Irishman's Joke.

Over in Clay county, Mo., there was a funny Irishman, says the Wellington News. It was years ago when Philander Lucas was judge of the circuit court. The Irishman had a suit before Lucas, and when it was tried, his attorney asked that it be passed as his client wanted to employ additional counsel. When the judge was going to dinner, the Irishman accosted him. "Your honor," he began, "O'm thinkn' I've employa' another lawyer fr me case. An' O' think O' wud rather pay yeez 'r ripraystn' me than anny was else. Because, judge, O' think yee have a very good knowledg' in th' law an' thin, bein' on th' bench, yeez wud have a very good notion iv how th' thing is goin'."

BALTIC BANDIT DEFIES POLICE

Sequel to the Robbery of the Russian State Bank at Helsingfors, Finland

Fugitive is Cornered and Puts Up Fight. Several Members of the Party Who Essayed to Capture Him Falling Before His Fire.

Helsingfors, Finland.—The pursuit of the bandits who last Monday night entered the Russian State bank here, killed the guardian and secured $37,500, resulted on Thursday in another highly dramatic incident and cost four lives at Tammerfors, where two of the fugitives were cornered. One of the bandits got possession of the town hall and held it for hours, but finally was subdued by a stream of water directed by the firemen.

While Commissary of Police Hainshin was examining the two captives, one of them grabbed a revolver from the belt of the chief of police and with it killed Balushin. The bandit then ran upstairs, where he barricaded himself in a room commanding the stairs and lobby and the street outside. Then he defied the police for three hours, meanwhile haranguing from the windows a crowd of thousands of persons, many of whom were in sympathy with his socialistic speeches.

A policeman who tried to pick off the desperado from a house opposite was killed by the bandit, who was an excellent marksman. After all other resources had been exhausted, the firemen were called and poured a flood of water into the window. Simultaneously a band of police and firemen stormed the stairs. One of the storming party was killed and nine wounded before the bandit, who fought desperately with a big knife, could be overpowered.

The robber, who is a Dorpat blacksmith, boasted of membership in the Baltic revolutionary committee, and said the robbery of the Russian State bank was committed to swell the revolutionary war fund. Six thousand dollars of the booty was recaptured.

SATISFACTORY ELECTIONS.

Battle of Ballots in Philippines Watched With Interest.

Washington.—Governor General Ide has cabled the war department from Manila an account of the outcome of the Philippine elections Thursday. These provincial elections being in a way educational for the Filipinos, who are unused to suffrage in any form, the results are watched with the keenest interest by the war department. The text of Governor Ide's dispatch follows:

"Provincial elections satisfactory. Not a single instance of disorder, although many ballots were required to elect in numerous instances. Have confirmed all elected except three suspended for investigation, charged with bribery and intimidation. Sandiko and Deveyra were elected and confirmed, as was Reynolds, an American, who was elected on the seventeenth ballot. Eight of the present governors were re-elected."

WITH MILITARY HONORS.

Body of Former Speaker Henderson Laid to Rest.

Dubuque, Ia.—The funeral of former Speaker David B. Henderson was held here Thursday afternoon. Business was suspended during the hours of the funeral and for five minutes following the commencement of services the bells in every church in Dubuque tolled. During the morning the body lay in state, the Dubuque military company acting as a guard of honor. There were six wagonloads of flowers.

George D. Perkins of Sioux City, a former colleague in congress, pronounced the eulogy. The guard took charge of the body after the services at the church. A riderless horse bearing a soldier's accoutrements was led behind the hearse.

"Scotty's" Brother Shot.

Los Angeles.—Suffering from a dangerous bullet wound, which, he says, he received from ambush at the entrance to Death valley, Warner Scott, brother of Walter Scott, the Death Valley Cress, was brought to Los Angeles Thursday from Barstow and is at the California hospital. While Scott is in a serious condition, it is believed he will recover. Owing to the wounded man's condition, the details of the alleged ambush could not be learned.

Prize Fighter Killed.

San Francisco.—Harry Tenny, the little fighter who was so terrible beaten in a prize fight with Frankie Neil, is dead. Death was the result of the beating he received in the ring. From the time he was carried from his corner, limp and all but lifeless, Tenny sank rapidly. Tenny's death is the second resulting from ring contests here within a month. The night of February 5, Alex Dowling was beaten to death by "Chief" Johnson in an unlicensed amateur fight at Colma.

