Charley Lytle and Bob Clark were in town the fore part of the week.

Some extra men were put on during the past week at the Pacific tunnel.

Reno has been experiencing a number of shocks of earthquakes the past week.

Elko is to celebrate the Fourth in a fitting manner. Committees have been appointed and work on the programme will commence at once.

The Hon. Judge Talbot, Henry Rives and F. X. Murphy arrived Monday evening from Ely, where they have been attending court.

The Summit mill is now running day and night shifts. The music of its whistle is a pleasant sound to the ear, and seems more like the awakening of building.

The Roeder building on Lacour street is now dismantled, the roof and front walls having been taken down. The floor, roof and iron doors are being taken to DeLamar, where Mr. Roeder is building.

T. E. Edwards and John Purtscher were incoming passengers on Wednesday morning's stage. Mr. Edwards has been on a visit to California, while Mr. Purtscher is from a brief sojourn in Salt Lake.

The temperature rose considerably during the week and brought us from spring to summer weather with a bound. The nights, however, are cool and pleasant, blankets being a comfort.

Gene Goodrich, accompanied by his mother and her family, came in from DeLamar last evening where she has been visiting for a couple of weeks. Gene will return in a day or two.

Oscar Wilde was released from prison in England last week after serving two years on the tread-mill for immoral practices. He was offered $5,000 for a write-up of his life in prison, but refused.

Congressman Newlands has secured a change in the mail route from St. George, Utah, to St. Thomas, Nev., so as to include Overton. The mail will now leave Panaca Wednesday and Saturday at 7 a. m. and arrive at St. Thomas in thirty-six hours.

Sunday was fire-water day with the Indians at Pioche, which was the cause of some little disturbance. A fight and reckless horse-riding through our streets caused Deputy Sheriff Ewing to land two of them in jail. Some one will yet be punished for trafficking in whisky in this unlawful way. The extreme penalty will be none too much for those caught in these dealings with the Indians.

Sheriff Freudenthal and wife and T. J. Osborne and family returned to Pioche Tuesday evening. The Sheriff has had a rather lengthy trip on his annual assessing tour this spring, it being interspersed with the killing of Alvote, the Indian murderer, and the chase of Mouse, of whom Indians are still supposed to be trailing. He says he experienced the hottest weather he has known in his trip over the desert on his homeward journey.

Buyers have been going through the county of late picking up all cattle that were for sale. On the first of the week some 1,000 to 1,200 head was purchased of Swiss Bob, the Rice's, Page's and others in this immediate vicinity, by Ryan and Clark for Omaha parties, the prices ranging considerably higher than last spring, steers bringing $13, $17.50 and $20. Beef cattle will be rather scarce here this summer by the looks of things, most all the stock having been disposed of.

WANTED—SEVERAL FAITHFUL MEN OR WOMEN to travel for a possible established home in Nevada. Salary $2.00 a week and expenses. For full particulars see reference enclosed, reliable and honest $25.00. The National Star Publishing Chicago.

DISTRICT COURT.

The District Court convened at 10 o'clock yesterday, Wednesday, morning, Judge G. F. Talbot presiding.

The morning session was occupied with the calendar, and the following orders were made:

James Nesbitt vs. Wm. Davidson. Demurrer overruled and case set for trial by the court on Tuesday, June 1st, without a jury.

D. L. Wertheimer & Co. vs. Wm. Wheatley and wife. On motion of plaintiff's attorney case ordered dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

O. G. Snow vs. O. C. Brown. Demurrer overruled and case set for trial on Monday, June 31st, before the court without a jury.

Wm. Culverwell vs. Eliza Culverwell. Defendant allowed 30 days in which to file an amended answer and case continued for the term on account of illness of defendant.

Utah Coal & Iron Co. vs. Pioche Con. M. & R. Co. and E. D. Turner. Continued for the term.

F. R. McNamee vs. J. Nesbitt & Bro. Set for trial on Wednesday, June 2d, by the court without a jury.

T. E. Edwards vs. J. E. Wilson. Trial set for Friday, June 4th, without a jury.

On account of this being the season at which all are most busily occupied, and the fact that a grand jury was called at the January sitting, Judge Talbot decided not to call a grand jury at the present time. The only matter for presentation would be a case certified up from DeLamar last week, involving the larceny of three calves in Pahranagat, in which the defendants are out on bail.

