

Where Pope Pius Sits and Looks Upon Sea and Mountain

Pope Pius X spends many hours sitting in the vatican gardens, where he is camping this summer. A special bedroom fixed up for him in the astronomical observatory is the pope's house by night and the great outdoors, where sea and mountains almost meet, is his daylight home.

LONESOMEST MAN IN WORLD SAILS

Lives in South Sea Island for Forty Years as Sole White Inhabitant—Has Violin For Companion.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The "lonesomest man in the world" sailed from New York aboard the steamship Bltic of the White Star line, James Moodie of Corea island, near Caledonia, in the South Pacific, claims the distinction of being the most lonesome man. For nearly 40 years he has been the sole white inhabitant of the South sea isle, and so seldom has he met men of his own race that he has almost forgotten the language of his parents.

It was nearly a half century ago that Moodie, an adventurous Scotch lad, engaged in the South sea island trade. He found Urea island to his liking and established a trading post there. Only at long intervals has he been visited by white traders, seeking copra and other products of the island. During the many years he has been on Urea island his family has died, one by one, until today he has only one living relative, Robert Moodie of Loanhead, Scotland, a brother. James Moodie has not seen this brother in 30 years. They parted as mere youths and in a few days will meet again, grizzled and gray.

When Moodie first went to Urea island he took with him a violin that had previously been the possession of his father, and on the steamer he carried the fiddle under his arm. "This violin has been my constant companion for more than half a lifetime," said Mr. Moodie before he sailed. "I have been and still am the most lonesome man in the world, and had it not been for my fiddle I do not know how I should have lived. At the present day I am the only white man on Urea island, but as long as I have my violin I do not care. As the years have gone by I have grown more and more accustomed to being alone.

"We get the mail at Urea island about once every six weeks and so from time to time I learn of the world's progress and the death of my friends and relatives. They always seemed to be dying, and suddenly the thought came to me that my brother and I were the last of our family, and so I packed up my fiddle and set out for my home in Loanhead, Scotland.

"The only people I have talked with for years and years are the natives, and I have almost forgotten my mother tongue.

"Ever since I arrived in the United States I have been astonished beyond measure, especially by the horseless vehicles and other luxuries of travel. I have kept track of the world's progress in the newspapers and periodicals, but I never realized what it all meant until I landed in this country.

"I am going home to Scotland for a few weeks, and then I am going back to Urea with my fiddle, and there I will remain until the trumpet calls me to my everlasting home."

SHOWS THE CHILD IDOLS Emperor Praised for Selecting Design For "Kiddies."

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—The dedication of a "Fairyland Fountain" in a public park of Berlin was one of the municipality's contributions toward celebrating the quarto-centennial of the emperor's reign. The original design for this fountain was finished and shown at an art exhibition 12 years ago. After having been approved by the police authorities, the design came back to the city hall, with the information that the emperor declined to pass it. His criticism was that the figures representing the famous characters in fairy stories were made mere details in the architectural scheme, so that the children for whom the fountain was intended, could scarcely recognize their story-book favorites.

His majesty recommended that this "grown-up" allegorical design be rejected, the fairy heroes and heroines be brought together in groups and above all, he advised the municipal officials to secure the services of some sculptor who had shown his ability to do work in a way that appealed to children. The emperor's interference caused much unfriendly criticism in the newspapers, and the city father argued that he had exceeded his authority. Nevertheless, they appointed a committee to consider his suggestion. The services of a Munich sculptor were secured, and after several years a new design was approved by both the emperor and the city. The fountain has been erected, and now Berlin children are reveling in the wonderful playground where they may see the figures of their story books. The figures are placed in groups around two basins, the larger of which covers nearly half an acre. Red Riding Hood is there, and so is the wolf. Here also is Jack-in-Luck and his Pig, Puss-in-Boots, Cinderella and her slipper, Sleeping Beauty and all the rest of the old time favorites. The whole conception is a happy one, the poetry of child life is fittingly embodied in lasting stone, amid beautiful surroundings, and it is agreed on all sides that much credit for the final success of their beautiful idea, is due Emperor William for his rejection of the first designs.