Will Not Change Measure.

Washington.—That the railroad rate bill will be passed by the senate practically as it came from the house is an admission that the opponents of the measure are almost ready to make. It was admitted on Thursday that they cannot hope for any assistance from the president in getting an amendment for judicial review of orders of the interstate commerce commission. The president made this clear to Senators Crane and Spooner.

DAZED WITH PAIN.

The Sufferings of a Citizen of Olympia, Wash.

L. S. Gorham, of 516 East 4th St., Olympia, Wash., says: "Six years ago I got wet and took cold, and was soon flat in bed, suffering tortures with my back. Every movement caused an agonizing pain, and the persistence of it exhausted me, so that for a time I was dazed and stupid. On the advice of a friend I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and soon noticed a change for the better. The kidney secretions had been disordered and irregular, and contained a heavy sediment, but in a week's time the urine was clear and natural again and the passages regular. Gradually the aching and soreness left my back and then the lameness. I used six boxes to make sure of a cure, and the trouble has never returned."

Philosopher's Answer.

Thales, the ancient philosopher, declared that there was no difference between life and death. "Why, then," cried one of those to whom the remark was made, "don't you put an end to your life?" "Because," was the reply, "there is no difference."

PANTOMIME HAD BAD EFFECT.

London Youth Copied Crimes of Here of Stage.

Are modern melodramas harmful to uneducated minds? Some of the old-time pantomimes in London proved to be. In the eighteenth century one of the most popular productions at the Drury Lane theater of those days was a pantomime called "Harlequin Jack Sheppard," which was simply a reproduction of the crimes of this popular young criminal, who was only 23 when he was hanged. His chief appeal to the popular imagination was his brilliant escape from Newgate prison with the fetters on his hands, and when he was made the subject of a Christmas entertainment hundreds flocked to see it. It was even proved that numbers of boy pickpockets who filled the prisons about that time had got their first inspiration to thieve from one boy confessed that he stole in order to get to the pantomime and hoped some day to be as clever as Jack Sheppard.

General Funston's View.

San Francisco.—"Things are beginning to look serious in the east," said General Funston in an interview, "and the action of the war department in reinforcing the troops already in the Philippines will, in my opinion, be justified before the end of the present uprising. It seems probable that most of the forces for the United States, for there are not many more men in the Philippines at present than are necessary."

Terrible Drought Broken.

San Francisco.—News of the breaking of the terrible drought which for years has paralyzed the industries of Australia, was brought by the steamship Ventura. When the vessel left Sydney it was assured that record-breaking crops and plentiful pasturage would mark the return of prosperity. The lesson learned by the great famine will put in practice by the establishment of storage systems to husband the waters in future for use in dry years.

Uncle Sam's Strong Box.

Washington.—For the first time since May 1, 1904, when the government made its payment of $50,000,000 for the Panama canal property and $4,600,000 was loaned to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company, the daily statement issued on Wednesday shows for the fiscal year a surplus of receipts over expenditures. The surplus amounts to $1,102,003. This is regarded by the treasury officials as a remarkably fine showing.

John D. Rockefeller Would Build a Hospital.

New York.—An offer of $125,000 from John D. Rockefeller for a hospital for children suffering from tuberculosis was announced on Wednesday by R. Fulton Cutting, president of the New York Association for Improving the Conditions of the Poor. This offer is made on the condition that the association raises a like amount from other donors by June 30, 1906, and that the permanent maintenance of the hospital is assured.

Timber and Stone Act Tabled.

Washington.—The house committee on public lands by a vote of 7 to 4 on Wednesday tabled the interior department bill introduced by Chairman Lacey to repeal the timber and stone act. Chairman Lacey, knowing that his committee would not report his bill favorably, sought an adverse report upon it for the purpose of getting the bill on the house calendar where it could be called up and acted upon notwithstanding the report against it.

YOUTH SLAYS FATHER TO SAVE MOTHER'S LIFE

Debauch of an Ogden Man Culminates in His Meeting With Violence at the Hands of His Son.

