FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A

FAMILY PHYSIC.

THERE has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly sale in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues tive purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial act its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it secondly pile the purpose designed. It is easy to make the purpose designed. It is easy to make the purpose designed. It is easy to make the best of all pulls—one which should have nome of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be decived from them. These pulls produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from a previoualy existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor, and Loss of Appetite, Listlessness, Irritability, Billious Headache, Billious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Humors, Scrofuls, and Scurvy, Colds with sommess of the body, Ulcers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful sures in Bheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the

This remedy has won for itself such notoriety from its sures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority ever every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affection of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. And not only in formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of Colms, Coulons, Hoarsenness, &c., and for Children, it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained.

As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best that it ever has been, and that the genuine article is sold by—

HOLY A. B. OFAY PRESS AM

The beautiful form of springtime Is laid in its narrow bed; And the winds are raving wildly
For the summer that's cold and dead. I feel that my circle of life With the summer sadly closes;

For the hopes that clustered round it Have perished with the roses! I did not deem to wake again My harp to earthly numbers;
For the fire was out within my soul
And I longed for the silent slumbers.

But a glow comes richly o'er me, Like the breeze of an eastern clime; And the buried forms start up again Which died with the summer time.

The bloom of the flowers, lady, May never come back to me, But fain would I weave a garland Of sweet summer thoughts to thee.

Oh! frail, too frail is the temple For the fire that glows within; And bright, too bright is the captive For its prison of sorrow and sin. To the soul that feels the Immortal

This life is a terrible thing, And rough is the storm of its trials

To the bird of the delicate wing,

Yet I know that many bright hours Will bud in the future for thee;

And the sunshine that follows the shadows By contrast still brighter shall be-I know that the spirits of angels
Have come from the beautiful spheres To guard and to guide thee, sweet sister,

Through this valley of darkness and tears.
Oh! rare are the gems of the spirit
Which Heaven entrusts to thy keeping; And rich is the harvest to garner. When the time shall arrive for the reaping. And ohl 'tis the prayer of the minstrel Whose strain will soon die out in sighs,

That thou mayest live out the angel Which gleams through those beautiful eyes

It is needless now to say that this useful instrument is becoming a domestic institution; the fact is recognized by its successful use in thousands of families in every rank in life. To those who have litherto refrained from availing themselves of its advantages, it may not be amis to say that its utility is not a problem to be selved, but a success already realized.
