Copper Mines.

Messrs. J. K. Bish & Harris have discovered a lead of copper within a few miles of this place, some specimens of which we have been shown, and which, as far as we are able to judge will prove to be pretty rich. Specimens of the pure metal were shown us, and it is stated that it yields a heavy per cent. They have sent a considerable quantity of the ore to Chicago to be tested, and if it proves to yield a paying per cent, they propose to erect furnaces to smelt it. The vein we are told runs into the side of a bluff, and has been followed a short distance and continues to widen out and increase in richness, and by those who profess to know it is thought it will prove a grand success. This will, if it proves to be the genuine article, and can be found in a large quantity prove no small addition to the interests of our county.

It is also stated that we have large deposits of iron in this county and also deposits of lead have been discovered which if explored may prove of value.

All Ste. Genevieve wants now is a railroad, and every effort in this direction is being put forth to bring the "iron horse" through our copper iron and lead mines, and we will soon have furnaces and manufactories of all kinds in abundance, bringing life and prosperity to our now rather dull town. Don't tire of your efforts, our railroad prospect, we are informed are very favorable just now.

Hatcher and Hawkins.

We see it stated in the Missouri Cash Book that a compromise has been effected between the above opponents for Congress—that Hawkins is to run for Congress, and Hatcher for circuit judge. This compromise is said to have been made prior to the 6th day of June.

There must be some mistake in this matter somewhere, as we received a letter from Mr. Hatcher last week dated June 15th, containing his announcement as a candidate for Congress instead of circuit judge. Perhaps Sutherland has been misinformed. We are satisfied that if Mr. Hatcher had agreed to a compromise of this nature, he would not still be announcing himself as a candidate.

Iron Mountain Railroad.

We understand that quite a force is at work on the bridge four miles above town, and are getting things ready to hasten the building of the bridge as soon as it reaches the river. We also learn that the track is laid within three miles of the bridge. The iron is now in less than seven miles of this place; so near that the whistle of the locomotive can be heard every day. We are told by those who know that the road will be pushed ahead with all possible speed until it reaches this point, which will be in the next twenty-five days. We are told that passenger trains will not run beyond this place until the line is completed to Little Rock, which will be some time the coming fall, but that the work of constructing will go on as rapidly as possible. [Black River News.]

R. A. Hatcher, for Congress.

We notice with pleasure the general good feeling toward Major Hatcher as a candidate for congress from the Third District before the convention at Fredericktown. While every paper in the district has a local candidate for whom it is spending its influence, each and all have a kind word for Major Hatcher, and in the event of the non-success of their local favorites, will unhesitatingly declare for him after having duly "complimented" their first choices. The fact that Mr. Hatcher has not obtruded himself upon the public, nor laid any "claim" upon the people inconsistent with their desires, prejudices all good men in his favor; while his having been entirely "out of the ring" in past contests, when "locality" was given as an earnest or a bar to political advancement, is proof that among the "hill counties" he will be looked upon with probably more favor than any other candidate in the Democratic party, we do not believe that another person can be named who unites in himself to so great an extent, the necessary requisites for a nomination. [Iron County Register.]

The Legislature Convened.

Pursuant to a call from the Governor the legislature met in extra session, on the 10th inst., at Jefferson City.

The House met at noon, Speaker Wilson in the chair. The officers of the twenty-sixth general assembly were re-elected. The roll call showed seventy-five members present.

Pope introduced a resolution, the first thing, denying the right of the governor to convene the legislature in special session, as it had failed deliberately to re-district the State, and further resolving that the House now adjourn sine die.

On motion of Mr. Bell the resolution was laid on the table by fifty-four to twenty-one. The governor's message was then read, urging the importance of providing for the election of four electors, after which the House adjourned until three o'clock.

In the Senate President Gottschalk called the body to order. Twenty-one members being present. Senator Roscherry introduced a concurrent resolution to adjourn sine die. He said he believed it the duty of the governor to re-district the State. The message of the governor was read. Reed, Spannhorst and Morse, Democrats, voted with the Radicals to suspend the rules and read Roscherry's resolution the second time; had they voted otherwise the vote would have stood eleven to ten, and not been agreed to.