ARCHERY NOT DEAD SPORT Distance Flight Arouses New Interest.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—At the annual archery meeting at Le Touquet, Franco, the record flight of 459 yards has aroused great interest. It is not widely known that there is an excellent body of archers in London. Very few would suspect the presence of the delightful old-world spot, an arrow's flight from the rear of Marylebone road. It is here archery flourishes in a modest way under the auspices of the Royal Toxophilite society. Hither more than one member of the house of commons may be seen wending his way. Here are bows and arrows taken from the tombs of Egyptian kings, dating back to B. C. 2600. In a glass case is a small Turkish bow, an arrow from which made a marvelous flight. The French flight of 459 yards 8 inches was erroneously described as a record since 1794. The marvelous little Turkish bow of Regent's park also has a record. During 1795 Mahmoud Effendi, a member of the Turkish legation, with this bow in Regent's park shot an arrow 480 yards, as measured by three members of the Royal Toxophilite society.

Probably the longest distance flights of recent years were those set up at Le Touquet by Sir Ralph Payne Gallway-Bart, in 1905. In private the distances covered were 420, 415 and 412 yards. At the meeting his distance was measured at 367 yards.

Far from languishing, the sport of kings and outlaws is making satisfactory progress in this country, which possesses nearly eight societies. Archery, like other patrician sport, does not court publicity, and probably this accounts for the idea that the sport is dying out.

Constipation and indigestion are twins. They kill people inch by inch, and life away every day. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will remove the cause and drive the disease away. 25 cents, Tea or Tablets. Coonley Drug Store.

Special Correspondence. HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 3.—An endless back-to-the-soil chain movement, that is to perpetuate itself and eventually become nation-wide and involve the expenditure of millions of dollars, has been launched here by one of the oldest living Yale university graduates, Austin Cornelius Dunham.

It will give city people chances to buy on deferred payments at low interest rates five-acre farms near the city where the men can work at least part of their times in the city. It takes city families with little or no money and sets them down out in the country on well-equipped small farms. For five years the details of the great scheme have been mapped out by Dunham, who is over 80 years old.

"Everything I have touched in life has been successful," he explained. "All have brought me money. But this, my last venture, shall not bring me a dollar, and I pray that it may be successful.

"Seven miles south of Hartford I have purchased a tract of land. My plan is to lay out the place into five-acre lots, put a house, a barn and a chicken coop on each plot and give that property over to an industrious city couple whose desire it is to get back to the soil.

"There will be no set rule as to the amount of money needed to be paid down. Everything in that direction will depend on the past record of the applicants. Each tract holder will be required to pay four per cent interest and a small amount above that every month on the principal. No worthy family, once being in possession of a plot, will be deprived of the result of its labors through sickness or death.

"Each house will be equipped with all modern conveniences, including running water. The barn is to be stocked with the necessary tools and seeds, and 40 hens will cackle in each coop. And each family will get one pig and one cow.

"Last year I gave the Sheffield school $75,000. This year I am going to spend $100,000 on some of the common people. Those who want to get back to the soil will be given an opportunity to make good. "I will soon close my eyes. But the work will continue. A board will manage the property. The interest and the payments of the principal will go into the trust fund. Trustees will continue the work even after every acre on this plot has been taken upon other sites."

CHANCE FOR CITY PEOPLE ON FARM

Old Man of 80 to Start Endless Back to the Soil Chain Movement—Has Worked Ten Years.

Dunham showed a stack of letters that had come from as far as Canada from people who are anxious to get one of those farms. Every five-acre farmer will be advised to get a job in one of the nearby cities and devote an hour or so each day to the farm before sunrise and an hour or two after sunset. And while he is in the city working for wages his wife and children will be busy on the farm.

Mothers! Have Your Children Worms? Are they feverish, restless, nervous, irritable, dizzy or constipated? Do they continually pick their nose or grind their teeth? Have they cramping pains, irregular and ravenous appetite? These are all signs of worms. Worms not only cause your child suffering, but stunt his mind and growth. Give "Kickapoo Worm Killer" at once. It kills and removes the worms, improves your child's appetite, regulates stomach, liver and bowels. The symptoms disappear and your child is made happy and healthy, as nature intended. All druggists or by mail 25c. KICKAPOO INDIAN MEDICINE CO. Philadelphia, Pa. St. Louis, Mo. Advt.

