-WHEELING, VA:-

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 2, 1858.

LATEST FROM EUROPS. - We publish important advices from India this morning. We also have an item stating that the relations of France still remain mysterious and threatening towards the Continental powers.

KANSAS NEWS .- We surrender a good deal of space to-day, to details of the recent terrible slaughter in Kansas, by a band of roving banditti. It is thought that this horrible affair will again arouse the people of the Territory to the most summary schemes of retaliation.

*** TAKEN IN THE ACT .- The ship Keziah, Captain and crew, judging by the despatch from Petersburg, Va., this morning, are in a bad

The old saw about the peculiar feeling of those who go out wooling and come home (in, this case brought back) fleeced, is particularly appropos to this case.

OUR OFFICE GETS A BOUQUET .- The almost dormant gallantry of this office has been deeply stirred by the reception of a beautiful bouquet from a pair of fair hands, that we could name. We have enshrined it here in our sanctum and every time we look upon it, and think of its fair donor, we feel a two-fold realization that. "A thing of beauty le a joy forever."

OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS .- No apology will be expected from us for the space which we today devote to the report of the Committee on Foreign Relations. The "British outrages" are now the talk of all news mongers and everything concerning our relations with England is of more or less interest and importance. By the way, too, an item of moment appears in our telegram this morning, concerning the despatches of Lord Napier, to the Commander of the British squadron in the Gulf.

BURNING UP THE EARTH.-The Millerites have been holding their convention in Baltimore and glorying over the number of converts to their Second Advent absurdity. They have omitted, this time, to state exactly when they conceived the earth was to be subjected to universal conflagration; but, as soon as they get their new computation in order, (the old ones having failed so lamentably,) they will doubtless enlighten us. In the meantime, any man who desires to give away all his property in advance of the world's destriction, may address the leaders in this Millerite movement. They will take good

A PLUCKY SENATOR .- The Hon. William Chappell, a member of the Wisconsin Senate, received $10,000 of the La Crosse and Milwaukie Railroad bribe two years ago, and was active in corrupting his legislative associates .--The Senate, at its recent session, voted 21 to 5, that he was guilty, and 18 to 9 that he was unworthy of a seat in the body. He, however, retained his seat. A mass meeting at Watertown, where he resides, held without distinction of party, unanimously requested him to resign. He refused. The Common Council of that city, a majority being his political friends, made a similar request by a vote of 7 to 5. But Mr. C. would not comply.

LIQUOR ROW AT SELMA, IND .- A row occurred at Selma, Ind., a few evenings since. The laby a man named Kirkpatrick, and he resisted. He locked the door and they hewed it down, and when they endeavored to enter it, he punched them with a stick, and Mrs. Ribble was considerably hurt. Her husband went to her assistance, and was knocked down by Kirkpatrick, and quite seriously hurt. A suit has been brought against Kirkpatrick, charging him with an assault with intent to kill.

Messrs. Campbell and McDermot: GENTS: I have sent a copy of the subjoined letter to the Editor of the Argus, but by some cause, he has not published it. You will oblige me by publishing it in your first issue.

Respectfully, your obedient servant, H. F. FERNY.

P. O. WHEELING, VA., June 1st, '58. John T. Russell, Esq: Six: I find in the columns of the Argus of yesterday, the following:
"The Democratic candidate for Sheriff in Ohio county had to encounter the opposition of two of the most lucrative Federal offices in the city."

If you intended to apply that remark to me,

I take leave to say that it is untrue. Your obedient servant, H. F. FERNY.

THE NEW POLITICAL PARTY .- The movement in Washington for the organization of a political party, in opposition to the present Administration, contemplates the adoption of the following principles: "The ignoring of all questions calculated to produce sectional strife; the protection of popular rights; a judicious system of internal im-provements; a settled and firm foreign policy; the prevention of the immigration of criminals and paupers; the protection of the ballot box, and an extended period of residence after naturalization, as a condition for the exercise of the the elective franchise; the fostering of American genius and art; every Territory rising into a State to have a constitution and laws formed by the people of the United States, who are permanent inhabitants therein, under such rules as Congress may prescribe, the object being a rec ognition of the essential principles and policy, in which all opponents of the Administration may

Montgomery's Marauders not Free State Men. but Simply Freebooters-Murder and Incendiarism-An Innocent Party of Free State Men set upon and Slaughtered-Missouri Invaded-Appeal to the Governor of Missouri.

