

THE WEEK'S NEWS TERSELY OUTLINED

An Epitome of the Most Important Events at Home and Abroad the Past Week.

NORTH, EAST, WEST, SOUTH.

A Glimpse at What Congress is Doing Together With a Carefully Digested and Condensed Compilation of Current News Items, Both Domestic and Foreign.

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

By a vote of 262 to 26, the house passed the national quarantine bill, which places the control of all quarantine stations, grounds and anchorages under the secretary of the treasury, and carries an appropriation of $500,000 to carry the law into effect.

The house, with but little opposition, passed the employers' liability bill, which makes the railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce liable for the injury or death of an employee.

The conference report on the anti-hazing bill was agreed to. The principal feature of the measure is the graduating of the penalties for hazing at the naval academy.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS. The belief is prevalent among the church officials of Zion that Dowie was plucked for about $1,200,000 by Wall street sharks in stock deals.

The eruption of Mount Vesuvius, overlooking the Bay of Naples, is creating consternation among the villagers, whose homes are threatened by the steadily advancing streams of lava.

Fire destroyed the upper story of the Chamber of Commerce building in Portland, Ore., causing a loss of $109,000, and, indirectly, the death of Homer H. Hallock, a prominent railroad man, who in a frenzy of fear jumped down the light well and was instantly killed.

Attorney Gen. Hadley of Missouri is recovering very slowly from his recent attack of pleurisy.

The business portion of the town of Butler, Ga., was destroyed by fire; loss, $55,000.

Typhoid fever is almost epidemic in Pittsburgh, Pa., due, it is said, to the swollen condition of the rivers.

The secretary of the navy has accepted the resignation of Midshipman John C. Campbell, fourth class, at the naval academy, on account of defective eyesight. He hails from Missouri.

D. C. Smith, president; Conrad Luppe, cashier; D. C. Smith, Jr., book keeper; Habbe Velde, Henry Block and E. F. Unland, partners in the Ties-Smith bank at Pekin, Ill., which failed April 2, have been arrested on charges of embezzlement, on complaint of depositors.

Gen. Russell A. Alger has announced his determination, on account of failing health, to not again be a candidate for the United States senatorship for Michigan.

The steamship Burrfield is detained at quarantine at Philadelphia with cases of suspected bacillary plague on board. A bacteriological examination will be made.

Dr. Charles A. Snodgrass, health commissioner of St. Louis, died of pneumonia.

Ex-United States Senator John R. Henderson, who has been critically ill in the Pennsylvania sanitarium, Philadelphia, is recuperating.

Clarence M. Stark, the Louisiana (Mo.) nurseryman, has been declared insane by the probate court at Sao Antonio, Tex., and his wife will take him to a sanitarium at Waukesha, Wis.

Benjamin F. Ellis, of Peoria, Ill., and Mrs. Louis J. Pratt, of Sharon, Ill., have been declared the joint heirs to the $750,000 estate of Miss Susan Murdoch, of Carver, Mass., deceased. There were about eighty claimants.

James P. Nolan, who, two years ago, was candidate for secretary of state in Wisconsin, has been arrested at the instance of Peter Blosser, a farmer, who charges that Nolan appropriated $300 which he had collected for the complainant.

One hundred printers have been let out from the government printing office in Washington on account of lack of work.

Fifty-five persons were known to be killed and fully 100 injured, some dangerously, by the collapse of the Hotel Zum Hirsch, at Nagoig, in Little Black Forest, Germany, that was under repair, while about 200 workmen and townspeople were engaged, as guests of the keeper, in a merry-making in the banquet hall.

Upwards of 200 delegates, representing 53 countries, assembled in Rome to participate in the universal postal congress, which was formally inaugurated by King Victor Emmanuel.

Gov. Doyos of Arkansas has appointed W. T. Scoggins prosecuting attorney at Hot Springs, and the latter has notified all gamblers that they must cease operations and that the paraphernalia of any gambling house found open will be seized and burned according to law.