Ogden, Utah.—Joseph A. Checketts, 50 years of age, and a carpenter by trade, was shot and instantly killed by his son, Francis H. Checketts, a boy about 18 years of age, at the Checketts home in this city, early Wednesday morning.

Crazed with a debauch on alcohol, Checketts was strangling his wife to death when the boy seized a .38 caliber revolver and shot his father in the temple, killing him instantly.

The circumstances leading up to the killing of Joseph Checketts indicate that the boy was engaged in an heroic defense of his mother. Public opinion is that the killing was entirely justified, horrible as it and its results may be. On Tuesday night Checketts went home in a stupor of alcohol and began to abuse his wife, a regular practice for years, according to the statements of neighbors. In his frenzy he grabbed a butcher knife and stabbed his wife in the side of the head, inflicting a dangerous wound. His children were terrified, but finally retired, except the two elder girls, who stayed up to watch and protect their mother.

Checketts was provided with plenty of alcohol and sat up and imbibed it. The fiend again got a good start and shortly after 3 o'clock Wednesday morning he again began a vicious assault on his wife. His son, Francis H. Checketts, who is a wiper in the Southern Pacific roundhouse, had come home.

Checketts, a man weighing 180 pounds, fastened his hands on the throat of his frail little wife, threw her across the bed and was strangling her slowly to death. The boy appeared with a revolver and, it is related, gave his father one warning.

The brute did not release his hold. The son fired, the bullet entering the skull at the left temple, and causing instant death. The boy then surrendered to the officers and is now in jail.

CHINA TO PAY BLOOD MONEY.

Volunteers to Make Reparation for Assassination of Foreigners.

Pekin.—The government has instructed the governor of Nanchang, province of Kiang Si, where, on February 25, six French Jesuit missionaries and four British subjects were killed, to punish severely all participants in the massacre, and declares his willingness to make without question any reasonable reparation demanded. Many foreigners at Peking know the governor of Nanchang, and consider him efficient and friendly. They believe his version of the troubles and credit his statement that he was unable to prevent the disturbance. American, British and German gunboats are proceeding to the nearest possible point to Nanchang. River navigation is seldom safe beyond Poyang lake. British and German gunboats have been stationed at the lake for two years despite frequent Chinese protests that it was an infringement of China's river regulations.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington, D. C., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful periods—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the female organs. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C.

Her second letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 60th and East Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—It saved her life.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

HOW SHE WOULD SAVE JULIET.

Simple Soul Saw Salvation for Heroine of Tragedy.

Mrs. Drinkwater, wife of the general colonel, spent some weeks last summer in northern Maine, at the comfortable farmhouse of an honest widow, Mrs. Brand, who adds to her income by keeping summer boarders, says a writer in the Boston Herald.

Recently Mrs. Brand made her first visit to Boston, and while there met Mrs. Drinkwater, who took her to see Julia Marlowe in "Romeo and Juliet." Mrs. Brand had never before been to a theater. "Camp meetin'" had been her wildest dissipation.

Mrs. Drinkwater's interest was equally divided between her companion and the stage. When they left the theater Mrs. Brand was silent. Her usual volubility had quite deserted her. Mrs. Drinkwater respected her silence, and said nothing until they were well on their homeward way. At last she ventured to ask: "How did you like it, Mrs. Brand?"

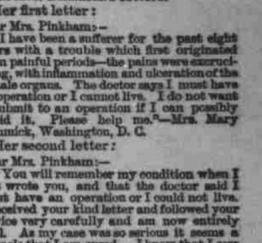

Mrs. Brand turned toward her, and the tears started to her eyes as she said: "Oh, Mrs. Drinkwater, I couldn't help thinkin' how different that play might have ended if the nuss had been a different kind of a woman, and pointed Juliet to Jesus."

Treat That Rover Missed.

Tales of the siege of Paris during the Franco-Prussian war have been many. One of these yarns was as follows: A much-loved collie dog had been preserved by its owners from the death that befell all pets during that time of starvation. There came at last a day, however, when it too, had to go, and the sorrowing but fastidious family met their pet for the last time in the soup tureen. They ate in silence until nothing remained but a heap of bones. Then the master of the house, an absent-minded person, looked round in search of something, and said with a sigh: "How poor old Rover would have enjoyed those bones!"

Why Disillusion Her?
