SINGULAR FATALITY. -The editor of the New York Sunday Times mentions, as a curious fact, that, during the past week, on looking over his exchange papers, he counted no less than eleven infants, within a circuit of three hundred miles, that have perished in the flames.

Bernen .- A little German girl whose name we did not learn, residing on Main street in the First Ward, was severely burned yesterday by her clothes taking fire. Singular enough, the fames were not discovered until she was returning to the house with a bucket of water. A eark of fire having probably lodged in her dothes before she went out, was fanned into a fame as she passed along the street.

STEAMER BURNED.—The fine steamer Mediator, bound from Cincinnati for New Orleans, with a valuable cargo of eight hundred tons of produce, was burned on Friday night last, thirty miles below Vicksburg. The Mediater was built at Cincinnati, had just commenced her fourth season, and was one of the best passenger and freight boats in the trade. She originally cost $35,000, and was worth $22,000. This is the eleventh boat destroyed by fire on the Western waters during the past five weeks.

FOUND DROWNDED .- The coroner of Louisville nan which was hemmed in the ice at the head of the island. It was recognised as that of Professor Heidelberger. He was a man of great ability and formerly held a high position in one of the universities in Germany. He took a prominent part in the revolutionary movements in his native country and had to seek refuge in the Unitel States. He resided in Louisville since last summer. The verdict of the coroner's jury was "Found Drowned-"

Closen.-The contract is closed and the work ompleted. Night before last did the job, and did it well, too. The Ohio river, which whilom flowed in liquid beauty and majesty past this city, is now frozen over as tight as a drum head, and the boys yesterday were playing upon it with great glee. It closed upon six feet and six inches of water, and the ice is already about as thick as a nine inch wall. THE WATER WORKS,-A general consternation was produced yesterday morning by the announcement that the supply of water had been cut off from the city by the bursting, freezing up, blowing up, or drying up of the main pipe leading from the Water Works to the Basin .-Dreadful reports of a two weeks' thirst, with no water to quench it, were rife, and visions of a besieged and blockaded city, compared with which the siege of Troy was a triffing circumstance, were looming up frightfully before our darmed citizens, while insurance agents and proerty holders carefully inspected their policies, to ee that all might be right in the event of a uniersal conflagration. In the midst of this dire arm we thought it best to ascertain the worst, aid with great trepidation we repaired to the ater Works, where we found the damages to as follows: One section of one of the main pes supplying the basin, burst, within the Wa-"Works building, owing probably" to defecive iron; one engine (for there are two-wise

Senate.—Several memorials were presented from Naval officers, complaining of the action of the Naval Board.

Mr. Brodhead agreed with the Sec'y, of the Navy, that a remedy may be afforded in cases where errors of judgment may have deprived the country of the services of meritorious offieas. He trusted that the Committee on Naval Affairs would give the subject a due considera-

Mr. Benjamin said if wrong had been done, it was chargeable in a great measure to Congress. He thought the Secretary of the Navy made a mistake in recommending to the President the adoption in toto of the action of the board. The adoption in toto of the action of the board. The congress of the Secretary of the Secretary of the Navy made a mistake in recommending to the President the adoption in toto of the action of the board. The congress of the Secretary of the Navy made a mistake in recommending to the President the adoption in toto of the action of the board. The control of the Secretary remedy lies with the Executive, who appointed the power. Congressional legislation would be inappropriate and inefficient and would do more harm than good.

Mr. Mason said the services of competent and gallant officers of Virginia had been dispensed with; the innocent had been confounded with the guilty; the board looks like a court which I HAVE just received another lot of Boots and Shoes from condemns first and hears afterwards.

Mr. Hale presented a memorial from Geo. A. Stevens, late master in the Navy, praying for redress, and moved it be referred to the Committee on Judiciary. He contended that the law under which the Board acted was unconstitutional because it violated all the great principles for the preservation of property and personal rights and was expost facto in its operations. The subject was then passed over informally, when the Senate adjourned till Monday.

The House continued in session all night, and vas occupied by desultory debate involving the olitical positions of members, interspersed with allots for Speaker, all proving ineffectual. Mr. Campbell of Ohio, referred to the letter of Mr. Giddings in the Ashtabula Sentinel, sta-ting that it was fairly declarable from its tenor, hat he wishes to get a vote for himself. At 1 o'clock this morning Mr. Paine made an aeffectual motion for Orr and then for Smith of Vla., to temporarily occupy the Chair until a peaker was elected. Two ballots were then taken, the last of which stood: Banks 88; Richardson 62; Fuller 27; Pennington 6; Scattering 4; Necessary to a Much time was consumed in calling the roll on the previous question, and frequent motions to adjourn. Members were sleeping or dozing around the Hall upon chairs or sofas, others renaining on guard to rouse them up when their otes were required.

Several members stigmatized the scenes enacted as most disgraceful, and though they would be willing to stay four hours longer if they thought any good could be effected, but thought etter, under the circumstances, to ny such imputation. Mr. Campbell of Ohio, challenged any friend to say that such was his desire, and defended nimself from the charges of the N. Y. Tribune, of being a doughface. He stated that he had ever, in principle, been opposed to the extension f slavery and challenged all mankind to prove the contrary; and avowed in strong terms his devotion to the principles of the American

Mr. Winslow moved that the House adjourn till Friday.

The Democrats in giving reasons for voting in the affirmative, notwithstanding the resolution adopted in caucus not to adjourn or take recess till election of Speaker, said that they thus re-solved in good faith to give the majority an opportunity to organize; they were now satisfied of the impracticability of the experiment, Mr. Letcher said he was perfectly satisfied that the prospect of some of the colored Republicans for the kingdom of heaven was better now than of an election of Speaker, of which there was no earthly probability. Etheridge remaked—the democrats had decated the organization by taking the responsibilof holding 150 other men in chains,

Bowie replied by saving the Americans have the power to organize by uniting on the demoratic candidate for Speaker-let them come up nd save the country.

Washburn of Maine, defended the Republicans com the charge that they are responsible for the failure of an organization.

Mr. Lindley said he had seen no disgraceful cts, but merely good humor on the part of the gentlemen engaged in debate. Mr. Giddings said that so far as relates to the onduct of gentlemen on this floor it was equal his expectations. (Laughter.) He tendered his friends (the Republicans) his thanks for their kindness and decorous behavior, and said the democrats that their conduct was better than he expected, (laughter.) As no good could be effected by prolonging the contest; he voted with the other Republicans to adjourn.

The House then adjourned at half past 8 A. M., till Friday by 10 majority.
