VIOLENT TORNADO ON THE OHIO .-- On the last trin down of the steamer Ohio No. 2, on the 21st, she encountered a heavy storm, near Gallipolis, attended with an exceedingly high wind, thunder and lightning. One account says that "large forest trees were prostrated like reeds, and a number of barns and out houses were blown from their places by the sheer force of the wind. A man driving a hay wagon, named Wm. T. Harrison, was struck by lightning and instant ly killed, as were four horses at the same time. A farmer named Wilson, was also injured and stunned by the fluid, but not fatally, and fourteen sheep were destroyed.

Man Drowned .- Singular Circumstance .-On last Monday a number of men brought a flat boat containing tan bark up to this city from Sunfish, and after discharging the bark on the Island, came over to the city, leaving a man named Jackson Stutson in charge of the boat. When the men returned to where the boat had been tied, they found the boat and Stutson both gone. Stutson's shoes were tying on the total together with his coat and some other clothing and Brownstille.

The boat was afterwards recovered, but nothing the boat was afterwards recovered at Hempfield Depot.

On Thursday night the body of a man was found floating in the river opposite Bellair, and was tied up to the shore to await the arrival of daylight and a proper disposition of the corpse. The body was recognised as that of Jackson Stutson. During the night the dogs had mangled and torn the body in a most shocking manner while it was tied up to the shore. Stutson resided near Sunfish. He is supposed to have been intoxicated when left in charge of the bark boat, and as soon as the rest of the men were gone, attempted to move the boat down stream and accidentally fell off into the water. The and accidentally fell off into the water. The body was properly disposed of.

MATRIMONIAL .- It would seem from the County Clerk's books that matrimony has lost favor with the most of young people, from some cause know very little about the institution. But we once in a while come across a devotee at the shrine, as instanced by the ardor of the subjects of this item. Yesterday morning, a young man answering to the anticuphonious name of Baggs, accompanied by a modest little girl named Miss.

The night was extremely dark and the position of the Moderator and Delegate was not observed in time for the pilot of the Chevoit to avoid them.
