Chicago Admirers Turn Out by the Thousand to Greet Eugene V. Debs.

Hundreds Struggle to Grasp His Hand and Many Hug and Kiss Him.

Central Music Hall Crowded in the Evening to Hear His Address.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Eugene V. Debs spoke in Central Music hall during the evening to an audience that taxed the seating and standing capacity of the hall. Most of the leading labor organizations were represented and the reception accorded to the leader of the American Railway union was cordial in the extreme.

Eight carloads of Debs' friends went down to Woodstock to greet him on his release from jail and several thousand men were at the station of the Northwestern road when the train bearing Debs and his friends arrived at 7:30 o'clock. The reception given Debs as he stepped from the train bordered on the frantic.

Hundreds Pushed and Struggled to get a grasp of his hand, many of them hugged him and some went to the length of kissing him. Finally he was tossed up to the shoulders of four men and, followed by a dense throng that never for one instant stopped its shouts and cheers, he was escorted to the hall, about one mile distant. The warmth of the reception given him at the depot was repeated when he entered the hall, with the exception that the men were unable to get close to him and contented themselves with cheering and waving their hats.

The speech delivered by Debs, which was received with great applause by his audience, referred mainly to his recent imprisonment and protested against the flagrant violation of the constitution.
