The local team has been playing great ball for the past week and the fans are in the seventh heaven again. The mighty Parkersburgers have come and gone, only taking one of the four games played and that through the ineffectiveness of Gould.

Friday's game was an awful slaughter, resulting in the score of 27 to 5. The home team making 25 hits off the three pitchers used by Parkersburg. Saturday's game was a little better with the score of 12 to 5, and 14 hits too our credit.

Manager Mack tried out a new pitcher in the game Saturday, and the way he handled the sphere in that game, it is a pretty safe bet that he will have a steady job for the balance of the season. His name is Jarrett and he came her from Morgantown, W. Va.,

The three games scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, here have been transferred to Charleston, the team returning here Sunday morning for a series of four games with the Huntington club. A double header will be played again Sunday and a large crowd is expected as the Huntington team has taken over the Mountain state team at that place, which team is said to be the best in the Ohio Valley. Excursions will be run from the Pomeroy Bend and from Leon down.

LADIES AID SOCIETY

ENJOYS TWO PLEASANT OUTINGS.—ELEGANT LUNCHEONS SERVED.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church closed their year's work, with two very delightful outings. The first being on Wednesday afternoon, June the eighth, when the members of the society and a few friends met at Miss Maud Kisar's, and from there went to Ella Hutchinson's in Henderson.

The cordial hospitality of the hostess made each one feel that she was indeed welcome. It was an ideal day for an outing, and the time was spent by the ladies on the large old fashioned porch and beautiful lawn, enjoying the magnificent view of the rivers. At six o'clock a most delightful supper was served, and as the shadows lengthened the guests returned home, carrying with them pleasant recollections of the afternoon spent with their friends in her old colonial home.

The second social meeting was the following Wednesday, when the Aid accepted the invitation of one of its members, Miss Francis Maupin, for luncheon at her beautiful home at Arbuckle. Miss Maupin was assisted in entertaining by Miss Katharine Hollway, of Aruckle, both of whom met the party at the early morning train, and gave to each guest a most cordial welcome.

A number of their friends had been invited to meet the Aid, and it was a large and merry party that sat down to the delightful three course lunch at one o'clock. Four young girls, the Misses Evelyn and Louise Maupin, Helen and Margaret Waggener, nieces of Miss Maupin, served the lunch in a most charming manner. Miss Margaret Waggener was just returned from Buchanan, where she was one of this year's graduates.

The house was a profusion of beautiful roses, and when the time came to leave, each one was given a bunch to carry home, cut from the large rose garden.

The weather was again delightful and the day passed only too quickly, and all were loath to leave the charming home with its pleasant company, the cool shade of the big trees, hammocks, swings and rustic seats.

Miss Maupin is a busy woman having taken up her father's mercantile business, but she finds time to give this annual enjoyment to her friends that is most thoroughly appreciated by them.

Those present from Arbuckle were Mesdames P. S. Couch, G. R. Maupin, V. S. Oshel, C. B. Waggener, J. L. Sebrell, Misses Kate Arbuckle, Rhoda Long, Mary Long, Margaret Waggener, Helen Waggener, Evelyn Maupin, Louise Maupin, Ona King, Katharine Holloway, Lida Waggener, Anna Sayers, Messrs. Mace Maupin, Dr. Waggener, J. A. Waggener, C. B. Waggener Jr., C. G. Holloway, D. W. Maupin, Masters Russell, John Horton, and Charles Oshel.

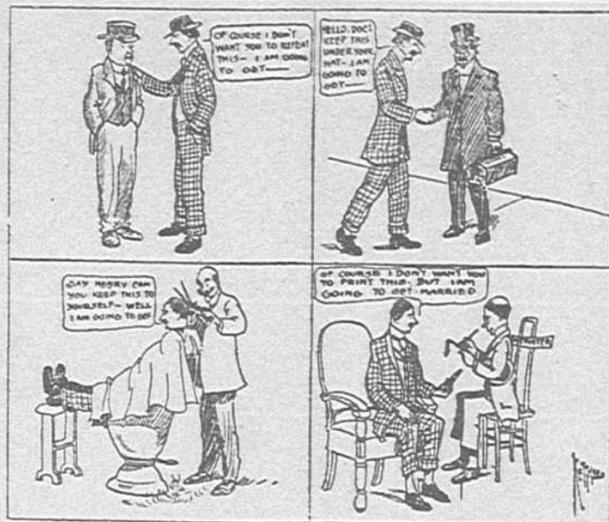

From Point Pleasant, Mesdames Ella Jamison, Anna Ryan, I. E. W. McKinley, Wm. Haynes, Wm. Steenbergen, John McCulloch, W. H. H. Gardner, John Stortz, W. H. Clark, Vesta Hawkins, Wm. Steinbach, P. Buxton, Charles Filson, H. F. Burnside, Misses Euna Clark, Maude Kisar, Helen Buxton, Helen and Hylda Steinbach, Marion Burnside, Master Harold Haynes.

STILL HIGHER

FOOD SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS CONTINUE TO ADVANCE.

Constant allusion to high prices may not cater to summer enjoyment but certainly high prices do not. Before the sultry season arrives, it may be profitable for all to gather some of the facts and figures connected with current exorbitance that reflections may operate to bring some conviction regarding its remedy. There is an announcement of a further increase in meat prices at Chicago, and the news of better organization boycott under way. The only devisable excuse for such continuous raising of beef prices is that of the scarcity of cattle on the Western ranges. The reliable reports do not confirm such a state of alleged depletion of herds.