In setting the calendar of civil cases, several calls were made for a jury, but on discussion these demands were waived, and all the cases will be determined before the court sitting without a jury. This will be good news to those who have been living in fear for two weeks of a possible trip to the county seat for the public good but at private expense.

Nothing of interest is looked for in court for the remainder of the week. All of next week will be occupied in the trial of cases.

FROM DeLAMAR.

Almost summer heat for the past week.

The law talent is in attendance on the District court at Pioche.

Fear of being called for jury service was the main interest manifested this week in the District court sitting.

What was asked for the DeLamar property is not known but it is supposed to have been about $5,000,000.00.

Practicing and rehearsing for the church entertainment has broken the monotony of the week for the young folks.

The heavy winter snow and spring rains have put all water points in the mountains near in good flow and a scarcity is not looked for this summer.

Culverwell Bros. are erecting a building on the south side of Lower Main street, above the People's saloon, to be used for business purposes.

The DeLamar company has several thousand cords of wood in its yards and more teams are engaged in hauling now than at any time heretofore.

A building was put up this week between the Eureka lodging house and the Justice's office on Upper Main street. It will be occupied as a law office by Mr. Jesse Root.

The value of a patented mine over one held by possession only is apparent and is realized here, as a dozen or more claims on this and the Helene side, are to be patented this season.

For "Schilling's Best" or any of Schilling's other products, go to Whitehead, Miles & Co. "Money back if you don't like it" is the motto and it's a taking one. It means pure goods.

Al. Thorne, who was forced to enter the hospital as a result of injuries sustained two weeks ago from upsetting from a wagon, is able to be about again, and we trust will soon regain his usual health.

The race mare attached to Nesbitt Bros. buggy ran away down Main St. on Sunday. The turn at the lower end was made safely and the animal brought up between two houses without injury to herself or the vehicle.

You must travel from home to hear the news. It is rumored on the outside that the fever has already appeared here this season and that four cases exist. We have not a case in town and the story is a pure fabrication.

The new machinery recently added to the DeLamar mill fails to act as smoothly as it might, and frequent stoppages are the consequence owing to hot boxes, etc. The difficulty is one common to new machinery and will soon be remedied.

The principals and witnesses in the Naid Queen townsite case returned from Carson last Saturday, coming as they went, overland. They were each and all well browned up from the 240 mile trot across the desert, which a visit in that direction occasions.

The threatened Indian outbreak in the southern part of the county has called to their homes nearly all the men from that section working hereabouts. A number of them were getting out wood for the April Fool Company. They quit almost in a body and left for home last week.

Pat O'Brien is out of luck of late. A short time ago in an accident he lost part of a finger, and on Saturday, through a similar accident in the mine, lost the tip of another. Dr. Mayo attended the wound and Pat has concluded to quit mining for the present and devote his attention to the saloon business.

The DeLamar Company is throwing into the mine, all the material of the waste dump that can be got at. Notices have been posted at the post office for the past week for contract bids to throw in all the dump material from Tunnel No. 4, up. The waste is needed to fill in old stopes and thousands of tons of waste rock have been blasted down in the mine for this same purpose.

Evidently No Sale. It looks as though the DeLamar mine and property will not immediately change ownership. The option on the property is said to have expired on the 23rd, inst. This being the case it is not probable that any further effort will be made this summer to sell. Various rumors as to the condition of the mine, have been sprung. They are good, bad and indifferent. If the best of them are to be believed however the mine is in condition to astonish the mining world with its output and may be worked "for all it is worth." The difficulty which the management experienced to keep the property open and avoid extensive caving, indicates the extent of the excavations. It is said that a seam 45 feet wide is being mined and turned directly through the mill. Few mines in the world can show a record equal to the Jim Crow and Monitor locations. If the mine is worked to the limit, additional men to the present force will be employed and DeLamar town will thrive for several years to come.

PANACA POINTS. The weather is hotter than ever known at this time of the year.

Wren Heaps has been elected "water boss" by a large majority.

The ice cold beer at Brown's is what makes a person full of cheer and banishes all their troubles and cares.

