours, "PIOCHE."

With the repeal of the Sherman act the country will be practically on a gold standard. There will then be no law to maintain the parity of gold and silver—silver will be virtually demonetized.

HELENE NOTES.

T. E. Edwards and J. A. Clark came in Tuesday evening on business connected with their mines and returned to Pioche Wednesday morning.

Joseph Conway and J. Ryan are gathering their stock near Grassy Springs. Mr. Conway intends working his claims after the roads is over.

The boys on the Flagstaff are making a good showing. They are down thirty-five feet and think they are in pay ore. We hope that the statement is true.

F. and T. McMahon leave this evening for Pioche. The boys have been working on their claims and have only gone in for supplies. Their prospects show up good for what little work has been done on them.

There are ten teams on the road between Pioche and the April Pool mine coming for ore. It is reported that the April Pool boys are going to ship 100 tons of ore to Salt Lake City. This doesn't look bad for this place, even if silver is down to 75.

Mrs. W. A. Larson and family leave this week for their ranch in Meadow Valley Wash. Mrs. Liston has been stopping at Cliff Springs for the past year and now that our camp has gone down, thinks she can do better on the ranch. Mrs. Liston will be missed by the hungry travelers who always knew where to get a square meal.

A. A. Carrion is still working on Poney Springs and has a nice flow of water. He thinks that in a few weeks he will break into a young river. We hope so.

The Mines Are Not Worked Out.

EDITOR RECORD:—In your last week's issue appeared a paragraph saying that "an old resident" of Taylor had written a friend in Pioche stating that the town was played out and the mines were worked out. The town may be played out, but the mines are not worked out, I have labored for many years in the mines of that locality and know whereof I speak. Had there been more attention paid to a systematic working of these mines instead of pursuing a policy of gouging out all the ore in sight, Taylor to-day would be the equal of any camp in the country; and the idea that the mines are worked out would never enter the head of "an old resident," nor a new one either.

Yours for the facts, JOHN WHEATLEY. Remorse of Conscience.

An exchange says it has been customary ever since sheep shearing was inaugurated to "commence clipping" at the head of the animal. In passing through the country recently where a farmer was shearing sheep, the passer-by noticed that the operator commenced shearing the sheep at the reverse end. This strange proceeding caused the looker-on to inquire why he did not commence clipping at the head in accordance with the established custom. With a feeling of remorse the farmer replied that he had voted for Cleveland last fall, since which time he felt so sheepish that he had not the cheek to look a sheep in the face.

A Card.

HIKO, Aug. 28, 1893. EDITOR RECORD:—I see in your last issue, in the Helene items, that something had been stolen there and that I am accused of doing it.

Now I am going to state that on the 5th of this month I went to Helene and stayed all night, left the next morning, and have not been there since, but went from Helene to Cedar, and on the 17th I came to Fahranaqat. Ever since that time I have been working on the Eisenman ranch.

I wish every one to know where I am, so they can get me and give me a chance to exonerate myself. This is the first time I have ever been accused of theft, and those who accuse me had better prove it or drop it.

W. E. PRATT.

SOUTHERN LINCOLN COUNTY.

A Correspondent Relates Some of the Happenings in the Coming El Dorado.

LAS VEGAS RANCH, Lincoln Co., Nev., Aug. 17, 1893.

EDITOR PIOCHE RECORD:—Dear Sir: Being sojourning in this semi-tropical portion of Lincoln county, I drop you a few notes of the happenings in some of the camps, which may interest your readers.

A PROSPECTIVE GOLD CAMP.

I send you by this mail a sample of ore taken from a new gold prospect, the "Lucky Dutchman," owned by Messrs. Stewart, Wiser and Meyer. The ore assayed $32.00 in gold—no silver. The new find is 23 miles northwest of El Dorado Canyon and about 27 miles southeast of the Los Vegas Ranch. This being a comparatively unprospected region, no idea can be formed as yet as to what gold riches this portion of Lincoln county may contain. However, we know that the gold is here, and what is better still, in paying quantities. As soon as the weather moderates, the owners of the "Lucky Dutchman" intend to develop the claim, being convinced that they will add another to Lincoln county's now numerous gold camps.

EL DORADO CANYON.