Mrs. Edith Cooper, of Philadelphia, who with Emu Bardeleben, of New York, took a room in the Palmer House, Chicago, registering as man and wife, committed suicide by shooting while temporarily left alone.

An anti-Jewish proclamation was issued from the official printing office in Orel, Russia, with an inscription showing that it had been passed by the censor.

Chancellor Prince Von Buelow of Germany was seized with a fainting spell while addressing the reichstag on the Algerias conference, and it was rumored that he had been stricken with paralysis. He recovered, however, in a few hours.

The National Association of Mail Carriers have in contemplation the erection of a national home for consumptive members of the association at Colorado Springs, Col., where 160 acres of land has been donated for the purpose.

Patrick Dolan, former president of the Pittsburgh district of the United Mine Workers, and Uriah Bellingham, former vice-president, have been expelled from the organization for violating instructions.

White cappers at Cripple Creek, Colo., are threatening to deport Judge W. P. Seeds, of the district court, for his action in dealing severely with violators of the Sunday closing ordinance.

The Illinois primary law, passed by the last legislature, has been declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court, and a special session of the legislature has been called to pass a new law in conformity with the decision.

Secretary of State Root, after attending the international conference at Rio de Janeiro, will extend his trip so as to circumnavigate the southern continent, visiting Buenos Ayres, Montevideo, Santiago de Chile and Lima, coming up the west coast to Panama and crossing the isthmus at that point.

Mrs. John A. Dowie, at a meeting of the overseers of Zion, related her husband's alleged efforts to convert her to the idea of plural marriage. It was to further his plans for polygamy, she declared, that he developed the "Paradise Plantation" project to be carried out in Mexico.

The body of Paul Nocquet, a French sculptor of note and an enthusiastic amateur aviator, who started from New York, hoping to reach Philadelphia, was found on the edge of Bass creek, a small stream winding through the meadows of Long Island. There was evidence of his having made a desperate struggle for life after his balloon descended.

J. Burdett, president of the Eufania (I. T.) national bank, merchant and one of the most prominent and wealthy men in the Creek nation, was shot and killed at the rear of his home by an unknown assassin. Mr. Burdett carried a quarter of a million life insurance.

In the district court at Vermillion, S. D., Elmer Johnson and Richard Brueschweiler pleaded guilty to having fired three old buildings, last summer, to improve the appearance of the town, and were each sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

John Smith, who was charged with manslaughter in connection with the wreck at Chillicothe, Ill., on the Santa Fe, was acquitted at Peoria, Ill., on the instruction of the court that Conductor Weatherwax's negligence was subsequent to that of Smith's and was the cause of the disaster.

The grand jury at Fond du Lac, Wis., returned an indictment against Frank A. Bartlett, former president of the board of trustees of the county insane asylum, for the alleged embezzlement of $1,485 of public funds.

A dispatch from Lokoja, Nigeria, says that the leader of the rebels who boasted that he had killed two French officers in February of this year, was executed, after trial by the sultan of Sokoto and a native court.

Officers of the American Civic association and Merchants' association of New York have filed a protest against the proposed diversion of water from Niagara Falls for commercial purposes, and praying for the preservation of the beauty of the cataract.

On April 2, 1906, there were in operation throughout the country 35,205 rural free delivery routes, as against 32,055 on June 30, 1905.

PEKIN, ILL., BANK FAILURE

DISCOURAGING OUTLOOK FOR THE DEPOSITORS.

The Five Partners in the Failed Concern Have Been Bound Over to the Grand Jury.

Peoria, Ill.—The five active partners of the failed Ties-Smith bank of Pekin were bound over to the grand jury by Justice Rapp, of Pekin, and gave bond of $25,000 for their appearance.