> [Correspondence of the Missouri Democrat.] PLANTER'S HOTEL, LEAVENWORTH CITY, )

May 24th, 1858. Montgomery's mounted corps at Sugar Creek re undoubtedly a small band of highwaymen -and we hope that no respectable New York or St. Louis journal will undertake to apologize for their petty rascalities. But their attempt to fasten their acts upon the Free State men of the Territory is simply absurd. They are a few congregated bad men who levy black mail indiscriminately. Let me mention one or two of their late exploits: A Kentuckian of the name of Quidnuck (the name may not be spelled correctly), a stranger in the Territory, was traveling in the neighborhood of Sugar Creek, when he was set upon by a band of these marauders. He was in search of a claim to settle upon with his family, having previously sold his property in Kentucky. With one pistol to to his breast and one to his side, they interrogated him as to his business. Pretending to dissatisfied as to his answers, they ordered him to open a small valise which he carried in his He was not sufficiently prompt, it seems, so they snatched it from him and opened it themselves. It contained his clothing and $305 in gold coin, the latter in a pocket book. They took both the money and clothes, and as they rode off told him to leave the Territory. In the act of dismounting one of them had inadvertently dropped two newspapers-they had fallen out of his pocket-which Quidnuck picked up when they had gone out of sight. The name Dyer-a name conspicuous in Montgome ry's band-was written on both papers. the substance of a statement in detail made under oath by Quidnuck, before the Grand Jury recently convened at Fort Scott, and upon which an indictment for robbery against Dyer was found immediately. My informant, who is a gentleman of position (in politics a Free State Democrat), assured me that the Republicans were represented on the Grand Jury, of which he also was a member, and present when Quidnuck gave his statement. But the calendar of the crimes contain worse acts than this. In the case of Quidnuck, they robbed a poor man and a stranger. Fortunately they did not search his person. He had about a hundred dollars in his pocket, with which he has since purchased a claim. They merely robbed the poor man, but in a more recent case they exhibited the most brutal conduct. While plundering the house of a Free State man, they incountered some slight resistance from his wife-slight indeed it must have been-who it seems is a woman of spirit. The brutal set revenged themselves, by compelling her, under pain of instant death, to strip naked and pace up and down for a stated time, between their ranks. Did woman ever yet endure such degradation in a Christian land? The most lustful tribe of Indians, whose prisoners run the gaunt-let of the double file, would scorn such hideous and unmanly cruelty towards a woman. The precedent was furnished by the Sepoys of Delhi and Cawnpore but they are fanatical idoletars, who adore Vishnu the libidinous and destroying god. The party that was attacked and murder ed by Capt. Hamilton and his men-five killed and five wounded-was not of Montgomery's men. The massacre was wanton.

The Lawrence Republican extra, of May 23, gives the following curiously truthful account of the wholesale murder:

MONEKA, Linn co., K. T., May 20, 1858. Yesterday a party of pro-Slavery men, from Missouri, came into the "Trading Post," situated on the military road leading from Fort Scott to Fort Leavenworth, where it crosses the Osage river, about three miles from the State They were not seen until they emerged from the timber and rode up to the store. Here they took Mr. G. W. Andrews and John F. Campbell prisoners. They then started on the road towards Kansas City. They overtook here, a Mr. Stillwell, from Sugar Mound, who was going up to the river for a load of provis-They took him prisoner, and ordered the others to get into his wagon and ride. In a half mile further they came to a missionary, by the name of Rev. Charles Read. They ordered him into the wagon, and dismissed Andrews .-They continued on for two miles and a half, when they had taken twelve men.

These men had been taken when at their work, without resistance, and unarmed, and had never been implicated in the troubles in Kansas. They were conservative men.

On arriving at a deep ravine, in a skirt of timber, the commander called a halt. The prisoners were formed in a line, about five yards in advance of the horsemen. The command was given to "Present Arms!

