"There was a telegraph dispatch received in this city on Saturday last, announcing the death of Rev. Geo. S. Holmes, who departed this life at Elizabethtown, Pa., on the night of the 8th inst. The deceased had been a resident of this city some two years, except at intervals-having declined preaching regularly owing to family afflictions and declining health. Of the immediate cause of his death we did not learn. but understand that the recent loss of a much beloved son, hastened him to a premature grave."

BURNING OF THE STEAMER MANCHESTER .- WE learn that the steamer Manchester, lying about one mile below Pittsburgh, took fire on Wednesday and was entirely consumed.

The Manchester was a large side-wheel boat which came out last Fall, and had been running chiefly as a Pittsburgh and St. Louis packet. She was owned principally by Capt. Bowman of of Brownsville.

The fire is supposed to have originated from a pipe which one of the hands was smoking on board.

TO THE MILLIONS From foothless bases of mineless weeks,
To prattling lokers in the streets;
From girls and boys that read at achool,
To office clerks upon their stools;
From the budding of love at sweet seventeen.
To the Caudle explosions of all honeymoun dreams;
From mid-way years of man ind his wife,
To advancing days and celling life;
From the spectacled few, who with astonishment gaze
At the wondrous things of these modern days,— Is heard this general exclamation, Have you usen Livon's Katharron?
Grey heads and bald in concert sing.
The magic of this powerful thing,

Grey heads and bald in concert sing.
The magic of this powerful thing,
That starts the roots of hair long dead,
And covers up the once bald head;
While the truant locks, so harsh and stiff,
That used to vex the pretty miss—Now around her shoe dera twirt
In such rich, luxurant curls, The sight or touch, you know not which,
Sets men a sinning, and their heads be witch'd.
The Dandruft—vexed stuff—hat once did fall O'er broad eloth coals, and collars soil, You number with the things that were,
By using Kathairon on the hair.

the least objectionable, since its animating spir it is essentially in harmony with the free spirit o our institutions. It even benefits us by the ex-aunie of popular mass gatherings so brimmin with the sentiment of liberty, and yet kept s orderly, harmonious and peaceful by a certain practically religious worship of Art with Lib-erty, which it is refreshing and encouraging to witness.

"But the interesting question about it is: Win singing, which is only technically distinct from the German 'part-singing,' is a growing passion with our young men. A large proportion of our so-called 'glees,' are adaptations from the German part song; and German music takes every day a deeper hold upon American sympathies and tastes than any other music. We would not have the charm of a separate nationality in these German festivals dissolved; but we should be pleased to see Americans and Germans, (in this great land of blended nationalities, where all and universal people,) mingling together and ma-king common cause in this great work of devel-oping a popular musical sentiment. Why may examples in this sphere of art.) and be affiliated over the country, and hold annual festivals at iidsummer at different points in turn? We can not but think it is in the very tendency of things that this shall naturally and gradually come about.

We read that in the Philadelphia festival, this week, a club of native Philaderphians took their pound, in perfect good faith to an editor, a series of interrogatories that it would perplex Edipus himself to answer. Questions disconnected and difficult of solution are daily asked of the unhappy nortal who happens to be the editor of a dail paper, and who is therefore incontinently set down n an omnium gatherum of astruse lore and univer an information.

This unlimited trust in editorial erudition is undoubtedly flattering to the profession. It is pleasant to be locked up to as indispulable authority; but we submit that some definite limits should be assigned to the boundless anticipations of the pub-lic in this respect. Editors are perforce tolerabl well indoctrolated in many things which the public can know but little. Their vocation compels them to obtain a familiarity with the current annals of the times; to, know something of history; and to be enabled quickly and decisively to form an opinion, trace a theory, expound a doctrine, and master a narrative. All this editors must do, or they misbecome their position. Rut it is scarcely fair to consider each distinct individual of the species as a Magliabecchi or an admirable Crich ton. The only wonder is that, in view of the exhausting and incessant toil to which he must dai y and nightly buckle himself, he should possibly contrive to keep together in his trains a constant seething aggl.meration of miscellaneous knowledge, adding daily to the huge reservoir, and at a ment's warning prepared to separate from thi undigested heap precisely that portion wanted for mmediate use; to take it in hand, prune it, shape it, make the most of it, send it fourth to live, like the Ephemerae, its brief span of a single day, and then to float down the stream of time, an inert may labor-how prodigally endowed with genius taste and discrimination, or how splendidly enrich ed with the fruits of unrelaxing study—his pro-ductions are in the nature of things, emphatically perishable. Costly weres though they be, purchased at the price of health, privation, and pain ful research, they have no vitality beyond their al lotted hour. If the actor "struts and frets alor the stage and then is heard no more," the editor's fame is even more transient. Rarely indeed does it survive the setting sun of the day that witnesses the circulation of his happiest efforts. Immortality is wholly and utterly beyond his aspirations.

