For the first time this year a few days of real winter weather was appreciated this week. A rain and wind storm prevailed from the southwest and fires in the principal store buildings were liberally patronized.

Real capital in generous proportions is at last approaching and finding profit in the camp and the good things are being tied up. Those who wish to break their neck jumping over one another will follow up the rear end.

Deeds from The Hillside Copper Company and the Bristol Copper Company conveying all of the property of the Bristol Copper Co. and the Hillside Copper Co. situated in Bristol Mining District to the Bristol Consolidated Mines and Smelting Company were filed for record with the County Recorder Thursday.

Schneider, General Manager of the same company came in by private conveyance Tuesday evening and will be here for about ten days. In adversity is the time, if there ever was one, when people should momentarily lay aside prejudices and economical ideas and let charity and generosity prevail. In the recent fire here there was loss. It may not be great considered in a commercial sense but when all is gone, no matter how small, it is complete. Let us be generous and each contribute to restore at least all personal losses.

Meadow Valley No-5 has reached the 600 foot level and is progressing rapidly since passing the big caves nearer the surface. It is now thought that the shaft is in good condition to the 1250 and if so the Nevada-Utah people will be holding ore by the time the railroad gets here. Quietly but surely Pioche is coming up and before it is realized by the outside world she will be producing large quantities of rich ore. Then it will be too late to get in on the good things.

The burning of the block on the corner of Meadow Valley and Main Streets has brought to notice one of the best building sites in town for a commodious and magnificent brick hotel. Strange as it may seem, conflagrations nearly always precede building booms, and while the personal loss is deprecated the conditions confronting the community in the way of ample buildings is such as to make the fire in that sense a fortunate one. Let us encourage the building of a hotel in conformity with the progress of the camp, and if necessary take stock in the enterprise.

The Republican State convention will meet at Tonopah on September 4th.

The town has been full of mining men during the week all looking for something to invest.

There is hardly a day passes that there is not a prospecting outfit comes through Pioche some with burrows and some with expensive outfit bound for different districts through Lincoln County.

Marriage licenses were issued out of the Clerks office during the week to the following parties. H. F. Martens and Bertha Dumont both of Las Vegas, Jeff James and Laura Sules; Roy S. Brown; Pearl Loffer all of Searchlight and Royal L. Lockett and Carrie C. Rosworth both of Las Vegas.

On June 19th this month the Delamar Lode issued its last paper in Delamar and will come forth with its next issue at Caliente. The Lode originated in Pioche and with the Delamar excitement it was moved to that place. The paper will be known hereafter as the Caliente Lode Express. We wish the Lode Express, prosperity in their new field of labor.

The Prince, or old Bullion mine, south of town was bonded to a Mr. Wishon of Butte Montana this week for a round figure. In addition to a large cash payment the conditions require a modern hoist and 500 ft. of development during the year. This piece of property is considered by those familiar with it to be one of the best in camp and the turning of it to Butte men marks a new era of deep mining here. It is the intention to go to water level as rapidly as possible.

The transfer of the old Cook livery stable on the east side of Meadow Valley street was made by T. J. Osborne to F. P. Goraen this week and subsequently leased by him to J. A. Denton for a term of one year dating from July first. Mr. Denton will repair and improve the property extensively, using the same for a stage station, there being three distinct lines under contract from this place. He will also put in a complete livery and transfer outfit for the accommodation of those who patronize his lines and in this uses good judgment in view of the immediate future of the camp. It is safe to say that the service will be good and that Mr. Denton will do his share of the business.

SUIT AGAINST THE CLARK ROAD.

At Carson yesterday a suit was filed against the Salt Lake and Los Angeles railroad company by United States Attorney Samuel Platt acting for the Inter-State Commerce Commission, for alleged violation of the railroad law requiring the railroads to keep their cars in repair. The complaint has two charges, alleging first, that the railroad company while carrying interstate commerce hauled a caboose with inoperative apparatus, thus compelling brakemen to go between the caboose and freight cars to couple them; the second charge alleges a violation of the railroad law because the company engaged in interstate commerce traffic ran a train hauled by an engine of inoperative apparatus, which also compelled the brakemen to go between cars and the engine to couple them.

This is the first suit of the kind ever brought in Nevada by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The penalty for violation of this particular law is a fine of $100 for each charge.

NEVADA TO-DAY.

"Nevada today is incomparable It has no equal. The actual boom has not commenced. Every where is industry, thrift, energy. New strikes are of daily occurrence," said Samuel Newhouse in an interview in the Inter Mountain Republic of Salt Lake. These occasions no surprise. They are considered the natural result of the labors of the numerous prospectors, who today through the hills from the northern to the southern border. New camps are being established with such rapidity that one must have constant recourse to his geography to keep him in touch with the correct march of progress.

A trip to a desert camp is a perfect tonic. Life takes on a new zest, arouses you from the lethargy of the plodding ways of home and convinces you that the old world has not yet made known her opportunities; that fortune awaits you just beyond the next summit or in the valley below. It is this spirit that keeps the "boys" marching, prospecting, developing, promoting. In Nevada there are no laggards. Every body is busy. There is work for all, and then some.

But the surprising feature of it all is that there are no old men in Nevada. Father Time is altogether slow for them. He has not adopted the "automobile" prospecting method of an up-to-date miner. So time has no perceptible influence upon the men of the new Nevada. In appearance they are strong, healthy, manly, vigorous youngsters. It renews one's confidence in mankind, and gives him hope in the future. On their faces you do not note the ravages of disease or dissipation. There is only the stamp of confidence, determination, hope and success. Their actions and conduct is a sure cure for the blues. So, can it be wondered, that today Nevada is the coming state with more opportunities and fortunes undeveloped than are contained in any other commonwealth in the Union? This last statement is not extravagant to demonstrate its correctness requires but a reference to the fortunes that have been made there in the last five years.

Miss Ladd is from Reno, and is interested in a group of mines at Bullfrog which have been in litigation for the past year and which lately were compromised. The property is valued at $1,000,000 and her share of the mine is close to $200,000. She is a charming young lady and visited this place last December.

Mr. Frank P. Thompson was born here and has many warm friends who are eagerly waiting his return with his bride to extend their sincere and joyous congratulations in person. He has purchased the Osborne residence on Cedar street and refurbished the same throughout making it one of the cosiest homes in town.