Fire!" Every man dropped. Four were killed dead! all but one of the others were badly wounded. The Ruffians then wheeled their horses and galloped off. In a few minutes three of them returned and searched their victims for money. They kicked the men and colled them over very roughly to see if they were dead .-Finding one only slightly wounded, a Ruffian put a revolver to his ear and fired, remarking that he had always found that the most certain shot he could make. He took the key of the safe out of Campbell's pocket, saying, "there was money in that safe, and he would come back some night ad get it."

The names of the killed are: William Stillwell, of Sugar Mound, recently from Iowa. He is a young man, with a young and beautiful wife, and two young children.— He felt perfectly safe, remarking to a companion that "he was a Free Mason;" and it is said that a Free Mason, Dr. Hamilton, of Fort Scott, shot him. He was killed with a double barreled shot gun, loaded with pistol balls, charge entering his left breast. He was highly esteemed in his neighborhood, and his death will be avenged. Patrick Ross was an Irishman, and had been driven from his claim on the Little Osage by the Mr. Colpetzer was a farmer, from Pennsyl-

Michael Robinson, the same, from Iowa. John F. Campbell, a store keeper from Pennsylvania. He was a young man highly esteemed, and had no family.

The wounded are William Hargrove and his brother, Asa Hargrove, formerly of Georgia, who came here to live in a free State. This is head and front of their offending. Also Rev. Charles Read, a Baptist preacher from Wisconsin, who moved into that place a week ago. He was badly wounded and crept into the woods and was not found till morning. Amos Hall and his brother, Austin Hall, who was not hurt, but fell from prudential reasons. Charles Snyder was slightly hurt in the leg and back.

The ruffian band was lead by Brockett, of Fort Scott, and accompanied by Dr. Hamilton and others of that place, who have made themselves notorious for two years past. There were twenty-five in all, and they were well acquainted with the men whom they killed, excepting Stillwell. Eight of them lived in Kansas, and seventeen in Missouri. Most of these seventeen lived in rnd around Westport. This place was the Border-Ruffian head quarters in 1856, hav-ing a blue lodge, and being the rendezvous of the Southern army of invasion under Gen. Clark, and the secret chamber of the "Council of Ten." who decided the fate of prisoners and of settlers during that gloomy year. Border Ruffian papers insist upon styl ing this affair an engagement with Montgomery's robbers. It was no such thing, but merethe cold blooded, terrible affair recorded

A correspondent of the Missouri Republi-can, writing from Jefferson City, May 26th,

Savs Editor of Republican:-Yesterday a special messenger arrived in this city, bearing a state-ment signed by many of the most reliable citizens of Cass and Bates counties, in this State, which represented that the Kansas banditti, commanded by Montgomery, whose exploits in the neighborhood of Fort Scott you have already given to the world, had invaded the State of Missouri, robbed some of our citizens, and were making preparations for the commission of more outrages on our citizens, on a more extensive scale; and they petition the Governor to take such steps as may be necessary for their protection. * * * * *

On the day subsequent [to the massacre on the Osage] Montgomery's party, supposed to number between two hundred and two hundred and fifty men, most of them mounted on horses stolen from the citizens of our State, and armed with Sharpe's rifles, Colt's revolvers and sabres, and having with them several cannon, crossed the line into Missouri, and proceeded to Westpoint, in Bates county, eight or twelve miles from the line between Kansas and this State.— In the language of the statement, they menaced, insulted and outraged the citizens of that place, who were in a defenceless condition, in a most shocking and brutal manner." Having thus spent several hours in Westpoint, they set out on their return to the Territory. On their way back, they met a zitizen of Bates on the highway, stopped him and robbed him; then proreeded to his house, broke open the doors, and seized and carried away everything portable found of any value.

At the time the statement was written, last Saturday, they were encamped three miles from the State line in Kansas, recruiting, preparatory as they avowed, to another invasion of our State. Another correspondent of the Republican writing from Leavenworth City, on the 24th of May, says that a Free State Committee of Safety, in Bourbon county, K. T., passed A series of resolutions ordering certain parties to leave the Territory within six and ten days, under penalty of early slaughter. These parties were Judge Williams, Dr. Blake Little, S. C. Sims W. T. Campbell, members elect of the Legislature under Lecompton; H. T. Wilson, G. P. Hamilton and D. F. Greenwood, members of the Lecompton Constitutional Convention; E. Ransom and G. W. Clark, J. H. Little, James Jone . B. McDonald, A. Campbell, Mr. Brockett, Mr. Harlan, and such others as aided - the military in enforcing obedience to the laws. Kanaday Williams and D. Sullivan, accused by three notable spirits with having stolen horses be longing to Free State men, are sentenced (Lynch fashion,) to be whipped, branded and driven out. Capt. Anderson, who was wounded, as I have some time since informed you, while discharging his duty, is decreed to be hung to the highest Bourbon county.

