FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A

FAMILY PHYSIC.

These has long existed a public demand for an effica-tive purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues tive purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success a secomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a paysical pile, but not easy to make the best of all pels — one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be dearwed from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, nuless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Lauguor, and Loss of Appetite, Liatlessness, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Humors, Scrofula and Scurry, Colds with soreness of the body, Ulcers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and erery case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely taken in the system for the stangel of the body, and restore the wasted or

This remedy has won for itself such notoriety from its cures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds is persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affection of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. And not only in formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of Colds, Coughs, Hoasseness, &c., and for Children. It is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained.

As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best that it ever has been, and that the genuine article is sold by—

THE INTELLIGENCER.

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 2, 1858.

THE BARLEY STRAW.

After dinner in his arm-chair.

Under the porch in the open air. Sat Grandfather smoking his pipe-Very lazily smoking his pipe. Corpulent was he and very fair; And the breeze just lifted his silvery hair; As he sat lazily smoking his pipe,—

Very lazily smoking his pipe. The air was sultry, and very warm, And Grandfather deemed it no great harm

If he took a nap, as he sat there, Under the porch in the open air. While I, a boy of thirteen or more, Hearing my grandfither loudly snore, Innocently thought to have some fun

Out of the beat of the noonday sun. Very careful and softly I glide Closely up to the old man's side; And, thinking neither of prophets nor law, Tickle his nose with a barley straw!

They were strangely funny-the faces he made, Sitting there in the pleasant shade; While I strangling many a loud guffaw, Tickled his nose with a barley straw!

Getting bolder anon, I lost all fear, And placing my lips just under his ear, Buzzed like a bumble-bee (more like a saw,) While I tickled his nose with the barley straw.

Out in the street in the open air,-Hardly knowing how he came there,— Flat on his back a little boy lay, Wiping the blood from his nose away.

Slowly he picked himself up from the ground. And much astonished he gazed around, Till he saw an old man smoking his pipe,-Pleasantly smiling and smoking his pipe.

Grandfather spoke, and his voice trembled then, "Learn, little Richlieu, never again,"—— (And he burst right out with a loud ha! ha!) "To tickle my nose with a barley straw."

At Toledo, "the Fourth," a reporter specially ngaged to report the oration, took down the Declaration of Independence, as it was read, instead. When the reading commenced, the reporter began likewise to ply his pencil most vigorously, and under the impression that it was "the greatest oration, by jingo, that he ever had heard," became exceedingly zealous to report it fully. When he wrote it off, from the notes, it was so highly embellished that the editor scarcely recogzized it, till he came to the "names of the signers," reported as the "com-mittee of arrngement!"

A PROPESSOR was lately displaced because he regulated the astronomical clock to keep mean