El Dorado Canyon is still holding its own. The old "Tehetup" is turning out ore in quantity and quality to employ about forty men.

J. McGregor is working his gold mine and running an arasta with highly profitable results.

John Heus' new discovery near the once famous Wall Street promises well. Several other gold prospects are to be worked as soon as cool weather sets in, and notwithstanding the disheartening outlook which the slump in silver has presented to us, we are strongly inclined to believe that the new gold discoveries in this section of the county will have the tendency to alleviate matters considerably.

GOOD SPRINGS.

This camp is experiencing quite a boom just now. Sam Godby is putting up a 10-stamp mill at Mesquite Wells. Six 10-mule teams are busily engaged in hauling building material, provisions, etc., to the new millsite.

Rumor has it that a Mr. Harrison contemplates putting up a 10-stamp mill at or near Good Springs, which will give that country two 10-stamp mills. This for a starter is good enough.

We have had only meager news from across the line, i. e., Vanderbilt and New York. Only about ten or fifteen men are working now, which number will be greatly increased as soon as cool weather sets in.

With best wishes for the future welfare of THE RECORD, and with a sincere prayer for the restoration of silver to its just and right value, including free coinage, I remain yours truly,

A TRAVELER.

It is a Mistake.

HELENE, Nev., Aug. 28, 1893. EDITOR PIOCHE RECORD: I see in the RECORD of 24th inst., that your correspondent from this place says that I had enrolled the names of the men in this district and found there were sixty-five men in Helene, Golden and April Pool canyon and estimated 110 men in the district. Now that it is all a mistake, as I have done nothing of the kind. The postmaster handed me a request from a house in the East and requested me to make a list of persons receiving mail at this office, which I did, and there was 57 names in all and some of them were absent at the time but were expected back very soon. Now, a statement of that kind hurts our camp and your correspondent should get facts before he writes matters for publication.

Yours, etc., W. H. MEEK.

Judas sold his master for thirty pieces of silver; that is, thirty Roman pennies, about $4.12 1/2. One Roman penny was a good day's wages for an agricultural laborer.

Senator Vest figures out a majority of eight in the Senate against the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law, while Senator White figures that the repeal bill will pass both branches of Congress on the first ballot.

There was a terrible railroad accident on a New York railroad Sunday night, in which twenty persons were killed and half a hundred injured. Among the killed was E. A. Buck, owner of the "Spirit of the Times." Mr. Buck in 1880 invested large amounts in the city and county of Gunnison, Colo. He owned a large portion of the townsite of Gunnison and constructed quite a number of fine buildings in the place. He was also the owner of the News-Democrat, the leading paper of Western Colorado. Mr. Buck was reported as many times a millionaire and spent his money with a liberal hand. His investments in the county in the year mentioned exceeded a quarter of a million, and as the "Gunnison country" gradually went down, comparatively nothing was realized from the investment.

NEVADA NOTES.

Many of the miners laid off at Taylor are now employed on the ranches in Steptoe Valley. They are looking ahead for winter grub.—White Pine News.

Virginia hoodlums are terrorizing the people of that town and the citizens are getting a coat of tar and feathers ready for the miscreants. In all probability a hemp necktie will be added.

Hon. C. F. McGlashen of Truckee is putting his best foot forward in an endeavor to raise money to build a monument at Donner Lake on the site where the ill-fated Donner party perished.—Reno Gazette.

L. M. Giles, Past Master Workman of the A. O. U. W. of Nevada, was presented with a beautiful seed gold locket by the Grand Lodge at its recent session, upon retiring from the office of Master Workman.—Virginia Chronicle.

R. Glaydas of Hot Creek committed suicide last Saturday week. He set fire to a 30-cord pile of wood, then shot himself, fell in and was burned to a crisp. He lost his money in a silver mine and despondency made him crazy.—White Pine News.

The Chronicle says Mrs. Susan Campbell, who died in the county hospital at Reno on the 15th inst., was a relative of the famous novelist, Fenimore Cooper, and she was left an estate valued at $30,000, by John Russell, her first husband. This was squandered by Campbell, her second husband.

A young and healthy looking fellow, accompanied by a fairly well dressed young woman, were in Elko Monday morning, tramping to California. The girl asked for something to eat, but when given an order on the hotel for her breakfast would not accept it unless her husband was included.—Free Press.