The grand jury meets in the first week of May, and State's Attorney Charles Schaefer expects to make an investigation at that time. The T. H. Smith Wagon Co., which was heavily indebted to the bank and was largely owned by the bank partners, has passed into the hands of a receiver and has been closed down for an indefinite period.

Additional details concerning the condition of the bank place a more discouraging light on the outlook for the depositors. It is learned that Peoria banks are creditors of the failed concern to the extent of $50,000, and the trustees intimate that no less than $30,000 of the partners' private funds will be required to liquidate the claims.

Three additional warrants have been sworn out by depositors at Pekin for Conrad Luppen, D. C. Smith, Percy Block, Habbe Velde and E. F. Unland.

HARD STORM IN ILLINOIS

It Hit Water Valley and Dewey Station—Ten Persons Injured—Much Damage.

Makanda, Ill.—A very destructive storm passed over this section of the country shortly before six o'clock Sunday evening. It moved from southwest to northeast, about midway between Cobden and Makanda. At Water Valley, three miles southeast of here, the greatest destruction occurred. The church was blown to atoms, and some of the buildings were carried over a half mile.

George Garner's residence was destroyed, and all of the family, composed of six members, more or less hurt. A boy stopping at the house, James Malner, had his ribs crushed in. Willis Gurley's residence was unroofed and his barn wrecked.

In Makanda occurred a cloudburst that flooded the town, causing great damage. One end of Fraternity temple was wrecked and stores and residences flooded.

A heavy wind storm, accompanied by rain, lightning and thunder, swept over a small section near Dewey station, four miles west of Bellevue, at two o'clock Sunday afternoon. Two women and one man were injured and there was considerable property loss.

WILDEST HOPES EXCEEDED

Constitutional Democrats Sweeping Everything Before Them in the Russian Elections.

St. Petersburg.—The several electoral colleges in 28 out of 51 provinces in European Russia, Sunday, elected 178 members to the national parliament—about one-third of its entire membership—and returns received up to midnight indicate that the wildest hopes of the liberals had been exceeded, the constitutional democrats and other progressivists practically everywhere having gained a tremendous victory over the Octoberists and other conservative parties. As far as is ascertainable, not a single reactionary candidate pulled through, and nowhere did even the Octoberists score a triumph. The majorities obtained by the radicals cancel the character of the victory.

WM. J. BRYAN'S ITINERARY

Expects to Return in September, Coming by Way of Egypt, the Holy Land, Turkey and Russia.

Lincoln, Neb.—In a recent private letter received from W. J. Bryan, written at Calcutta, India, Mr. Bryan says he expects to return home about the middle of September. His itinerary includes a steamer trip from Bombay, India, to Cairo, Egypt, a journey to the Holy Land, thence to Constantinople, and from there to St. Petersburg, reaching the Russian capital about the time the new regime a governmental affairs has been inaugurated.

May Become Black Pope.

St. Louis, Mo.—Rev. Father Rudolph L. Meyer, S. J., a native of St. Louis, a graduate of and later a teacher in St. Louis university, is a probable candidate for the office of general of the Jesuit order, or "Black Pope," in the event of the death of Rev. Father Louis Martin, now critically ill in Rome.

Members of the faculty of St. Louis university and of the large affiliated Jesuit community are watching with deep solicitude the progress of Father Martin's illness.

Cruiser St. Louis Speeds.

Philadelphia.—The new projected cruiser St. Louis has returned to the Neafe & Levy yards from the builders' trial trip. The cruiser attained a speed of 22 1/2 knots an hour, which exceeds the government's requirement by half a knot.

Remorse Causes Suicide.

Nanticoke, Md.—Edward E. Martin, aged 39, shot and killed himself in front of his brother's barber shop, Remorse over the killing of his brother-in-law two years ago was the cause.

MISSOURI GLEANINGS.

Jail Dynamited, Prisoners Escape.