Special Correspondence. HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 3.—An endless back-to-the-soil chain movement, that is to perpetuate itself and eventually become nation-wide and involve the expenditure of millions of dollars, has been launched here by one of the oldest living Yale university graduates, Austin Cornelius Dunham.

It will give city people chances to buy on deferred payments at low interest rates five-acre farms near the city where the men can work at least part of their times in the city. It takes city families with little or no money and sets them down out in the country on well-equipped small farms. For five years the details of the great scheme have been mapped out by Dunham, who is over 80 years old.

"Everything I have touched in life has been successful," he explained. "All have brought me money. But this, my last venture, shall not bring me a dollar, and I pray that it may be successful.

"Seven miles south of Hartford I have purchased a tract of land. My plan is to lay out the place into five-acre lots, put a house, a barn and a chicken coop on each plot and give that property over to an industrious city couple whose desire it is to get back to the soil.

"There will be no set rule as to the amount of money needed to be paid down. Everything in that direction will depend on the past record of the applicants. Each tract holder will be required to pay four per cent interest and a small amount above that every month on the principal. No worthy family, once being in possession of a plot, will be deprived of the result of its labors through sickness or death.

"Each house will be equipped with all modern conveniences, including running water. The barn is to be stocked with the necessary tools and seeds, and 40 hens will cackle in each coop. And each family will get one pig and one cow.

"Last year I gave the Sheffield school $75,000. This year I am going to spend $100,000 on some of the common people. Those who want to get

OTIS S. ROMINE For City Judge

Democratic Primary Wednesday, August 6, 1913

Just a Simple White Dress.

It is not the idea of the WHITE DRESS PARADE to wear a sleeker or expensive gown. Just the simple white dress you already have; that is all that is necessary to make you a participant in the fete at SPRINGBROOK PARK on WEDNESDAY, AUG. 6th. Do not wear a hat as it may detract from the white dress rather than add to its effectiveness.

What young lady's eyes would not sparkle with joy and delight if she found herself the possessor of a diamond ring like her grown up sister wears. The young miss appearing in the White Dress Parade whose costume and grace of manner the judges think most worthy of the title will be chosen Queen and receive just such a diamond as her heart desires.

Three Maids of honor will also receive diamond rings, real out stones, not so large as that given to the Queen, but large enough to thrill their little hearts.

If you have not sent in your name, just come to the park on Wednesday dressed in white and enter the parade.

Advertisement.

JOSEPH A. PAIDLE. The Councilman With a Clean Record, Who Asks to Be Re-Elected Councilman-at-Large.

When a city official asks to be returned to public office by the vote of the people he must have a clean record to present. This is the kind of record that Mr. Joseph A. Paidle holds up to the tax payers of South bend, and bids for their support in returning him to the seat of councilman-at-large, which position he now holds.

During his term of office he has become well versed in municipal affairs and thus has qualified himself to fill the position with credit and success should he be nominated and elected again. He is a representative of that higher class of Hungarian citizens who are recognized for their integrity and honesty in purpose and in whatever capacity they chance to land.

He has made a good city official, and no mistake can be made by the voters of the city in fulfilling his aspirations and again making him a councilman-at-large to represent the taxpayers in the conduct of municipal affairs.

Advertisement.

Suits for Men and Women $15, $18 and $20. Easy Payments. GATELY'S 112 E. Jefferson Blvd.

Democratic Candidate THIRD WARD COUNCILMAN

A citizen of the Third Ward from his birth. Ticket seller at Lake Shore Station has reputation for highest sense of honesty. Now councilman, filling unexpired term of his brother, the late Frank M. Hagerty. The tax payers candidate.

JERE T. HAGERTY

Advertisement.

"By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them"

PATRICK A. JOYCE For MAYOR

"Here are Some of the Fruits"

"Pioneer in the acquisition of Parks"— universal transfers on street railways.

First in making Street Railway Companies understand that they are not to enjoy a monopoly of streets, alleys and bridges.

Voted against extending Gas Company Franchise fifty years when same still had eleven years to run.

Requiring all overhead wires placed under ground.

Advertisement.