

THE PIOCHE WEEKLY RECORD.

VOL. XLVIII.

PIOCHE, NEVADA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1898

NO. 34.

SIBLEY ON STEWART.

What the Ex-Congressman Says of Nevada's Senators.

Hon. Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania, than whom a stauncher friend of the people and the silver cause, does not exist, writes as follows in reply to an inquiry of Justice Massey of the Supreme Court:

"Valcour, Clinton Co. N. Y., August 6, 1898."

"Hon. W. A. Massey, Carson City Nevada. My Dear Sir:—Your kind favor at hand. The return of Hon. Wm. M. Stewart to the United States Senate is absolutely necessary to the triumph of bimetalism. The desperate effort of the gold standard men will of course be made to defeat him, but I cannot believe that the good people of Nevada can be for a moment deceived by them. Senator Stewart's defeat would, in my humble judgment, prove a national calamity. To me and to thousands of others in the east, he more than any other living man has stood 'as the Shadow of a Mighty Rock.' For the cause of the people he has worked with a superhuman energy. He has fought when others quailed. He has carried the colors forward when others sought for compromise. He has never let side questions divert him from the one great issue. When others were content to defend he has always been ready to lead in an attack. He has made the path of the gold monometallists a thorny one. He has rebuked and opposed them by name in his place in the Senate and to my mind he is 'the noblest Roman of them all.' 'With his great mental powers he has also retained his physical powers equalled by no young man in the Senate known to me. He is truly a cavalier 'without fear and without reproach.' I have gloried in the State of Nevada because with all the sneers of the goldbug press, she has in Senators Jones and Stewart been so ably represented as to place her in the very fore-front of American commonwealths.

Until the last gun for the people's money had been fired, until the last enemy had surrendered, until the shouts of victory had rung to heaven I want to see that grand old hero in the lead, and let his be the hand that unfurls again the flag of financial freedom from the nations capitol. If anything eat I have done for the truth permit me to call any man from Nevada my friend, let me implore him by all that is sacred in friendship not to permit this wrong to be done to all of us who battle with you for the right. He belongs to all of us, but yours the honor of giving him to us.

With all respect to others my opinion is that any man in America could be better spared from the Senate than Senator Stewart. Give him again to us who fight with you, and in 1900 we will again engage the common enemy, all hearts beating high with hope. If he must fall let him fall battling with his enemies, not among his friends.

"You may use any thing I have said to any friend who doubts what should be Nevada's duty in this matter. 'I would fight my dearest friend who would oppose one who has done for humanity what he has done and is doing.

"Sincerely your friend,
Joseph C. Sibley.

Judge Talbot came in on last evening's stage and opened Court to-day at one o'clock.

Mont and Lottie Connors came in last evening from Delamar and left this afternoon for Eagle Valley.

Henry Eilers offered to bet Ten Dollars that F. W. Dickle had the prettiest front yard in the county. It is a beauty.

Mrs. Jos. Conaway and daughter Lydia of Meadow Valley Wash, are in town, visiting her daughter Mrs. G. V. Warren.

Beauty is Blood Deep.
Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascares, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean, by stirring up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. Begin to-day to banish pimples, boils, blotches, blackheads and that sickly bilious complexion by taking Cascares,—beauty for ten cents. All druggists, satisfaction guaranteed, 10c, 25c, 50c.

THE NEWSPAPER LAW.
All Subscribers Should Read the Following Law and Avoid Trouble.

1. All subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. Subscriber moving to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intended fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time they do not wish to continue taking it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with all arrearages are sent to the publisher.

7. The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest anyone for fraud who take a paper and refuses to pay for it.

Under the law the man who allows his subscription to run along some time unpaid, and then orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

Costly Coal Business.
A short time ago a newspaper man sat in the office of a prominent river coal operator, talking about current events. A messenger entered and handed the operator a telegram. He continued the conversation with the reporter while he leisurely perused the contents of the message. The newspaper man did not notice any change in the operator's demeanor, and inquired if there was an item of news in the message. "Oh, yes," said the operator, handing the reporter the message, which read that a certain boat owned by this operator had lost nearly all her tow by sinking in the Mississippi river. The reporter asked about how much the loss would be, and the answer was: "About $10,000." The operator resumed his conversation as though nothing had happened. It was afterward learned that the receiving of such reports is a matter of such frequent occurrence in the coal business. Some men would have fainted at such news, but the river coal business is a great deal of a hazard, and one must have the spirit of the gambler to engage in it.

