FATALITY AT RICHMOND FLAT.

The Lord of Weinert in Jail—Contract Let for Building Madison's New Bridge—John King Meets With an Accident—Personal and General.

Dennis O'Connor was killed at the Monitor mine at Richmond Flat yesterday. The news was received here this morning by a telegram sent by Manager S. K. Knox to S. R. Buford & Co. The telegram contained no further information save that the killing was accidental. Coroner McNulty left for the scene of the accident this morning.

The (ig)-noble "duke" of York now languishes in durance vile—where he properly belongs. After taking Joe Beaulieu's horse and cart as narrated by the MADISONIAN last week, the "duke" proceeded up the Ruby valley until he came to the elegant home of Senator Alex Metzler, "York ranch," and, of course, being attracted by the name of the place, stopped and proceeded to buy all of the Senator's fat beeves, some six hundred in number. It is said that the Senator after selling all his beef cattle and promising to be on Red Rock by Sunday evening to turn them over, noticed that the purchaser had no overcoat and kindly offered him one to keep until they should meet on Red Rock.

After leaving the York ranch, the "duke" proceeded up the river, and was overtaken by Sheriff Haines whilst negotiating for the cattle of Thomas Gallahan. He came along with the sheriff without trouble, but informed him that if he could have gotten Gallahan started a little sooner he would have secured a horse and that in a short time he would have been beyond reach. That evening he was given a hearing before Police Magistrate McGown. He said that his true name was Charles Gathorne Herbert Wilmhurst-Wrigley, but it develops since that lying is not the least of his varied accomplishments.

After the complaint was read to him by County Attorney Callaway he said that he was not desirous of having the services of an attorney, and that he would waive examination. He was bound over to await the action of the district court, his bail being fixed at $1,000. Contrary to the expectation of the officers, who supposed that he would deposit some of that $300 a day income, he is still stopping at the jail. As court does not sit until November 19, he will have plenty of time to think up all of his name.

The county commissioners, Joe Smith, Geo. Copp and J. Crissman with Barclay Jones and Wm. Morris, after carefully inspecting the location for the new bridge across the Jefferson river near Ed Cardwell's ranch contracted for the building of the same with the King Bridge Company. It is to be a steel bridge consisting of two spans, each 110 feet long. The bridge will be an exact duplicate of the iron rod bridge, except that the spans will be a little shorter and the cost less than half as much. There were eight bids the lowest being $4500.57 which was accepted. This makes the bridge by far cheaper than any bridge of its kind in the state.

Mr. John M. King met with a painful but not serious accident last week. Mr. King and Ed. Hart were doing representing work on their lead on the head of Granite, sinking a shaft. Mr. King was in the shaft and Mr. Hart was at the windlass, hoisting the ore. When the bucket was up about 15 feet it became detached from the rope and fell to the bottom, striking Mr. King on the head and shoulder, causing senselessness instantaneously. Mr. Hart called to King, but received no answer and immediately descended the shaft where he found his companion lying insensible. After Mr. Hart doctored him to the best of his means, the patient rallied and they concluded the weather was too rough to do more work on their properties so they started for this city and arrived the latter part of last week.

LEITERVILLE, Sept. 28.—[Special by Telephone.]—W. H. Haskell fell from one of the high tramway towers last evening, sustaining a fracture of his right leg. He is also thought to be injured internally. Mr. Haskell is a resident of Chicago and was spending a part of his summer vacation at the guest of T. Benton Leiter.

[The telephone line is not yet in good working order, and further particulars of the accident are unobtainable.]

The activity attendant upon the building of two new stamp mills in the Bald Mountain country will prove of much benefit to the Meadow Creek people. One of these plants is for the Bald Mountain Mining Company which is composed of San Francisco capitalists. Mr. De Golia, one of the directors of the company was, in Virginia this week. This mill will have 20 stamps and a saw mill, the machinery for which arrived at Norris last Thursday and will be put in position as soon as possible. A bucket tramway, 2500 feet in length will connect the mine with the mill. Mr. McKelvey of the Little Kid mine, which is situated near the Bald Mountain company's property, also has the new machinery for a 10 stamp mill at Norris and will put it up some time this fall.

Fairweather Tent, No. 12, Knight of the Maccabees was instituted in this city Thursday evening by Deputy Supreme Commander, J. D. James. The New lodge has a very fair membership and is officered as follows: Martin McLean, past commander; J. S. Dewitt, commander; Luther Buford, lieutenant commander; Ira French, recorder; T. Jake Lowman, financier; C. J. Wesley, chaplain; LeRoy Southmayd physician; Lew. L. Callaway, sergeant; Knute Ellingson, first master of the guards; H. Green second master of the guard; Frank Pouts, master at arms; James How, sentinel; Joe Pote, picket.