P. S .- I have just been informed by a gentleman who comes direct from the scene of action, that Montgomery and his patriotic followers burned the town of Butler to the ground. Not one house has been left standing, but where was the nucleus of a town likely to flourish in the future, is left only a few blackened ruins. This occurred Friday night.

--[Correspondence of the Wheeling Intelligencer.]

BETHANT COLLEGE, VA., May 31st., 1858. MESSES EDITORS: -After a long and painful no doubt to you) absence, I once more presume to address you. Like Mr. Micawber, I have been waiting for a long time for something to turn up, but the longer I wait, the less there seems to be worthy of being chronicled.

Rain, rain, rain! pattering, splashing, soaking rain, has been our constant, never failing daily visitor for the last month, and now it is only necessary for you to set your truly lively imagination to work in order to give you a fair conception of the sad condition of this lovely spot at this season of the year. Now, when you have this picture of desolation before you, -mud three feet in the channel and still risingcould you not, in a spirit of philanthropy, in-duce some company with a ferry boat, to take a voyage, by way of the Wellsburg and Bethany turnpike, to the latter place and ply as a regular packet between the different crossings in our take this matter into consideration and charter a craft for this especial trade, which would have been highly remunerative, but it seems, by recent developments, that there are three dollars and sixty-two and a half cents yet due on the Massachusetts marble paving stones, and the cost of laying said marble, which, as the pedestrian will readily perceive, are so beautifully dovetailed together and reflect great credit on the contractor, and as a heavy tax had to be laid on the citizens to meet the maturing bonds for said contract, further improvements for the present were considered out of the question. Speaking of improvements, it would not be amiss, just here, to mention that an enterprising firm have just opened a Wholesale and Retail Grocery, Forwarding and Commission Ware Richardson street, a few doors below Main. If a general knowledge of the business, accommodating dispositions, and a plentiful supply of the necessaries of life, are to be regarded as recommendations, the firm have a bright future and an overflowing "till" before

You will remember, that in a former commu nication, I remarked the probability of the speedy erection of a musical garden on Main street; but it seems that our pleasure loving citizens are to be denied the en-joyment of the dulcet strains which would have been nightly wafted on the gentle zephyrs in undulating cadence. The cause is to be wholly attributed to the too tight lacing of the trachea, of the principal tenor, which brought on a grevious brouchial affection, and in the opinion of the most eminent physicians, his prospects for future usefulness in his peculiar profession, are being much clouded. His for the worst.

The election for county officers came off on last Thursday. Politics were not made an issue; on the contrary, which is a very unusual occur rence in Virginia, I believe, men were voted for, and in this instance triumphed over all party prejudices. Some of the defeated aspirants are oud in their denunciation of the "rascality" which prevailed during the election. These can didates, whilst seated around their cheerful firesides the night after the election, no doubt, exclaimed with the poet:

"Well, there is another fool convinced."

The laying of the corner stone of the build-ing for the use of the Societies and Libraries, which was to have taken place on last Saturday, was postponed, on account of the inclemency of the weather, until to-day. Of the proceedings will advise you in my next.

THE BRITISH OUTRAGES .- Report of the Committee of Foreign Relations .- Mr. Mason, chairman of the Committee of Foreign Relations, has made a report in relation to the late unlawful boarding, by Brittish cruisers, of American vessels. After rehearing the outrages complained of, the committee go on to say-It has occasionally happened heretofore, under circumstances of misapprehension, or misconstruction of orders, or from other and like causes, that vessels of the United States have been subjected by the armed force of a foreign power to visitation and search, in violation of nternational law, and in derogation of the independence of our flag, and in such isolated cases the honor of the country may have been sufficiently vindicated by a disclaimer of intended wrong or by rebuke of the officer offending. But the continuous and persevering character of the aggressions now brought to the notice of the country, committed by a power with whom we are at peace, and almost within sight of our shores, is sufficient to arouse the just indignation of the country, and calls, in the opinion of the committee, for the most prompt and efficient measures, to arrest at once, and to end finally and forever, the commission of like indignities

The documents accompanying the message disclose the fact that these acts of visitation and examination of American vessels were sought to be justified under the plea of necessity for the suppression of the slave trade, supposed to be r actually carried out, between Africa and the island of Cuba.