A Trance-Burying Alive.

A paper was read before the French Academy Science, in which the following extraordinary instance was addiced as a reason for abolishing the present custom of burying so soon after

A young female had been twice pronounce lead, when only in a trance, but had recovered in time to prevent being buried alive. A third trance came on, and in consequence of what had previ-ously occurred, permission was obtained from the constituted authorities for the body to remain above the ground as long as decomposition should not take place. A week—ten days past away— there was still no decomposition; but all the medi-cal men declared that she was dead, and at length she was laid in her coffin. Only a few minutes before the coffin was nailed down, and while the bell of the village church was already tolling for he funeral; a friend from an adjoining village, a school fellow of the supposed deceased came to take a last farewell. She stooped to kiss the lip of herdeparted friend, and remained in that pos-tion for some time. The by-standers attenuated to remove her, lest her emoticn should be injurious to her. She waved them off with her hand, and remained in that position, with her lips upon those of her departed triend, and breathing as it turned out afterward, the warm breath of life into he ungs. At length she exclaimed, "She lives!

and rising from the body pointed out unequivocal signs of life. She then stated that as she was kiss-ing her friend, she fancied she felt her breathe, and in a few minutes was convinced of the fact The female who was supposed to be dead, was taken out of the ceilin and placed in a warm bed, in the course of a few hours fully revived. She stated that she was, during her tronce fully sensi the Pittsburg Saturday Visitor, that it is extrava-gauce and imprudence, and nothing else, which keep the laboring clases in the power of capital.—

"The way to become independent," continues Mrs. Swisshelm, is "for every man to live on hal his wages, or less, if possible, until he buys and pays for an acre of ground, tences it, builds on it a house large and close enough to shelter himself and family from a winer storm. This is his fort.

Then let him take all the time he now spends in taverns and other lounging places, to lay in stores of amunition and provisions, in the shape of useful knowledge, gleaned from books and papers and grape-vines, trees, potatoes and cabbages, growing in his enclosure. If he plants every foo of it with something pleasant to the eye and good for food, no tyrannical employer can starve him into any degrading submission;" Mrs. Swiss helm's article on this subject ought to be posted up on the walls of every workshop in the country.

The proprietor has long devoted his attention to this particular branch of domestic conomy, and passing from one improvement to another, has, at length, arrived as near reflection as is possible to reach. A proof of this is found in the very general use of these Coolers in all parts of the country. A simple statement of facts in regard to these Coolers will satisfy every one of their superiority. First, they are furnished with two distinct one conducting char berts, by means of which, with two pounds of ice to the gallon, water is kept at a temperature of 40° above zero, or eight degrees from freezing (all day.) Thus, at a cost of some three cents per day, a family of ordinary size can be constantly supplied with water as cold as the itself, large numbers in the same proportion. This has been found by actual experiment to be a saving of at least 75 per cent, over the earthen jars to merily used for this purpose.

Again, these Coolers arever swearts in this way saving much unnecessary waste and trouble.

Jeing manufactured in the most workmanific style, and handsomely finished in every respect, they make a beautiful o manner for dining room, hotel, or sicambout.

Music among the Germans Professor Alex. C. Barry's Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound, for beautifying, curing, preserving, restoring, a strengthening the hair, reliving diseases of the skin, curing rheumate pains, and healting externation of Barry's tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have hiceased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Professor Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order in quantities of from half a gross upwards, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950, 600. Dwight's Ausical Journal, in the course of some excellent remarks on the late musical union of the Germans at Philadelphia, says:
"But to us Americans this spectacle is inter esting in another aspect. At first we look on sim ply as a charming national custom, which ou German neighbors have brought over with them It is characteristic and imposing, and we enjoy it as an importation of that genial, happy, social, and artistic life, which has seemed so ideal as we read about it, and which it is so pleasant to have brought under our own immediate observation.— Its nationality give it a pleasant piquancy viewed as a speciatio outside of us, and cannot be in

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidence of the It is unnecestary to present at length the evidence of the wonderful properties of the tricopherous when the public have furnished ance an endor sement as this. The cheapness of the art die, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the lair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired, Every bottle advertised tiself. The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country desire in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hither to wheard of as regards articles of this kind. The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed the sales this year will be a million and half of bottles.