Benton—The jail was dynamited, and four prisoners escaped. It is supposed that the explosive which practically wrecked the front of the building, was applied from the outside by confederates of the prisoners. There were two distinct explosions, the second much louder than the first, as if the first charge had failed to do the work and a much larger one was used. The whole town was aroused. Sheriff B. F. Wilkinson reached the jail within a few minutes, in time to prevent six other prisoners from escaping. They evidently were not in the plot, and did not realize what had happened till too late to get away.

Decision on Concealed Weapons.

Kansas City—"To justify a man in carrying a concealed weapon, he must have good reason to carry it in the necessary defense of himself, home or property." This decision was made in the court of appeals in the case of M. W. Venable, fined in Harrison county for carrying a pistol, and who appealed. The decision was that Venable could not make an idle or vain threat the excuse for carrying a forbidden weapon, but if he did believe the threat might be executed he was justified in arming himself.

Fined For Quarantine Violation.

Springfield—in the United States court here, Samuel Jones, a wealthy stockman who lives near Lebanon, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of violating the federal quarantine laws, and was fined $100. This is the first federal prosecution for violation of this law in the western district of this state. Jones was charged with "trailing" cattle from the Indian territory to his farm in Laclede county, across the quarantine line, without calling for an inspection or having any certificate to show that the cattle were not affected with the Texas fever.

Missouri at Confederate Reunion.

St. Louis—Judge J. H. Gantt, major general commanding the Missouri division of the United Confederate veterans, has issued general orders for the annual reunion at New Orleans on April 25 to 27. Miss Helen Chestnut, of St. Joseph, is named sponsor for the Missouri division at the reunion, and Miss Jewell Weidemeyer of Clinton, is named maid of honor.

Revenue From Hunting Licenses.

Jefferson City—There is now a balance in the state treasury and fish wardens fund of $48,537.83. Since the law became operative $66,975.66 has been collected and $17,537.83 expended. From these figures it is evident that more than 65,000 persons have taken out hunting licenses, only a few of whom are non-residents of the state.

Acted Contrary to Judgment.

St. Louis—Mayor Wells has signed the ordinance submitting to the voters of the city a charter amendment authorizing an issue of bonds to the extent of $11,200,000 for public improvements, including a free bridge, but expressed regret that public clamor for the latter compelled him to act contrary to his judgment.

State Fees in March $17,374.

Jefferson City—Secretary of State Swanger, for the month of March, reports having received as fees and paid into the treasury $17,374.26, distributed as follows: Notarial commissions, $885; domestic corporation tax, $12,889; foreign corporation tax, $1,290; land department fees, $781.53; bank inspection fees, $1,526.68.

Carbolic Acid Route to Death.

St. Louis—Fearing the pain of an operation, and imitating the example of his chum, Edward Mandeville, who would not marry him right away, George V. Busch, aged 21, ended his life by drinking carbolic acid.

Mistake For Murderer Killed.

Carthage—Frank Glendon shot and instantly killed Matt Paine, an old friend. Paine, who, it is said, had been drinking, was prowling around in Glendon's yard in the dark and the latter thought him a burglar.

Charity Chief Fatally Assaulted.

St. Joseph—Simon Stern, charity superintendent, was assaulted by a man to whom he had refused assistance, and will die of his injuries. Stern's assailant is supposed to be insane.

Delaware Company Licensed.

Jefferson City—Superintendent Vandiver has issued a license to the Delaware Fire Insurance Co. of Dover, Del., authorizing it to do an insurance business in Missouri.

Policeman Killed by Street Car.

Kansas City—While attempting to cross the tracks in front of his home, 2900 Prospect avenue, Enos A. Astell, a republican politician, was killed by a street car.

Judge Marshall Guest at Banquet.

St. Joseph—Judge W. C. Marshall of the state supreme court, was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Buchanan County Bar association.

Dr. Logan's Magnificent Present.

Kansas City—Dr. William G. Logan, a retired physician, has given his $70,000 residence to the board of extension of the Christian church.