At the afternoon session the Senate passed a resolution to adjourn sine die on Thursday at 4 p. m. by a vote of fourteen to seven.

Mr. Brockmeyer introduced a resolution that the governor had a right to re-district the State into congressional districts. Laid over until 2 p. m. to-morrow, to which time the senate adjourned.

In the House, in the afternoon, Mr. Chaborn introduced a resolution to adjourn to-morrow sine die. Ruled out of order. The senate resolution was called up and debated at great length, the Radicals fighting hard against it. It was finally laid over until to-morrow at 3 p. m. Thomas introduced a bill, which goes over till to-morrow, providing for the election of electors by amending the present statutes. Read twice.

In the impeachment trial, G. H. Shields opened for the prosecution, but no evidence was taken.

A. W. Meyers of Linn county, was appointed, to-day, a member of the State board of geology and mining, in the place of Prof. Waterhouse, resigned.

The contract for the State binding was to-day awarded to John Walde, formerly of the Tribune bindery.

The Radicals in caucus resolved not to pass any bill whatever, but to adjourn, unless the State is re-districted congressionally.

At the Democratic Liberal caucus, W. O. Maupin, chairman, and sixty-five members, were present. The caucus resolved to pass Thomas' bill to provide for the election of electors. Also not to pass any congressional apportionment bill.

The Jews and Matrimony.

The question of the validity of a marriage between a man and the widow of his deceased brother appears to be exciting as much feeling among the Jews of this city as that relating to marriage of a man to the sister of his deceased wife has among the church men of England. One of the points of Jewish faith now generally accepted is the prohibition of marriage between a man and the widow of his brother, whether there are children from the first marriage or not. The majority of Jews regard such marriages as illegal and worse than concubinage; yet this does not seem to deter members of that faith from contracting them, and in some cases rabbis are found who lend their sanction to these unions by performing the marriage rite. This question has excited much discussion lately, as it has been reported that a marriage of this nature is to take place in this city in a few days. The Jewish Times says that almost every rabbi in New York has been asked to officiate on the occasion, but that all having refused to comply with the request, a Western rabbi has been induced to visit the city expressly to perform the ceremony. The Times denounces the action of this rabbi and declares that if he performs the marriage rite it will remain in the eyes of reformed Judaism an illegal and incestuous marriage. [N. Y. Sun.]

By an act of Congress, approved June 1st, entitled "An act to further the administration of justice," the practice in the various United States courts has been materially modified. One important alteration is that the practice in such courts shall conform, as near as may be, to the practice of the courts of the several States in which the proceedings are held. This was formerly optional with the judges of the courts, but under the new law is compulsory.

[Original.] Bell of Ste. Genevieve.

How gladly the bells are ringing, Of worship and prayer are they singing.

Today a babe's to be christened there, And it is the beginning of the year.

How joyfully the bells are ringing, With happiness they now are teeming, Today in holy wedlock's band Two lives for e're are to be joined.

How mournfully the bells are ringing, With sorrow they now are pealing, Today they are throwing up the clay, Some one's to be buried there they say.

Daily the bells are ringing on, Marking three eras in life, one by one, Two different times they're rung for me, They'll toll at last, and make it three.

Democratic State Central Committee.

Below is the vote of State convention on Wednesday, of last week, for members of the State central committee:

- J. D. Strother, of Saline, 23. Joshua Ladue, of Henry, 21. S. Huchen, of St. Louis, 190. J. M. Brown, of Macon, 53. Dan Able, of St. Louis, 114. Ezra R. Hickman, of Jackson, 151. F. A. Rozier, of Ste. Genevieve, 152. P. J. Pauley, of St. Louis, 49. C. H. Harding, of Audrain, 62. J. S. Phelps, of Green, 138. J. N. White, of Atchison, 36.

A Big Fish.

