LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

The hot weather still continues.

Fruit in abundance is being brought in from Utah.

DeLamar had a criminal case in the Justice's Court this week.

Hay has been very scarce the past week and new hay is now selling at $16 a ton delivered.

It is a puzzle to many why the school house portico is such a favorite resort for sweet people.

T. Downs arrived here from DeLamar on Saturday's stage. He left here Monday morning for Salt Lake City.

S. E. Wertheimer and Hans Olsen were here for several days this week and returned to DeLamar again Monday morning.

John Roeder's big freight teams are up from DeLamar and will load with shelving and other things from his store on Lacour street.

Henry Rives and H. Norris arrived here Tuesday night by private conveyance from Eureka, Nevada. They will visit DeLamar before returning.

County Assessor Freudenthal took in Clover Valley and other points east of Panaca this week. His assessment roll is rapidly nearing completion.

The Highland road from here to the point four miles west of town, is being cleaned in good shape and will make the best drive of any around here.

James Ritchie, an old-time resident of Paradise Valley, Humboldt county, committed suicide in Winnemucca recently. Financial troubles was the cause.

Mrs. John Meloy came in from their ranch in Lake Valley last Tuesday and returned the following day. Mrs. John went back with her and will make a short visit there.

"Sometimes", sighed the man who is wedded to a woman with a mind of her own, "I think my wife must take me for a pneumatic tire, the way she is blowing me up all the time."

As soon as the material arrives the school house here will be overhauled and fixed up in a first class manner. This work will delay the opening of the coming term of school several weeks.

In the class of five applicants for teacher's certificates, examined by the County Board last week, three succeeded in passing. The course of examination is in general much harder for applicants under the new system of examination than under the old method.

If the applicants at the recent teacher's examination held here, had been subscribers of the RECORD they would not have fallen in such questions as "who is the Governor of Nevada?" and "who are our representatives in Congress from this State." A full official directory is published on our third page.

After several days of threatening we received a good rainstorm Monday night. The storm was a general one and for several hours it rained hard. A good quantity of lightning accompanied by heavy thunder bolts was also observed, the lightning, in places about town where the telegraph wires are, ran around at a lively rate.

Professor Foster says the storm wave will cross the west of the Rockies county by the close of the 22nd, great central valleys on 23rd to 25th and the eastern states about 26th. In the west of the rocky mountains this disturbance will be unusually severe. A warm wave will cross the western country about the 21st, the great central valleys 23rd and the eastern states 25th. A cool wave will cross the western country about 24th, the great central valleys 26th and the eastern states 28th.

For some reason the DeLamar Lode has for the past two weeks, failed to reach us Tuesday night with the other mail from DeLamar. Is it the fault of the postmaster at Panaca or who's it? The papers leave with the mail at the same time and should certainly come through. The present route has always been a humbug and in the event of a daily mail to DeLamar it is to be hoped the authorities will change the route and have the DeLamar mail brought through the Pioche postoffice as formerly. The old route is the best and all passengers prefer it.

CALIVADA VALLEY.

This is the new name given the Pah Rump valley in southern Nye county by the Colonization Company which has been organized with headquarters in Chicago, to dispose of and to people the lands of that section.

The company will extend its operations into the Las Vegas valley in this county also. The lands of these two valleys are advertised with particular reference to their adaptability to raising fruits of all kinds. They are found to equal in this regard, any of the lands farther to the west, or in southern California, and the reason they are not already populated, is that they are hard to get to.

The Orchardist, a monthly periodical published at Chicago, devoted to garden, fruit and irrigation, has a long descriptive article in its last number, of the above valleys.

The company is no doubt organized to make money, but they have meritorious lands to sell and we wish them success. With a railroad through the country these valleys would be settled within a year. Oklahoma and other land booms contain nothing to equal them and this fact is generally admitted by those who know Pah Rump, or Calivada and other valleys of the same kind south of us.

Worth Trying.

A Utah mining man claims to have discovered a way to neutralize giant powder smoke in mines. With an ordinary fruit spray pump the foreman in the tunnel blows lime water into the hanging smoke and gases and the lime neutralizes the latter to such an extent that the tunnel is rapidly cleared, and the men may return to their work at the face. The lime water is made by slacking a small quantity of lime in a bucket of water and of the latter but a small quantity as needed at each spraying.

The next sitting of the District Court will occur here about the 28th of October.

Several loads of freight and lumber left here this week for DeLamar.

The Carson Appeal scoops its contemporaries by announcing that Mrs. Hartley's baby has cut its third tooth.

A Republican State Convention will be held in Salt Lake City on the 28th inst., for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers.

The repairs recently made to the walls of the Masonic building rendered a general renovation of the interior necessary. The work is now going on and the hall will be the neatest in the country when completed.

The general opinion is that the recent spell of warm weather here was more severe than has happened for many years. Reports of 100 degrees and upwards were common from Bullionville, DeLamar and other points.

The RECORD is in receipt of a copy of "Carlisle's Crusade Against Silver," written by H. F. Bartine, ex-Congressman from Nevada. It is a reply to Carlisle's recent speech in Kentucky against silver, and is full of unanswerable arguments in favor of the free coinage of silver.

The National Irrigation Congress which will meet next month in Albuquerque should draw a large number of delegates from this and other states. It will be a delightful opportunity to see something of New Mexico which, to many of the inhabitants of Nevada is almost a foreign country. The people of Albuquerque are making ready to entertain a big crowd.

