

THIRD WARD MEN HOLD A MEETING

Registration Day and Coming Election Are Discussed by Workers—Another Meeting Next Monday Night.

Three hundred democratic workers of the third ward turned out Friday night at headquarters at 467-469 W. South st. and heard the political issues of the city campaign discussed including registration day rules. A feature of the meeting was an address by John McCarty, said to be the oldest democrat in the third ward, he having voted the ticket for the past 49 years.

Speeches were made by James T. Butler, Jere Hagerty, Daniel Ohro-dovich, Gottlieb Katsile, Charles Lennox, John Grams, Joseph M. Sullivan, Louis Schmoel, Martin Flowers, Isidore Cohen, Timothy Sullivan, George W. Sands presided and Charles Drain acted as secretary.

Another meeting of the word workers will be held next Monday night when all candidates are expected to be present. A similar meeting largely attended was held in the fourth ward headquarters on Jefferson boulevard. Speeches were made by candidates.

FAVOR TEACHING OF HYGIENE IN SCHOOLS

Federation of Settlements Delegates Prepare Resolution on the Question. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—In a carefully worded resolution, the National Federation of Settlements in conference at Lillian Home, near here, Friday placed itself on record as favoring the teaching of sex hygiene in the public schools under certain restrictions and by instructors whose capability for the work has been established.

One of the features of the conference, which closed Friday, was a memorial service conducted by Jane Addams of Chicago, for Canon Samuel A. Barnett of Westminster Abbey, London, the founder of Toynbee hall, the first settlement house in London.

Theatres

"THE COMMON LAW." "The Common Law," a dramatization of Robert W. Chambers' novel of the same name was presented to a small audience at the Oliver in a satisfactory manner last evening.

The play follows the lines of the story as closely as practical for stage purposes and nothing of real importance is lost in the telling. This tale of a young man who is very well indicated by the title and at times the dialogue approaches very near the danger line.

The principal characters were rather capably handled although many of the cruelties were apparent at times. Virginia Berry, as Valerie West, an inexperienced model with some rather original ideas on matrimony, was charmingly innocent in appearance, handled the position neatly and won sympathy more from a personality standpoint than on account of histrionic ability. Renee Noel, as the other studio girl, was pleasingly frank and naturally attractive. George Kelly played Neville with a good conception of the character and E. C. Davies lived some of the scenes in a conventional comedy part. The audience was attentively interested and frequently applauded appreciatively.

"THE PERILOUS RIDE." If you want to be thrilled, Mary Gray is the girl to thrill you. She'll make you turn hot and cold by turns; she'll have your hair stand on end and she'll set your heart to thumping, till you'll find yourself wondering how many more of her sort there are out there in Montana, and what business prospects look like among the ranchmen. Stop a minute; can you ride a horse? Not a Central Park pacer, but a real pony of the plains, a bucking, rearing, snorting wild one? No? Oh well, then it's all off with you. You might as well stick around in New York and have your carfare. When you'd gotten out there, found your Mary and popped the question—she'd have her answer ready. "The man who wins me must first catch me." Surprise theater today.

"THE EDISON TALKING PICTURES." The Kinetophone will be at the Oliver all next week, where the apparently impossible will be achieved, the audience hearing and also seeing a musical performance, a minstrel show and getting an explanation. It seems beyond belief, but the beginning is only in sight. We are making history every day and the Kinetophone will give future generations the complete story in every detail. The Edison talking pictures are all that they are heralded to be, the synchronization is perfect, the voices clear and distinct and have created an unlimited amount of talk where shown.

"OFFICER 666." "Officer 666" will be seen at the Oliver this afternoon and tonight. The play is full of risible tricks and melodramatic moments that start a wave of shivery thrills chasing each other up and down one's spine only to find in an unaccountable burst of laughter at the funny antics of this particular policeman, who in an unguarded moment is induced to part with his uniform for a brief period, while the borrower of it is endeavoring to rescue a lady fair from the web of complications that have been woven around her by the machinations of an internationally famous picture thief. "Officer 666" has all the elements to make a successful play, least of which is a charming love interest wherein cupid matches his wits against the stern arm of the law and wins a complete victory.

AT THE ROYAL. Jacobs Amusement Co. presents at the Royal theater Saturday and Sunday Quincy Adams Sawyer, as a photo play in four parts with special music. One of the best New England plays and stories ever written. This play was seen in a dramatic production at the Oliver theater several times and always played to capacity. The copyright bureau at Washington, D. C., shows that over 1,000,000 copies of the book have been sold, which means that more than 10,000,000 people have read the book. Nearly 25,000,000 have seen the play. New England life and character beams out of almost every scene and is perfect in every detail, the picture play that has been one great success. NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with noxious odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store. These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home. Advertisement.
