

THE PIOCHE WEEKLY RECORD.

CURED

VOL. XLVIII.

PIOCHE, NEVADA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1898

System Has Light Its

Will the people of Lincoln county decide at the election in November upon a division of the county and the forming of two separate county governments? While it is a thing that will eventually occur we think the time is not yet ripe for it. If we were free from debt owed an inconsiderable sum, we might not object to the residents of the extreme southern part of Lincoln assuming alone the burdens incident to a separate branch of local government, but with more than half a million of debt hanging on in the form of bonds and nothing to pay it with but hope in the future, that debt interposes a barrier to division which cannot be over come. It was proposed to divide the county by a line running east and west at a point about 20 miles below John Kiernan's ranch in Meadow Valley Wash, and to apportion the bonded debt according to the population of each of the new subdivisions. This would practically give the northern part all the debt and the new county all the future prospects, with hardly enough taxable property at the outset to conduct its government, with no provision for payment of what share of the bonded debt it might be given.

In the western part of the state this fall, Ormsby, Storey and Douglas counties will vote upon the question of whether or not the three counties shall be consolidated in the interests of utility and economy, while the southern part of the state thinks of expansion the western is thinking of contraction in the same regard.

CHECK UP.

Two years ago, the grand jury, believing from various reasons that an examination of the county's books in the matter of receipts and disbursements of funds, should be made, recommended that it be done by experts employed for the purpose, and so reported to the court.

There was talk for a time of doing it but the necessity to the Commissioners did not appear so apparent as to the grand jury, and the matter ended with an advertisement for bids to undertake the work.

The grand jury which sat at the June term of court this year, also declared to make an examination of the books, since the most that could be done with the limited time at command would be to see that they were free from blots, etc., but reported in favor of employing experts to overhaul the accounts for the past six years.

Since this is the evident disposition of the public, the work ought to be done. Two persons, rather than one should perform the task, so as to check with each other, and the object should be, less to ascertain if the correct rules of bookkeeping have been followed, but to know that the various laws relating to the collection, apportionment and distribution of revenues have been followed. It is a work which it would take some time to complete and the one performing it should possess as good a knowledge of the revenue laws of this state, as of the rules relating to debiting and crediting accounts.

Don't Be Afraid.

A fear seems to exist in some quarters that the Record's suggestion or advice to the Miners Union at Delamar, should it enter politics this fall, may be misleading. Such a fear is groundless however, for the members of that body, can, and should, look into every question likely to affect their interests, politically or otherwise, before acting. As we said before, if the Union interests itself in matters it can make almost a clean sweep. We hope it will go in, post itself on the situation, which it can do from the records of the county, disregard the oracles of wisdom and act independently. If it or any political party does this, anything which the Record may say will be taken in the sense intended, that is as suggestive merely, for at this writing no definite lines are drawn and specific end is in view.

If the Union chooses to enter politics however, will it hold together? Is there not constant danger that personal interest, and interest of members for their friends will cause discord and dissention to a degree that will rob the body of its supposed force? If these questions and others, of similar nature are satisfactorily determined, it can set up a local political platform of its own and do excellent and lasting work upon it for the county.

The Stateline Road.

The talk about the Stateline road has misled some as to the terminus of the first 80 mile section now to begin. It will end where the existing grade enters Nevada, which is at a point about ten miles south of Desert Springs. The mining camp of Stateline, which many suppose to be the proposed terminus, is located some 16 miles from Desert Springs, in a northwesterly direction.

The present terminus will be near the Summit east of Panaca and distant about thirty miles from Pioche over a good mountain road.

Our contemporary, the county officers paper, doesn't like the Record's suggestion that the county's finances be made a subject of interest this fall. It should be done however. It is the one matter of interest, above personal election of office. The new scrip bill has received the sanction of the courts and it is alright, to the county. It is bad law, but it is our law now, and if the principle established can be utilized so as to repudiate the bonded debt, the county will be on its financial feet in a few years.

An so, it appears that 16 delegates from the County to the Democratic State Convention to be held at Reno on Sept. 7th, were picked out by a minority of the local Democratic committee, and the rank and file of the party were given no opportunity to say whether they approved the pick or not. If the democrats like this it is all right but the plan of the Silver Party, authorized by the State Central committee, of apportioning the county's representation to the various precincts in the county, and allowing each precinct to elect its delegates, after public notice given, is the best and yet we find some people disposed to complain.

On the Fourth of July, a young man of Stockton, Kansas, took his best girl to a picnic. There she accepted so many attentions from other young men that the first young man became enraged and went home, leaving the girl to get back to her home as best she might. She hired a hack, for which her father paid 75 cents, and then the old man sent the bill to the sulky young soldier. He refused to pay, and the old man sued him in a justice's court, alleging that having taken the girl to the picnic, it became his duty to see her safely home at his own expense. Both sides have hired lawyers, and the case will be fought to a finish.

THE NEWSPAPER LAW.

All Subscribers Should Read the Following Law and Avoid Trouble.

1. All subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to continue their subscriptions.
 2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.
 3. If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.
 4. Subscriber moving to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.
 5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intended fraud.
 6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time they do not wish to continue taking it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with all arrearages are sent to the publisher.
 7. The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest anyone for fraud who take a paper and refuses to pay for it.
- Under the law the man who allows his subscription to run along some time unpaid, and then orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic 10 or 25c. If C. C. C. fails to cure, druggists refund money.

Using Hard Water.
It is difficult to wash our hands clean with hard water, because the soda of the soap combines with the sulphuric acid of the hard water and the oil of the soap with the lime, and floats in flakes on the top of water. Sulphate of lime consists of sulphuric acid and lime. It is difficult to wash in salt water because it contains muriatic acid, and the soda of soap combines with the muriatic acid of the salt water and produces a cloudiness.—Chicago Chronicle.

Bismarck's Name.
Few people know how Bismarck and his ancestors got their name. Bismarck is the name of one of those ancient castles a short distance from Stendal, on the road from Cologne to Berlin, in the center of the old Marquisate of Brandenburg. The castle had this name because it defended the "Marca," or the line where the River Biese formed a boundary in former times, or mark of defense against intruders. Hence the name of Bismarck.—N. Y. SENATOR TELLER'S OPINION.

What the Coloradoan Says of Senator Stewart.
The many friends of Henry M. Teller, in Nevada, will be gratified to read what that statesman and champion of the cause of the people has to say in a letter to Judge Bonfield about Wm. M. Stewart. No man is better able to speak of the importance of keeping Senator Stewart in Washington to continue the fight for free coinage than Senator Teller with whom he labors side by side to secure the restoration of bimetalism. Senator Teller's letter is as follows:
Denver, Colo., August 3 1898.
Hon. M. S. Bonfield, Carson City Nev. DEAR SIR:—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 30th ult. Nevada cannot afford at this time to make a change in the Senate, and it would be most injurious to the silver cause to have a change made. Senator Stewart has been in the harness so long and has been so prominently identified with the agitation for the rehabilitation of silver, that the election of any other man to occupy his seat in the Senate, although he might be even as staunch an advocate of silver as Mr. Stewart himself, would be accepted by the opposition as a triumph and so proclaimed to the world. If not pressed for time I would say more on this point, but I cannot believe that the Nevada people will permit themselves to be led into any false step at this time.

Very truly yours,
H. W. TELLER.

A transaction in which you cannot lose is a sure thing. Biliousness, sick headache, furred tongue, fever, piles and a thousand other ills are caused by constipation and sluggish liver. The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most for the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given to the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.