The new settlers who have gone into the Muddy Valley during the past year show up the desirability of incorporating the waters of the Muddy River Valley for irrigating. At present the water is held by appropriation and is not handled to the best advantage. The course of the main stream overflows a considerable quantity of land, making it swampy and giving rise to it is thought, to some of the malaria which affects some of the new residents. It is proposed to take out all the water in two canals, one on each side of the valley and to distribute it so much to the acre. This method would insure a water supply for every acre of available land there. The only question appearing to be "is the present population strong enough to undertake the work."

Nevada is a good State. We want to see her prosper. Her people can do much to build it up if they will. Hospitable, chivalrous, enterprising, her men are the equals of any. In beauty refinement and Christian loveliness her women are not surpassed by those of any other State. This State has plenty of resources and its inhabitants ability, and why should we not have a prosperous State?

An incident occurred in Bodie recently in one of the public schools there, which indicates that a portion of the rising generation in that camp is likely to find itself at work at a rock pile some day. Two boys of about fourteen years of age got into a fight in the school room during school hours. One of the contestants hit the other a straight-from-the-shoulder blow, nearly knocking him out. He recovered after a moment, and reaching suggestively from his hip pocket and facing his antagonist said: "Are you heeled?" Boy No. 2 made a talk for fair play, and said that he would be in a minute. He ran out of the room and returned with a pistol in his hand.

Boy No. 1 drew his pistol from his pocket and what might have happened in another moment had not the Principal of the school arrived and disarmed the combatants, cannot be said. Both boys were expelled.—Virginia Enterprise.

The meeting of the Pleasant Hour Social Club to-night promises to be largely attended. The female orators are improving all the time.

The work of plastering the inside of Nesbitt Bros. store building is now going on.

Monday last a man named Giles was arrested on a complaint sworn out by H. H. Cooper. The case was postponed until Tuesday, when it came up in the club room of J. Lynch's. A jury of twelve was selected and after hearing the testimony, the case was submitted to them. After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The charge intended to be made against Giles was petit larceny but it was not stated at all in the complaint.

The Hawthorne Bulletin says the Silver Star mines are looking better than ever before and every day's work improves them. The mill at Douglas is not of a sufficient capacity to handle one-quarter of the output of the mines.

The murderer that was hung in San Quentin recently, was very tough on his lawyer. His only regret on the scaffold was that he had not a chance to kill the man that had defended him. He did not use a clear discretion as did the man in Virginia City who, after thanking the judge, the jury, the prosecuting attorney and the sheriff, expressing the belief that they had done as well as they could under the circumstances, still besought the Court to make his sentence as light as possible, that he might have time to get out and kill the last member of the commission that gave his attorney a license to practice law.—Virginia Enterprise.

CRIPPLE CREEK.

Colorado's Great Gold Camp.

The advance that Cripple Creek is making is wonderful. It is the most active camp in the state and the number of producing mines has increased enormously. The same is true of the number of miners at work. It is estimated that there are two hundred producing mines there now against only about thirty a year ago, and that the number of miners employed is three times as great.

It is also estimated that the output of the district this year will be $10,000,000 as against less than half that amount in 1894. From this one may form an idea of what the camp is doing. Nobody doubts now that it is one of the greatest gold camps in the world. There has been, practically, no sign of exhaustion in any established mine. Some mines that were thought to be exhausted are recognized now as good properties, the former impression having been shown to be erroneous.

Both Victor and Cripple Creek, the two principal towns in the district, are growing rapidly, and it is difficult to say which is the better of the two. At one time the latter was at a standstill, and then Victor grew in a way to cause some to think that it would outstrip its rival. But Cripple Creek men say now that their town is growing as rapidly as Victor and that it is the better place. Unquestionably both are good towns and illustrations of what may be done in a mining camp situated in the midst of a good district.

There is no estimating the advantage that such a district is to a state like Colorado. It is all the greater in view of the depression in silver mining. The fact that Colorado has a gold camp at this time producing $10,000,000 per annum tells a story to which no thoughtful person can be indifferent. It confirms what we have said so often in these columns, that Colorado is in a better condition to endure gold monometallism than any other state in the Union. The people of the East who expected that this state would be prostrated after the decline in silver mining see now that they reckoned without a clear understanding of what the resources of Colorado really are.—Denver Republican.

An anti-bloomer brigade has been organized in Norwich, New York. The boys promise not to associate with girls who wear the bloomer costume while cycling. Some curiosity exists as to what the girls will do.

During the eleven months ending May 31, 1895, as shown by a United States Treasury report, the enormous amount of 185,331,241 pounds of foreign wool was brought into the United States, free of duty, to crowd out wool raised by American flock-masters. Is it any wonder that sheep is selling in some parts of the country for fifty cents a head, and even as low as thirty cents per head.

The fishermen along the Carson, Humboldt and Truckee rivers are complaining about the voracious carp which they say is a regular hog of a fish, and eats the food of the other fish so clean that there is none left. Even catfish cannot live where carp abound, and they abound wherever planted as they spawn by the million. Not only do the carp eat up the fish food, but they devour everything else, and actually make it impossible for water fowl to live on the river. Fine trout might be raised in all these rivers if it were not for these hogfish, and how to get rid of them is now what is bothering sportsmen and fishermen.—Ex.
