

CARNIVAL NIGHT BIG FEATURE AT ERIE

ERIE, Pa., July 12.—This city's observance of the Perry victory centennial neared its close Friday night with the celebration of carnival night. business streets were filled with masks soon after dusk; massed bands gave a concert, and great crowds visited the rebuilt flagship Niagara which will begin her voyage through the Great lakes Saturday at sunset. Red fire and confetti gave the city a true carnival hue and the merry-making was continued until far into the night.

FAVOR TEACHING OF RELIGION IN SCHOOLS

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—The question "Should religion be taught in the schools", was answered affirmatively Friday by the conference of ministers attending the 26th international convention of Christian Endeavor societies. So also was that as to the teaching of sex hygiene, but the clergymen registered it as their opinion that sex knowledge should not be taught pupils by the regular teachers, but by physicians especially appointed for the purpose.

To strengthen the influence of Protestantism, it was recommended that the churches join in a federation and work in unison.

Sen. Owens Fails to Get His Measure Calling For Experts Passed by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A futile attempt was made Friday by Sen. Owen to have the senate pass his bill for the creation of a bureau of legislative experts, to draft bills upon the request of the president, committees of congress, eight senators or 25 representatives. "I am so astonished at this suggestion of having a school master to do work that senators are supposed to be able to perform that I am completely knocked off my pins," declared Sen. Bacon. "Did the senator say 'pins'?" asked Sen. Lewis. The Georgia senator responded he was so shocked he probably had used improper words. Sen. Owen finally withdrew the bill.