Mon Kee, who claims to be the trustee of the Chinese Temple has brought suit in Justice McGown's court against Au Wing to recover $270 alleged to be due as rent. Au Wing claims that the Temple is "allege same fee mason hall," and he is entitled to its privilege. Mon Kee knows a thing or two, however, and has retained all the attorneys in town, leaving the defendant without counsel. In this interesting status the case will come before Justice McGown today.

Jas. Waller of Leiterville has been quite ill the past two weeks, but under the skillful nursing of Mr. Haskell and Jimmie Leiter "our old college chum" is coming out all right.

The literary society met Wednesday evening and adjourned to meet the first Wednesday in November, at which time a literary programme will be given.

en. Quite a large number were in attendance.

Oliver Reese, an employ of Gordon Brothers, of Meadow Creek, suffered the fracture of his left fore arm, Wednesday. He fell from a load of hay and the wagon wheel passed over him. Dr. Pinckney attended him.

Ranchmen who have potatoes to sell better hold them a while for better prices, as we understand there will be a scarcity of that product in Butte this winter. Patrick Carney says the Waterloo crop is almost an entire failure.

W. H. Conway has been awarded the contract for hauling the McKelvey mill from Norris to the Little Kid mine on Bald mountain. The machinery to be moved weighs about 80 tons and Mr. Conway will receive therefor $20 per ton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Thompson of Helena, after spending several days here left Tuesday morning for Red Bluff. Mr. Thompson is one of the executors of the R. O. Hickman estate and is in the county looking after the affairs of the estate.

J. C. Feaster of Red Bluff, a young mining man, well known in this city, received the intelligence a few weeks ago of the death of a relative in New York state, of whose will, Mr. Feaster is the sole beneficiary. The estate is of considerable value and consists principally of landed property.

Ed Congden of Butte is in town looking after his own interests as well as those of the Bennett Implement Co., of Butte. Mr. Congden says the Gaylord ditch and all bridges etc., over said ditch will be completed in about ten days, and the company is excavating and laying the foundation for the reduction works.

Madison county, the ever famous for its fast horses; the native home of the great Spokane, that invaded even Kentucky and laid low the vaunted pride of the thoroughbreds—man and horse—that well therein, of Frank Quirk (by defiance' he by Commodore Belmont) the fastest horse yet produced from a "cold-blooded" mare, and others too numerous to mention, has again sent her name forth in a manner more emphatic than ever by the recent triumph of Iago in the land of the kings and queens of the trotting turf.

Iago was bred at Belmont Park, sired by Tempest, out of Eulogy, by Commodore Belmont, second dam Gracie H. by Fancy Goldust. It will be noticed that the dam of Iago was bred in Madison county, also, and that her sire is the great horse that has for so many years stood the undisputed head of the Montana horse kingdom, Commodore Belmont.

Iago is the only Montana horse training in California this year, and by his achievement in conquering the best of California, places himself not only as the fastest trotter ever bred in Montana, but directly in line to national championship. This great horse was sold by W. H. Raymond, his breeder, to Morehouse and Williams, at the age of two years. The next fall he was taken to California and placed in training the following spring, and in September made a record of 2:17, which was the world record for three year old geldings at that time. Last year he reduced his record to 2:15 as he is only five years old now he should improve for a number of years, and as he trotted the middle half of his last race in 1:24; a 2:05 gait, which is within a second and a quarter of the world's best trotting record, it is not unlikely that he may yet set the pace for them all.

The following is from the San Francisco Chronicle of the 9th inst.: Iago demonstrated to-day that he is the fastest trotter in training in California. Driven by that master reinsman, Tom Keating, he captured the 2-14 trot in straight heats. The first heat was made in 2:11, which is the fastest mile trotted on the California circuit this year by two seconds. Zombro trotted a sensational mile. He was only beaten a length by Iago in the first heat and was separately timed from wire to wire in 2:14, the fastest mile trotted in a race this year on any track in America by a three year old, and the best mile ever trotted by a three year old in a class race. The middle half was trotted by both Iago and Zombro in 1:02; a 2:05 gait. This heat was the feature of the day's sport. Summary. Trotting, 2:14 class. Purse 1000.
