Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives.

Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their maker's say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bangor Medical College, Bangor, Me., of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Guyer Cox, of New York; Dr. Bartholomew, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prostrates, an over-exhaustion and restores and corrects the various painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening discharges, restores known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a highly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidently takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, open and honorably, by letting every one know exactly what she is taking.

Such women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 31 stamps. Dr. Pierce's Peppermint Cure constipation.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it swells and obstructs the passage of air from the ear. It is only by getting rid of this inflammation that the ear can be cured. Deafness is cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Moon is Constant. The old idea that changes are taking place on the moon carefully has been investigated by M. Pulscux, a French astronomer. Going over all records, from the earliest observations to the latest, he concludes that the reality of the supposed changes has not been proved, and that the varying sensitiveness of the retina to faint objects is sufficient to account for differences seen, while different conditions of exposure might explain all appearances in the photographs.

Ever Hear of "Scotty" and His Record-Breaking Ride? The story, briefly told, is this: Walter Scott, the Death Valley gold miner, made the trip from Los Angeles to Chicago last summer on a special train over the "Santa Fe" in less than 45 hours. That whirlwind train cost him more than $5,000. It was the fastest long distance run over mountain and plains ever made on any American railway. It demonstrated beyond dispute that the Santa Fe track, equipment and employees are of the dependable kind. Probably you wouldn't care to ride so fast. You prefer the luxury of our three trains from Utah and Colorado to Everywhere East and Southwest. Ask me for ticket rates and literature.

AMMUNITION FOR THE PASTOR.

Sinners Alone Need Have Feared Contents of This Box.

The Rev. Edward Lloyd Jones, a Manchester, England, minister, tells a story of his experience in Fenian days. He was traveling from a Welsh village to Brecon, and had with him a strong wooden box filled with heavy theological books. At Shrewsbury the detectives who were on the look-out for explosive machines and the like suspected this heavy box and word was sent on to Brecon. When the young minister stepped out of the train he was astonished to find a sergeant and several constables awaiting him. "I think you have a box with you," said the sergeant. "Quite right," said the preacher, who began to scowl. Out came the box and its weight excited fresh suspicion about its contents. "This is your box?" "Yes." "It contains ammunition?" "It does." "Very well, consider yourself in charge. Open the box." The company stood away while the sergeant found it contained nothing more explosive than Adam Clarke's "Theology" he expressed his indignation freely to the minister. All that he got back was the soft answer: "Why, bless my soul, man, you asked if the box contained ammunition. That is my ammunition. I am a Methodist pastor, and that's what I shoot with."

DOCTOR CURED OF ECZEMA. Maryland Physician Cures Himself—Dr. Fisher Says: "Cuticura Remedies Possess True Merit."

"My face was afflicted with eczema in the year 1897. I used the Cuticura Remedies, and was entirely cured. I am a practicing physician, and very often prescribe Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Soap in cases of eczema, and they have cured where other formulas have failed. I am not in the habit of endorsing patent medicines, but when I find remedies possessing true merit, such as the Cuticura Remedies do, I am broad-minded enough to proclaim their virtues to the world. I have been practicing medicine for sixteen years, and must say I find your Remedies A No. 1. You are at liberty to publish this letter. G. M. Fisher, M. D., Big Pool, Md., May 24, 1905."

CONFUSION IN DRAMATIC CLUB Only One Point on Which the Actors Were Agreed.

In the old days in the town of Littleton, Mass., there used to be a dramatic club, which included many prominent men. Once a play was being given in which Judge Bellows, a courtly gentleman of the old school, and a certain Dr. Sanger were in the cast. In the middle of the play forgot their parts. The prompter had lost his place, and the players were in despair. The audience began to giggle, and the players looked appealingly at one another.

At the end, at the very denouement of the play, Judge Bellows was supposed to exclaim, "I know not what to say." In his confused state of mind this line happened to come to him and he gasped: "I know not what to say!" And Dr. Sanger, small and peppery snipped: "Well, I'll be hanged if I do."