The committee will not go into any inquiries n reference to such alleged necessity. sufficient for them to know that the assent of the United States, although often invoked, has never been yielded to any such system of police on the seas. They rest on the position not to be controverted, that by no principle of inter-national law can a vessel under the flag of its country be visiteted or detained on the high seas n time of peace by any foreign power on any pretext, or for any purpose whatever, without the consent of those over whom the flag waves.

Without going at large into the questions heretofore involved as to the right of independent nations on that common highway of the world-the open sea-the committee deem this, nevertheless, a fit occasion to declare the principles maintained by the United States as regulatng the use of the open or high sens in time of peace, and from which are derived rights to the people of the United States admitting no restraint or qualification, and to be maintained at whatever cost. There is no right of visitation, far less of search, to be exercised in time of peace by any nation on the ships or vessels of other nations, nor can there be, so long as the laws of the civilized world touching the freedom of the sea are respected by civilized men. Such claim, thereford, having no foundation in law or in the com ity of nations, can never be tolerated by an inlependent power but in derogation of her sove-Neither is there any distinction to be drawn in the claim of right between visitation at sea by the armed vessels of a foreign power when unattended by examination and search, and such visitation when so attended.

The offence and violation of public law consists in the visitation, without regard to its purpose, when claimed as a right, against the will of the party subjected to it. Were it otherwise there would follow, of course, the correlative ight to arrest and detain the vessel until the visitation is effected.

The committee find these principles admitted and enforced by the opinions and the decisions of the most eminent judicial authorities, both in this country and in Great Britain.

They are founded in two simple elemental principles of public law: First, in the equality of all independent States; and, second, the common use by all recognized States of the open sea as a highway in a time of peace.

Such are the rights and immunities of our citizens navigating the ocean, which have been flagrantly violated and outraged by armed vessels of a foreign power in time of profound peace, and in some instances almost within sight of our own shores.

Indignant as the American people are, and ought to be, at the character and persistent repetition of such aggressions, yet their occurrence and gravity will opportunely supply the occasion, and to end, now and forever, all future question as to this right of visitation at sea between the United States and the offending Power. And the committee refrain only from recommending at once such additional legislation as would be most effectual to protect the commerce of the country from aggressions of the principal streets, say for the next three weeks. It was hoped that the new Town Council would ate, from the fact that the President (as shown by the letter of the Secretary of the Navy accompanying the message) has already ordered all the disposable naval force of the country into the infested quarter, with orders "to protect all vessels of the United States on the high seas from search or detention by the vessels-of-war of any other nation." These are preventive measures only, and temporary in their character. but, in the judgment of the committee, go to the full extent of the power of the Executive in the absence of legislative provision. It is believed, however, they will arrest for the present further like offences in the quarter whence they have proceeded.

It appears further from these documents that the altared state of the relations between the United States and Great Britain, which must arise from this aggressive conduct of her armed vessels, has atready been brought to the notice of that power, by communications from the Secretary of State, addressed both to the British Minister here and to the Minister of the United States at London.

It cannot be known until the result of these communications is laid before Congeess how far the acts in question will be avowed or disclaimed by the government held responsible. It is the earnest hope of the committee that the course that government may adopt will be of a character to satisfy the just demands of this government, and, at the same time, to furnash a quarrantee against the repetition of the offence. Nothing short of this, in the opinion of the committee, with be compatible with peaceful relations between the two countries.

In the present posture of the affair, therefore, the committee forbear from recommending any additional legislation to enable the President to friends are greatly alarmed, and are prepared protect American vessels on the high seas from the aggressions of foreign powers. But they will not forbear the declaration, that such legislation must be promptly supplied should the result show that it is needed to afford instant and full immunity to vessels engaged in lawful com-merce on the high seas from all arrest, molestation or detention, made under any pretext or from any quarter.