The cattle raiser would howl dismally were the tariff to be reduced or removed from importations to supply the domestic shortage of cattle and beef products but were a revision made to reduce the excessive cost of everything he uses on the farm he would willingly sacrifice his own modicum. The very diversity, complexity, and peculiarities of many reasons, in assorted sizes, given for high prices weaken the faith of the people for the definite and rational and designed effect of a high protective tariff appeals to them as providing the main explanation.

The National bureau of labor has just published a report of wholesale prices based on an inquiry into 257 commodities. The impressive fact is officially stated that during March, 1910, wholesale prices were 7.5 per cent higher than in March, 1909; 10.2 per cent higher than in August, 1909; 21.1 per cent higher than the average yearly price in 1900, and 49.2 per cent higher than the yearly price of 1897. That was the year of the Dingley law installment. These figures are supported by the experience in the average household. If, therefore, tariff revision appears to the vast majority of people to be the direct and proximate remedy why not attempt it honestly, and not suffer the continued burden, and seek surcease by ascribing high prices to some occult, ghostlike world influence luxury, etc. If lower rates prove not the cure restoration of the higher will be easy.—Pittsburg Post.

DEATH OF MRS. J. E. HUSTON.

Mrs. J. E. Huston, formerly of this place, died at the home of her brother, Judge E. H. Brght, at Logan, Ohio, Monday evening, from infirmities incidental to old age. She was 72 years old at the time of her death. Deceased was a daughter of Rev. Samuel H. Price, of Webb Summit, Hocking County, Ohio, and the mother of William Huston, who up until a year ago was employed in this office as a compositor. She was here about a year ago and nursed her son, William, through a long illness, at the home of Mrs. Love, where he boarded at that time. Mrs. Huston was a life long member M. E. Church, during her residence here was a faithful attendant at the Trinity church, among the members of which she had countless friends.

She is survived by two sons, William of Huntington and Charles of Columbus, her husband preceded her to the great beyond, some eight or ten years ago.

The funeral services will be held at Logan and Rev. W. E. L. Correll, formerly pastor at the Trinity Church here, will probably officiate.

Dr. J. H. Pullin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pullin, of Heights, Graduate of the San Francisco, Veteritarian College and with two years in the Chicago Veterinarian College has taken up his residence at Santa Ana, California where he has a hospital. The many friends of E. Pullin, in this county will wish him an abundance of success and good luck.

FOLK INDORSED

FOR PRESIDENT BY MEMBER OF MISSOURI DEMOCRAT LEAGUE.

Former Governor Joseph Wingate Folk, whom his friends are booming for the Democratic nomination for President in 1912, probably received a greater ovation from the Missouri Democratic League at the Folk-for-President banquet at the Southern Hotel last night than was ever accorded him in his campaigns throughout the State.

More than 500 members of the league from practically every county of Missouri were present. They were headed by Chairman Lon Sanders of St. Louis, and the meeting was presided over by W. D. Vandiver, former Insurance Commissioner and former Congressman.

All the State Democratic officials at Jefferson City attended and indorsed the movement to make Governor Folk the presidential nominee. His candidacy was also indorsed by James A. Reed of Kansas City, candidate for the United States Senate and Norman J. Colman, Secretary of Agriculture in President Cleveland's Cabinet.

It is probable that last night's meeting will result in the permanent organization of the league in the interest of Folk for President.

A telegram from Congressman Champ Clark, declaring that nobody had been authorized to use his name in connection with the presidential nomination was read amidst enthusiasm. The telegram was addressed to W. L. Gupton, member of the State Committee of the Ninth Congressional District, and was read by Charles M. Hay of Fulton. It follows:

"I am a candidate for Congress and for the speakership. Nobody is authorized to announce me for President."

(Signed) "CHAMP CLARK."
On motion of Mr. Hay, greetings were sent from the Folk meeting to Congressman Clark, assuring him of the support of the Missouri Democratic League for the speakership and that they would put Mr. Folk in the White House as his leader and co-worker.

The meeting closed with the adoption of a resolution by a rising vote, pledging those present to lend their efforts to the movement to put Mr. Folk in the White House. The resolution was offered by former Congressman Riley Hall of Glasgow. Three cheers then were given for the guest of honor.

Norman J. Colman created a furor of enthusiasm by declaring that Mr. Folk had elements of strength which no other Democrat in the nation could present. He said that in his experience of sixty years in Missouri he had never seen such a representative crowd as that which greeted Mr. Folk last night. He declared that if Mr. Folk were nominated, he would be elected President.

This statement coming from a former member of Cleveland's Cabinet, was taken as significant and was greeted with prolonged cheers.

Mr. Folk did not commit himself regarding the presidency in his address, which was devoted to a scathing criticism of the Republican administration. He declared the fight against graft in the National Government must go on, and pointed to instances of graft during the last few years in Republican misrule. He declared against the protective tariff, which he characterized as "legal graft," favored an income tax and more government by the people in the interest of the common good. What was needed, he said, was not a new party, but the preservation of the ideals of the old Democratic party to which the public was looking for relief from present conditions.

Governor Folk was introduced by Mr. Vandiver, who was introduced by Chairman Lon Sanders of the league. Both speakers paid a high tribute to Mr. Folk.