Mistakes of Authors. "I do wish," said the Omnivorous Reader, "that these fiction producers would be a little more careful in their descriptions of people. I have become hardened to a girl with eyes like violets, lips like cherries and hair like spun gold, though such a one must be a creature fit only for a dime museum. But here is Ponson de Terrail, my favorite French feuilletonist, who says, 'The man's hands were cold and clammy, like those of a serpent,' and 'The count walked up and down the garden reading the newspaper with his hands behind his back.' Now, wouldn't that jar you?"

Spoke as an Oracle. An employe of the Grand Opera House was in conversation with Manager Middleton the other day, and there was a question as to whether a blonde or a brunette had the quicker temper. The answer of the employe to the inquiry left a doubt in the mind of his listeners. He said: "I am in a position to answer that question from experience. My wife has been both blonde and brunette, and I find she can show spirit under each condition." The name of the gentleman is suppressed for obvious reasons.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Exercising Disease. Very curious methods were employed by the ancient Babylonians to exorcise disease. The sucking pig and kid played an important part in the remedies. The pig or kid was to be killed, cut up, and placed upon the sick man. The heart of the pig, which had been placed upon the sick man's heart, was to be held by him, and the pig's heart was to be as his heart, the blood as his blood, the flesh as his flesh and the pig was to be in his stead. The virgin kid was dealt with in the same way, being placed upon the sick man.

Nature's Panoramic Display. A marvelous display of atmospheric reflection peculiar to the Alps was witnessed the other day by passengers in the Paris-Frankfurt express. Shortly after leaving Metz a wonderful panorama developed in the horizon on the western side. The sun seemed to light up the whole Alpine chain, the great mass of Mont Blanc stood out clearly marked, its sides covered with snow and its glaciers reflecting the sunbeams. At one moment the lake of Geneva was visible, its water tinged a greenish blue. The mirage faded only at sunset, as the train neared Fribourg. It had lasted about twenty minutes.

COSSACKS WERE FORCED TO FLY

The Revolutionary Army Met With Success at First, But It Did Not Last.

Triumphs of the Insurgents Was Short Lived, as They Surrendered at First Threat of Bombardment of the Town.

St. Petersburg.—The newspapers publish interesting accounts received by mail of the disorders in the smaller cities of the interior during the period of armed revolt, many of which passed unnoticed at the time owing to the interruption of telegraphic communication. In a number of instances the troops were defeated and driven out of the towns or forced to surrender. At Sotshi on the Black sea eighty Cossacks of the garrison who attempted to disperse a gathering in the market place were routed by the revolutionists and forced to flee to their barracks outside the town, where they were regularly besieged. The insurgents brought up an old cannon from the port and bombarded the barracks for two days with such effect that the Cossacks were forced to surrender.

The triumph of the revolutionists was short-lived, however, for a torpedo boat destroyer arrived from Batoum and the population at the first threat of a bombardment hastened to liberate the prisoners and to deliver up their arms, as well as the funds of the city treasury, which had been taken to the mountains.

SCHOONER TURNS TURTLE. Notorious Sealer and Five Comrades Are Drowned.

Victoria, B. C.—The Ella G., a small schooner, is reported from Bamfield to have been lost with all hands, six in number, having turned turtle in the southwest gale on Tuesday, when the wind blew from fifty to sixty miles an hour. There were six men on board, one of whom was the notorious sealer, Alexander McLean, whose escapades with the sealing schooner Carmichael caused the United States government to order a revenue cutter to arrest the vessel. The Ella G. formerly owned in Seattle and purchased by Victorians after being taken from Clayoquot, where she was wrecked three years ago, left Victoria on Saturday, the 20th, on a fishing cruise off the Vancouver island coast in the vicinity of the entrance of the straits.

Battle Between Union and Non-Union Miners.

