-WHEELING, VA:-WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1856.

THE FILLMORE MEETING. At this time we have but a few words to say in regard to the Fillmore meeting held in the court house on Monday evening, to appoint delegates to the Old Line Whig Convention to be held soon in the city of Richmond. We were not present at the meeting, but understand the attendance was quite respectable in numbers, but composed principally of Know Nothings and Democrats, drawn together perhaps by curiosity. The number actively participating in the meeting, was small. One of the officers, we believe, is a member of the K. N. party, and several of the delegates belong to the same organization, while one of them at least, is not now nor never was a Whig, but always acted with the Democrats, in fact, was a prominent member of that party in Ohio, and has not affillated with the Whigs during the short time he has resided in Virginia. We are very much mistaken if any such gauze-like trap as this, will succeed in catching the Old Line Whigs. We want no better evidence of the design of the meeting, than is presented in the fact that the resolution disapproving of the Black Republican nomines was declared adopted without taking the negative vote, and only four or five gentlemen voting in the affirmative, which was about the number of regular Old Line Whigs participating in the meeting. This same resolution, we are told, appears in print very much modified from the language in which it was read at the meeting. Had that meeting been composed, as it should have been, entirely of Old Line Whigs, the resolution would have been adopted by a unanimous vote, and no necessity would have existed for modifying its language for pub-

Some of the most prominent of the Old Line Whiga in the city, did not know of the meeting until after it was too late to attend, while others who have herotofore taken an active part in everything relating to that party, was not informed of, much less consulted as to the meeting. It won't pass for an Old Line Whig meeting in this community.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE. As will be seen from their advertisement in another column, the running time on the Ciucin ati, Wilmington, and Zanesville Railroad has been changed to hours better suited to the accommodation of the traveling public. We are pleased to learn that this road is in excellent running order, and is increasing the amount of its business, both as regards freights and passengers, and the judicious activity now displayed by the gentlemen at the heads of the different departments, must terminate in beneficial results. The appointment of Mr. Bagley was the best that could be made to the general superintendency, and will increase the confidence in the ultimate success of the Road. The freight department, at the east end of the Road, receives the personal superintendence of H. K. Smith, Esq., a gentleman of great experience in railroad business, and every way qualified to manage the business to the satisfaction of shippers and the profit of the Company.

This route is a pleasant one to pass over to Cincinnati. Running, as it does through the very heart of the great agricultural district of Ohio, with a solid track and comfortable cars, travelers have presented to them an opportunity to see and judge of those natural resources which have, in a few years, raised that State from a wilderness, to the third in population and wealth in the Union, and at the same time feeling that they have enjoyed a comfortable ride, over a good road, with agreeable officers.

At Zanesville, for the benefit of passengers en this Road and the Central Ohio, has been ablished an eating house, under the manage ment of Messrs. Wait & Ellis. We have severally times refreshed ourself at this house, and as we were an entire stranger to every one in and about it, and paid for our meals, we can take the liberty of assuring our way-faring friends that they will always find a table well supplied with the best the country affords, and will be allowed plenty of time to eat it in, and enjoy a "weed" afterwards.

From the New York Herald. THE PEOPLE PLUNDERED. Public Lands Given Away to Speculators-An Honest Man in Congress.

The Herald has from time to time called the attention of its readers to the gigantic schemes of plunder which are now concocting at Washington. It has exposed the method by which vs are pressed through Congress, giving away millions of acres of the public lands to privat corporations; how they originate, how they are managed in committee, and smuggled through the House. At last we have a response from the right quarter. Virginia is aroused. Mr. Letcher, a member of Congress from that State, has come to the rescue, and his speech is worthy of the closest attention and the highest

The public lands are the property of the peo ple; they form a vast domain out of which, as the country progresses, was to be carved the cheap and fertile possessions of the industrious or, the homes of the emigrant and the asylum of the sxile.

But speculative cupidity is at work to defeat this noble policy, so worthy of the republic and so favorable to humanity. Corporations for the construction of railways are rising up in every quarter where these lands lie, and, by an adroit manipulation, the most nefarious projects are carried on under the sanction of Congress. It appears, from the speech of Mr. Letcher, that e system is so well contrived that it is hardly possible to resist it. Bills reported by commit tees, giving away millions of acres, rarely, if ev-er, printed, are read hastily from the Clerk's desk, and passed by the force of the previous nestion, almost without notice.

It is urged that the lauds thus given away to railway companies benefit the alternate sections which are reserved, and that the treasury is a gainer by the process. So far from this, it is found in practice that the land offices, upon any rise taking place, are frequently closed, or if not, the speculators, who have obtained the grants, rush in and secure what is left. For this they immediately demand the largest prices, and the emigrant finds himself unable to purchase. In some of these Congressional grants, it is true, a price is fixed for those government lands which remain; but it is an advance of one hundred per cent at the existing valuation. Very strangely, too, the very men who have always been guarding the public lands as a public treasure, are now mysteriously in favor of parting with them to build up monopolies a thousand times worse than the United States Bank ever was, and who at the same time approve every veto which de-stroys an appropriation for the removal of obstroys an appropriation for the removal of obstructions in rivers navigated with equal freedom by all the States.

Mr. Letcher exposes the effects of those grants with expressive from the consequences which will rusult and are already remiting from the carrying of these unscrupulous and powerful corporations.

He had received authority from his government to conform, in such matters, entirely to the usages of this country; and he believed, in his own conscience, that it was wise and respectful to the highest lady in England that such established ceremony should be observed. He was accompanied in his cartiage by a gentleman of high military education and standing in the United States, who coveted the honor of being presented to the Queen, and the antecedent arrangement had been made for his presentation in the diplomatic circle. This gentleman, known to ourselves as of the kindest and most gentle manners, and to whom the public have been indebted for information that has appeared in the correspondence department of our journal, was dressed, not as the Times represents in yellow vest and military stock—justas he would have been had he presented himself to his commander-in-chief in his own country.—It did not occur to him or to the American Minister that there could be any possible objection.