Last Thursday James H. Bell, a fisherman at this place, caught a tremendous big cat fish on the bar, across the river from New Madrid. The fish was found on one of the hooks of a trot-line, and while attempting to drag it to the shore the fisherman came near being jerked out of his skill. He finally succeeded in forcing the fish into shallow water, three or four feet deep, and he jumped out of the skill and intertook to disable it with his gaff hook so as to enable him to get it ashore. By hard work and a skillful use of the gaff hook the fish was landed and put into the skill, and on being brought across to this side was found to be over 5 feet long and weighed 131 pounds, gross and over 100 pounds after having been dressed. Some idea may be formed of its size from the fact that when carried by two large men on a pole, (on their shoulders) over a foot of its tail dragged the ground. Its head weighed 18 pounds. The day this fish was caught, Mr. Bell took 35 fish, the best weighing not less than 5 pounds. During Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, of this week, he caught 148 fish, and being more than could be disposed of to his customers around town, two wagonloads were sent to the country to be sold. [New Madrid Record.]

A large party will leave St. Louis on Friday, the 6th of July, for the Baltimore Convention, via the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, arriving in Baltimore Sunday morning. Arrangements have been effected to make up a special train, with Pullman palace cars attached, so that a more enjoyable time can be had, despite the heat. The fare for the round trip—to Baltimore and back—will be only $23. Parties desiring further information can obtain it by addressing S. D. Hooker, the agent of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, in this city. [Mo. Republica.]

Dr. Dudley, county coroner, swore out two warrants in the court of criminal correction yesterday, one against Joseph Shoemaker, on the charge of murder in the first degree, for the alleged killing of Leon Tyler, and another against August Bloebaum, a Ulan, on the charge of murder in the second degree, for the killing of Henry Hagenmeyer. One of the homicides took place at a house of ill-fame, the other at a saloon. [Rep.]

John Allen, alias John Rye, was detected yesterday afternoon lugging off a box of cigars from the establishment of Mitchell & Brother, on Second and Chestnut. He refused to halt, and the cry of stop thief was raised. He ran several blocks, and being struck on the head by a citizen with a strip of board, he thereupon surrendered to a police officer. [Rep.]

The Woodhull has accepted the nomination for President of the Apollo Garden Convention in a few remarks of three columns long. But we have not heard from Fred, Douglass. Does the colored troops repudiate his chief or is he waiting to hear from "The saddle of the Lord."—Ex.

It is proposed to break ground for the St. Louis Narrow-Gauge road, near the residence of Mr. Jonathan Jones, on the Bonhomme road, ten miles out in a couple of weeks, on which there will be a picnic as well as a pick-ax in honor of the event.

Bonner, of the New York Ledger, has $145,000 worth of horses, which he keeps in $100,000 worth of stables. And not twenty years ago, the owner of all this was without a dollar's capital, and humbly pursuing his calling in a printing office.

Mr. J. C. Robinson, a merchant of Iowa City, was drowned in the Iowa river on Thursday. He drove into the stream to wash off his buggy. He never came out any more.

Game is abundant in Ellsworth Kansas just now. Buffalo, draw poker, antelope, old sledge, venison, fero, quails, billiards, rabbits, enchir, elk and keno are the prevailing varieties.

A Wilson county, Kansas, young man recently paid $1,500 for the privilege of remaining single. She told him it would be cheaper to marry, but he wouldn't believe it until the jury brought in the verdict.

A Janesville, Wis., lady wanted to name her favorite kitten Dolly Varden, but couldn't, and so she called him Thomas Varden. She was bound to be in style as near as circumstance would permit.

Up in Ottawa a few nights ago a man who had recently been divorced was treated by the boys to a discordant charivari. The Minneapolis Independent thinks that when there are no more married couples to honor in this way, a divorced man is a proper subject.

Southern Kansas is vindicating her capacity for wheat growing. The Chetopa Advance tells of a field of twenty six acres of Mediterranean wheat ready to harvest, of which the straw averages three and one-half feet in length, the heads long and full, and the berry perfect.

The unveiling of the statue of Shakespear in Central Park, New York, took place recently in the presence of a large crowd of spectators. The presentation of the statue was made by Judge Daly. Henry G. Stebbins made some remarks accepting the statue. An oration was delivered by Wm. Cullen Bryant. A poem composed by R. A. Stoddard was read by Edwin Booth.