Goldfield, Nev.—Jack Gineau is dead and George Cole, a member of the legislature from Nye county, was shot through the arm as the result of a pitched battle between union and non-union miners at Cliffords, ten miles from Stone Cabin, on the Manhattan road. Sheriff Top Logan placed eight non-union men, who are charged with perpetrating the trouble, under arrest. George Cole, who was for years president of the Delamater Miners' union, went to Cliffords the scene of a strike, to interview miners charged with working for less than $5. the scale. A man named Himis is said to have opened fire, shooting Cole through the arm and Gineau through the lungs. A pitched hand-to-hand battle ensued, which concluded with the escape of the non-union men.

Utah Reserves Are Enlarged. Washington.—The Uintah forest reserve has been further enlarged by the inclusion of several additional tracts on the northern and western sides of the reserve, containing an aggregate area of about 428,000 acres.

The reserve, as it now stands, embraces 2,280,000 acres. Heretofore it protected only a small portion of the northern slope of the Uintah mountains. As now enlarged, it includes this plateau-like slope, which bears an exceptionally heavy and uniform stand of lodgepole pine.

There is a production of 50,000 barrels. Enforcement of the order means suspension of activities here.

Broken Rail Causes Wreck. Birmingham, Ala.—The Frisco Limited, bound for Kansas City, over the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, was wrecked one mile north of Dora, about forty miles from Birmingham, twenty minutes after midnight, Sunday. The accident was due to a broken rail. The mail and baggage car turned over and the second class coach carrying a number of negroes were derailed. The express messenger and the postal clerk and several passengers were injured, none seriously.

Canfield, and a prominent society woman of Los Angeles, was shot and almost instantly killed Saturday night while sitting on the front porch of her residence in the fashionable section of the city. Her slayer was Morris Buck, a former family coachman, who is in custody and says he killed Mrs. Canfield because she refused to give him a large sum of money.

DREW ADMIRATION OF RUSKIN.

Alpine Bird Compelled Thought of Writer and Philosopher.

While among the dark, pine precipices of the Chautauque hills, one day, the famous John Ruskin saw for the third time what he thought the most wonderful of all Alpine birds—a gray, fluttering, stealthy creature, about the size of a sparrow, but of colder gray and more graceful, which haunts the sides of the fiercest torrents. He wrote: "There is something more strange in it than in the sea-gull—that seems a powerful creature, and the power of the sea not of a kind so adverse, so hopelessly destructive. But this small creature, silent, tender and light, almost like a moth in its low and irregular flight, almost touching with its wings the crests of waves that would overthrow a granite wall, and haunting the hollows of the black, cold, herbless rocks that are continually shaken by their spray, has perhaps the nearest approach to the look of a spiritual existence I know in animal life."

FACIAL PARALYSIS

Nervous Distortion of Face Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

What appears to be a slight nervous attack may be the forerunner of a severe disorder. No nervous sufferer should neglect the warning symptoms, but should see that the starved nerves are nourished before the injury to the delicate organism has gone to an extent that renders a cure a difficult matter. The nerve-reviver that nourishes through the blood, the same as every other part of the body, and the best nerve tonic and food is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The experience of Mr. Harry Bemis, of Truthville, Washington county, N. Y., substantiates this.

"I had been feeling badly for a long time," said Mr. Bemis, "and in the early part of September, 1903, I was compelled to quit work on account of my ill health. My trouble was at first extreme nervousness, then my sight became affected and I consulted an oculist who said that the starved nerves were the cause of my trouble. He treated me for some time, but I got no benefit. I tried another doctor and again failed to obtain any relief. My nervousness increased. Slight noises would almost make me wild. My mouth was drawn so I could scarcely eat and one eye was affected so I could hardly see. I had very little use of my limbs, in fact I was almost a complete wreck. I am all right now and am at work. That is because I followed my wife's advice and took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She had used the same remedy herself with the most gratifying results and she persuaded me to try them when it appeared that the doctors were unable to help me. My face came back into shape and in time I was entirely well."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or by mail by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. A booklet on Nervous Disorders sent free on request.