The stockmen have all left town for a few days to gather the cattle they have contracted for sale on the 5th of June.

One week more and the Tithing office will be completed, then we have a safe place to deposit our offerings.

Miss Annie Ronnow returned home last Saturday, from Hiko where she has been for the past three months teaching school.

E. E. Ronnow and J. W. Kane took a trip to Hiko last week. They express themselves as having had a fine time and hope soon to return.

J. G. Brown can furnish you with almost any kind of a fashionable drink you can imagine. He is fully equipped for any emergency. You can be convinced by calling on him.

We all indulged in the grand ball Friday evening the music was furnished by the Nielsen Bros from Utah, they are sure alright for ball room music, all the complaints made was by some of the fair sex because the Pioche boys failed to put in an appearance. Now boys be more thoughtful next time and come down.

JUBILEE NOTES.

Hon. W. H. King, Utah's Representative in Congress, has been authorized by the Utah Semi-Centennial Commission to invite the House of Representatives to visit Utah during the jubilee. He has predicted that many members will accept such an invitation.

The Construction Department of the Utah Pioneer Jubilee has now ready for the painter's brush sixteen of the most magnificent floats ever made in the West. There will be fifty floats constructed by the department, not including those the twenty-seven counties of the State will order, and the cost will not be less than $250,000. The parade will be the most elaborate and beautiful ever witnessed in this country.

Spencer Clawson, the chairman of the Utah Semi-Centennial Commission, is Utah born. This city is his birthplace and in 1852 he saw the light. He is a most successful business man, and in every position in official life to which he has been called has acquitted himself with the greatest credit. He is a son of Bishop H. B. Clawson, one of the staunchest pillars of the Mormon Church.

The great Chinese dragon, which will be such an important feature of the night parades of the Utah Pioneer Jubilee, is 350 feet long and it will require 150 Chinese to operate it successfully. It is owned by the Chinese of Rock Springs, Wyo., and is reverently worshipped by them as an idol.

Accidentally Killed.

Peter Corresco, a former well-known Comstock dairyman, accidentally shot and killed himself in Sierra Valley, California, a few days ago while out hunting. He shot himself with a rifle. Corresco owned and conducted the milk ranch near the Ward mine for a number of years, leaving here several years ago. His brother was also accidentally killed, while hunting in Washoe Valley about a year ago, by shooting himself. Corresco kept a saloon at Reno once. He was an uncle of Steve Pedrol of this place.—Chronicle.

A story has been circulated to some extent that Mark Twain had died in London. He is living in London, stronger and better spirits than for many months since the death of his daughter and the ruin of his business as a publisher. He is almost ready with his new book, which will record his Asia and his African travels. May the day be long distant when we have to mourn the death of one of the foremost American men of letters—a humorist, a moralist and a great romanticist.—Springfield Republican.

A PRACTICAL MAN ON TRIB.

From the Enterprise, Virginia City: No veterinarian on the Pacific Coast has had a longer experience, or has any man had a more successful practice with horses than Dr. Burns of this city.

He makes the following statement: VIRGINIA CITY, Jan. 27, '97.

A valuable mare driven by Superintendent Lyman of the Con. Virginia mine on the Comstock Lode, had been in the stable unable to work, from the kick of another animal, received on the inside of the right foreleg above the knee. The skin had been broken and the muscles and tendons severely bruised. During a week's time I had given the limb such treatment, as from thirty years' professional experience, I thought beneficial, but without avail. The leg was swollen to nearly twice its natural size, and the swelling would not yield to treatment. On Thursday evening, June 18, 1896, I made the first application of the liniment, Trib, thoroughly rubbing in half a six ounce bottle over the whole leg. I applied it regularly twice a day for the next three days. On the fourth day the mare went to work completely cured—the most surprising and satisfactory cure coming under my observation during a life-time devoted to the treatment of horses.

During the past eight months I have used your liniment regularly in my practice. Trib fulfills all its promises.

An especially valuable feature of Trib is that while it has all the penetrating strength of the most powerful liniments it does not blister.

For love of the horse and the fellowship of horsemen, I offer this testimony. I know that trib will benefit both. M. Burns, V. S.