Accommodating Monkeys.
Here is an instance of his willingness to oblige: I was making a sketch of the village cemetery and wanted only a funeral procession to complete my study. I remarked to the old man: "What a pity there does not happen to be a funeral going on, so that I might put it in!" His reply took me by surprise; for, jumping up, he said: "There is a man ill in the village, and he must die soon; I'll go and hurry him up!" And, sure enough, he bustled them all so much that an hour later my sketch was complete and the man safely interred! And I believe that the bereaved family considered themselves especially honored by my interest in the ceremony!

Left Side Offense Lame.
Eighty-five per cent. of the people who are lame are affected on the left side.

Where Running is Impossible.
It is impossible to run at an altitude of 17,000 feet above the sea.

To Remove Grease Spots from SILK.
Rub powdered magnesia into the stains, and hold the silk near the fire, so that the powder may become warmed. It will then absorb the grease, which will be brushed off the silk with the powder.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

State Treasurer W. J. Westerfield who has been mentioned from time to time as a possible candidate for Governor, has decided to ask for re-election to the office of State Treasurer at the hands of the Silver Party.

SPANISH TROOPS.

The Duke of Wellington said They Would Fire and Run, But Would Never Stand Their Ground.

I find in the "Croker Papers" a passage which may be considered of sufficient interest at the present time to be reproduced. For more than 40 years the Great Duke had been an intimate friend of friendship with Mr. Croker, and made a call upon him ten days before his death. Croker made a memorandum of his conversation, a part of which turned upon the value of the Spanish troops which he had for allies in the peninsula campaigns. Mr. Croker, it will be remembered, was secretary of the admiralty, and was in Paris with the allies of the battle of Waterloo. Here is an extract from his memorandum of the interview of September 14, 1822:

"I reminded him that one day in Paris, when the emperor of Russia and king of Prussia dined with him, something was suggested that might have been better done at Waterloo, and he said: 'Yes, I could have done it if I had 10,000 of my old Spanish infantry.' 'Castle-reaght was by, sitting near me, and said: 'What can he mean? He never said a word to us of those Spaniards during the whole peninsula war but that they were worse than nothing.'"

Duke—Oh, yes; I remember. I had in my youth read of the old Spanish infantry as the finest soldiers in the world, till they were cut to pieces and destroyed in one, I think, of the great Conde's battles; and this same 'old Spanish infantry' had taken hold of me, and I used to call my old English regiments who were serving with me in the peninsula the old Spanish infantry. This gave rise to Castlereagh's mistake, which I remember made us laugh.

Croker—Did you ever see Spanish troops really stand to their work and fight?

Duke—No; the best would fire a volley while the enemy was out of reach, and then all ran away. They were no doubt, individually as brave as other men. I am sure they were vain enough of their bravery, but I never could get them to stand their ground.—Boston Transcript.

Hens Not Feeling Well.
Twelve eggs sold by a Brooklyn dairyman had among them five that were decayed. The purchaser returned them, saying that he wanted the product of healthy hens. "These," said the purchaser, "must have been laid when the hens were not feeling well."

House Struck Afire by a Meteor.
What struck a Plume (Austria) warehouse and set it on fire turns out to have been a meteor. It was assumed to have been lightning till a four-ton meteoric stone was found in a deep hole in the cellar.

A Sure Thing for You.
A transaction in which you cannot lose is a sure thing. Biliousness, sick headache, furred tongue, fever, piles and a thousand other ills are caused by constipation and sluggish liver. Cascares Candy Cathartic the wonderful new liver stimulant and intestinal tonic are by all druggists guaranteed to cure or money refunded. C. C. C. are a sure thing. Try a box to-day: 10c, 25c, 50c. The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point State along the line of the C. P. R. R. to Omaha and return, requests all persons who wish the interests of the State to cooperate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given to the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.