The Chronicle-Union thinks Mono Co., Cal., will gain from one to three miles in width of territory by the new survey to determine the California-Nevada State line, and that Kirman & Riekey's Antelope ranch, and the Rosch, Fredericks and a portion of the Williams ranches at Sweetwater will be located in California.

The Sentinel announces the death of Captain Alexander D. Rock, which occurred at Eureka on the 17th inst. He served with distinction in the Mexican war. He later came to Nevada, then a part of Utah Territory, and located in Washoe county. He lived in Austin and Hamilton in early days and settled in Eureka in 1875 and followed his profession of surveyor.

MINING NOTES.

The copper mines at Copperopolis, Calaveras county, Cal., have closed down. About 300 men are forced into idleness, many of whom have families and had built homes at Copperopolis.

W. B. Lawler is in Cherry Creek with some Salt Lake parties, examining a gold mine belonging to Mrs. Pierce. The property, which is located near Egan canyon, is said to have considerable merit.—White Pine News.

The Knights of Labor of Vanouver, B. C., have issued a notice warning miners and mine laborers to stay away from that region, on the ground that several mines have entirely closed down, that others are working on half time, that hundreds of men are out of work and unable to leave the place, that the present conditions are deplorable and the outlook gloomy in the extreme.

At a meeting of the Virginia miners' union the committee to which was referred the proposal that a reduction of twenty-five per cent be made in the present rate of wages, reported in favor of a conference being held with the mine superintendents to consider the matter. A resolution was unanimously passed that the suggestion of the committee be ignored and that no further attention be paid to the proposition. The Storey county mechanics' union took the same action as the miners' on the wage question.

It is reported that in an interview with a San Francisco paper, Col. Sutherland stated that if the miners in Candelaria would go to work for $2 per day, operations would be resumed in the Holmes mine. If silver goes up their wages would be increased. It is a sure shot that the miners will not agree to such a flimsy proposition. Three dollars a day in Candelaria is small enough pay, even with silver at its present figure, and should it advance in price $3.50 would be none too much for that camp.—Virginia Chronicle.

The result of the deep borings with the diamond drills undertaken in the neighborhood of the Witwatersrand gold mines in the Transvaal seems to indicate that those remarkable gold deposits extend to a much greater depth than many miners have been inclined to believe, says an exchange. The main reef has been found by the drill at a depth of nearly 2,400 feet, and the cores brought up from that depth show that the ore is very nearly as rich at that depth as at the points where it is now mined near the surface.

IS CARLISLE AIDING THE CONSPIRACY?

The Denver News has been looking into the Congressional Record to see what some of those who are now advocating the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act and the adoption of the single standard had to say while in Congress on the silver question. It asks who would suppose that the present Secretary of the Treasury, while he is a member of Congress, used the following language:

According to my view on the subject the conspiracy which seems to have been formed here and in Europe to destroy by legislation and otherwise three-sevenths to one-half of the metallic money of the world is the most gigantic crime of this or any other age.

It would be of interest to the country to know how much Carlisle received for lending his aid to the perpetration of "the most gigantic crime of this or any other age."

Sad Sight.

A representative of the Virginia Chronicle recently had occasion to visit the State Prison at Carson. It was a sad sight to see poor, old men, bent with age, their snowy hair and beards matching the ashen pallor of their faces, marching in to be locked up in their cells, with their withered left hand upon the shoulder of a once trusted clerk or a prominent society leader, or upon that of a man whose hardened features betokened that he deserved his fate. But it was a harder and more pitiful sight to gaze upon, to see mere boys—children, you might say—marching in that line and bearing the stripes of disgrace upon their half formed backs.

The Courier says that eggs were quoted in the Nephi market at six cents per dozen last week.

CAUTION!

To Whom It May Concern:

All persons are hereby cautioned against purchasing a one-eighth interest in the "LUCKY STAR" Mine or Mining Claim, located in Ferguson Mining District, County of Lincoln and State of Nevada, on which David L. Wertheimer holds a mortgage. By authority from Lewis Dunlap, I tendered David L. Wertheimer all money due him by the said Lewis Dunlap for which the mortgage on the "Lucky Star" mining claim was given, and he declined to receive payment.