Death Claims Father and Son.

Salmon—T. J. Smith, aged 55, and his son, M. K. Smith, of Salmon, died within a few hours of each other, the former at his home southeast of here.

GERMANY'S CABLE LINES.

Caroline Island Circuit Completes Non-English System Around the World.

When Cyrus W. Field proposed the first ocean cable his ideas were characterized by doubters all over the world as "Yankee nonsense," but the cable was laid, and its success as a medium of communication between the two worlds was immediate and pronounced. The result, says the New York Tribune, was that deep sea cables soon became a "fad" with enterprising capitalists, and to-day the electric spark traverses the civilized world through the wires of the submarine cables. When, from any accident, the wires are blocked and communication ceases temporarily, the world of business suffers a shock which almost paralyzes its energy, and until the connection is again made the commercial community is practically at a standstill.

Of all the nations of the globe Germany is one of the most energetic in the work of sinking electric cables in the depths of the ocean. She has just completed a new line between Shanghai and Yap in the Caroline Islands, which covers the distance of more than 3,000 miles. This cable is laid at the greatest depth of any in the vast system of the world, and it closes a gap which makes it the first continuous non-English line to encircle the earth.

The year 1905 was, for the German cable industry, a most significant one. It not only gave the Kaiser's dominion a great many new cables, but it showed that the progress of laying these lines had advanced wonderfully in its technique, so that the work can now be done rapidly. In comparison with the records of past achievements in this line of industry, the number of German cables which have a length of more than 62 miles has been increased by this new cable to 13. These include lines to England, to Norway, to Ireland, to Spain, to Sweden, to New York, a distance of 4,790.4 and 4,911 miles; two to China, to Constantinople and to the Ladrones Islands. Besides these large ocean cables, there are a great number of shorter ones, which are partly in use between various German seaports, and between Germany and neighboring countries.

Altogether Germany has more than 18,816 miles of submarine cable, of which, however, only about 3,293 miles are owned directly by the government. The total cable length in service in the state is between 273,462 and 279,616 miles, so that Germany's percentage, notwithstanding the progress which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest. Realized upon which she has made in the last year, is very modest.

By DR. MADISON C. PETERS, D. D.

Pastor Immanuel Church, Baltimore.

The blooming flowers are the products of the tiny seed cast into the soil a few months ago. The vital energy was in the seed; the flower could not be produced but by the dissolution of the seed.

You plant an earthly "but" in the soil, and up comes the beautiful "I". No philosopher can describe the process. And how precious is the thought that we shall rise from the dead; that the eyes of our loved ones that with trembling fingers we closed will open with us at the resurrection morn; that the arms we folded in death will join ours in the embrace of reunion.

This is the Easter hope. This is the power of Christ's resurrection. We have followed our loved ones to the grave and left them there where the winter's snow has swept over our hearts and whelmed us almost in despair, but through Christ's resurrection—who rolled away the stone from the tomb of human hope and opened upon the black cloud of death the rainbow of immortality—we can almost feel our friends in our arms; they seem to be with us now. We shall meet and know and love each other again.

By REV. CHARLES E. CHENEY, D. D.

Bishop Christ Reformed Episcopal Church.

Can we picture the condition of mankind, if every benevolent work which has had its origin in Christianity had never been dreamed of, and if every influence created by the church had never been so much as imagined? But the church itself finds its vital spring of life in the Easter fact.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece—possibly in Egypt—and even these would not have been preserved but for the love of art inspired by Christianity. More than all, the morality created by teachings such as the sermon on the mount would have perished but for the resurrection.

What would have become of intelligence and education but for Christianity, which has its root in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, when the Tatar and the Hun, the Vandal and the Visigoth swept over the wreck of the Roman empire and the ruins of Roman civilization? Subtract from art all that it has produced under the stimulus of the religion which centers in the fact we celebrate to-day, and you will have left only what survived in ancient Greece