

THE WANTS ARE THE CLEARING HOUSE OF BUSINESS ACTIVITY

THREE TEAM LEAGUE IS POSSIBLE IN FACTORY LEAGUE

Singers, Studebakers and Ball Bands May All Be At the Top After Next Saturday's Game.

Ever since the Factory league season got well under way and it was seen that it would be a fight to the finish for the top position at the wind-up, fans have been discussing the possibility of a three-team tie.

Now the proposition presents itself in all its glory. There is a chance and a big one at that. Three teams have a chance for the second trophy—the Singers, Studebakers and Ball Bands.

This afternoon Studebakers meet Singers, Ball Bands meet Dodges and Flowboys meet Watchmakers.

There are two different ways in which this result may be obtained. Should the Singers win from Studebakers, and the Dodges beat the Ball Bands, the standing would be as follows: Singers, won 11, lost 3; Studebakers and Ball Bands tied for second place with 10 games won and four lost.

There is still another way in which this might be possible. Should the Studebakers beat Singers and the Ball Bands beat Dodges, it would then be necessary for Singers to win from the Ball Bands on the next Saturday and Flowboys to conquer Studebakers.

These games which depend, will not be a walkaway for either team. Facing each other in battle array will be two old central leaguers. Snips Schaefer will be the attraction for Singers and opposite him will be Dave Martin for the Wagonmakers.

There is still another way in which this might be possible. Should the Studebakers beat Singers and the Ball Bands beat Dodges, it would then be necessary for Singers to win from the Ball Bands on the next Saturday and Flowboys to conquer Studebakers.
