JOHNSON SHOWS GIANTS HOW TO TURN THE TRICK

Toys With the Mack Lads and Never Exerts Himself Until They Get Men on Paths—Then He Pitches Real Ball.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Walter Johnson added the 25th victory to his season's string here Monday by defeating the Champion Athletics one to nothing. The big pitcher simply toyed with the Philadelphia youngsters, never exerting himself until men were on the base.

Monday was "McBride day", having been set aside in honor of George McBride, Washington's captain and shortstop. He was presented with a handsome diamond watch fob and a huge basket of flowers by the "fans" of Washington.

Vice Pres. Marshall made the presentation speech. The lone run of the game came in the seventh inning when Wynoff's support wobbled. Gandil singled and stole a second. Morgan beat out an infield tap, and Gandil scored on Williams' force out on Morgan.

YANKEES CLIMB BACK TO SEVENTH POSITION

Take Both Games of a Double-Header From Boston and Shove Browns to Cellar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—New York defeated Boston in both games of a double-header Monday taking the first three to one and the second five to one. In the first Keating pitched his first full game in several weeks and held the visitors safe all the way while New York bunched hits off Beeding in the third and sixth innings.

In the second game Anderson's wildness played a big part in the defeat of his team, giving six bases on balls. Fisher was as effective in this game as Keating had been in the first. Previous to today's victories New York had not defeated Boston in this city since the early part of the 1911 season.

As St. Louis did not play Monday the double victory of the Yankees again lifts them out of the cellar position.

New York 001 001 000—3 9 2

LOGANSPORT TURNS OUT TO GREET HOME TALENT

Johnny Corriden, Utility Player With the Cubs, is Cause of Schools Being Closed.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 30.—Logansport suspended business Monday, closed the public schools and turned out to give Johnny Corriden, utility player in the Chicago team of the National league, a royal welcome when he came here with the Cubs to play the local team.

When Corriden came to bat Mayor D. E. Ploki walked to the home plate and presented the player with a $250 diamond ring, gift of the citizens to Corriden.

Corriden's speech of thanks, a simple but deep center, was the most eloquent and appreciable bit of oratory after securing four runs the Cubs assumed the defensive and prevented the local team from scoring.

FENNEY APPEARS WITH THE SQUAD

Football Fans of Notre Dame Are Hoping That Last Year's Star Will Be Able to Return—Would Add Strength.

Al Feeney, to the surprise and delight of the Notre Dame students, appeared in football togs on Cartier field Monday afternoon and put in a stiff workout both in the line scrimmage and in the signal drill that followed.

It is not yet certain that his present visit will terminate in his remaining throughout the year, but the fact that he went out with the varsity Monday augurs well for his return to the football squad.

Coach Harper sent his linemen through a stiff 30 minute scrimmage and completed the day's work by running signals till 5:45 o'clock. His system of coaching is doing wonders for the squad as has been proved by the splendid showing of many of the new men. Owing to the superabundance of good material in the backfield, Harper placed Kelleher at end in an effort to find a fitting successor for Crowley of last year's team. Kelleher showed up well at this position and his blocking was perfect. He is a player who is willing to work hard and is in the game every minute and he should develop into a splendid end.

Feeney was a power both on the defense and offense in the scrimmage. In backing up the line he used his head at all times and was usually on the man with the ball as soon as the latter came up to the line. King is still showing the same aggressiveness and heady playing which led Harper to put him on the first squad. Lathrop and Jones, as varsity tacklers, are now doing splendid defensive work. Of the new men Sharpe, Keefe and O'Donnell are showing up well in the daily line scrimmages.

Stevenson, one of the candidates for tackle position, was forced to return to his home in Columbus, O., because of stomach trouble. He will be unable to play for the rest of the season. Rupe Mills injured an ankle in Saturday's practice game and will be out for a week. Duggan had to retire from the game Saturday because of a Charley-horse but he was able to limp through signal practice Monday. He will be in shape for Saturday's game should he be called upon to replace any of the backfield. Finnegan is still out of the game but he will be ready to resume practice Tuesday. The freshmen are working daily to get in shape for their game with the varsity two weeks hence.

ST. JOSEPHS LEAD IN INDOOR-OUTDOOR RACE

The St. Joseph society is now leading in the South Bend and Mishawaka Indoor and Outdoor baseball league. The standings after Saturday's game are: St. Joseph, 55; Christman Co., 52; Mishawaka Firemen, 50; Manlingers, 50; Howies Regulars, 50 and Studebakers 166.

Greatest Baseball "Fan" Picks the Athletics to Win in World's Series

BY GEORGE M. COHAN.

(Copyright 1913, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

To begin with, I want to say that I don't consider myself the best little dopester that ever spotted a cinch bet. Far from it.

Two years ago I picked the Cardinals, under Roger Bresnahan, to win the National league pennant, but when the finish came I found out, to my cost, that some one else had a better system of looking ahead than I had.

With me it's a hunch more than the dope, and my hunch for the next world's series is the Athletics. I know they've done before, and I know how they've done it—and that's enough.

When I'm not busy at being a fan—and I'll admit I'm the most rabid bug that ever bit at an umpire—I fool around the theater. But baseball is where I live, and I've kept pretty close tabs on the situation.

I like the Athletics in this fight for a number of reasons. First, because they should develop into a splendid end.

Second, because they have a couple of guys out there who can keep the other fellows from sneering it. I mean Bender and Plank.

Third, because they have the fielders to back up the pitching and protect it.

Fourth, because they're a smart team.

And fifth, because they can play baseball—and play it up, down, around and through the middle, all fifteen ways and back again, without a break.

But mainly I like 'em because they can hit. I've watched that batting order come up in a tight game, and I've watched the other pitcher. For three or four innings he might pitch his head off and "get by." But the strain would get him, and around the fifth inning I could see him weaken, his curve ball straighten out and his smoke fade. The job of facing six or seven 300 hitters in a row had gotten in his work.

When he started to ease up there would be a sound like a barrel of crockery rolling down a cellar stairway.

That's what the Giants have got to go up against in a series that is grand pitching flesh, but a bat is bigger than a ball.

Look at what Mathewson or Marquard must tackle. First, there is Eddie Murphy, a 300 hitter; then Rube Oldring, another; if these two are nailed there are Collins, Baker, Melins and Strunk still waiting.

If he gets by one, the next is still harder. What's the good in fanning Collins to get at Baker? Any one of these guys is liable to break up any sort of a game in two minutes. You think they're beaten and in a flash you can almost see the battle of Gettysburg again, with 90 cannon in action.

In a short series of this sort I like the ball club that can hit the ball hardest—the one that is most dangerous to the everlastingly sneering pitcher and in the end this of itself will tell.

If you're not hitting, there's nothing for the other club to fumble or boot, if Mack's team isn't hitting 'em safe it's hitting 'em somewhere, and in the end this of itself will tell.

Then they say Mack has only two pitchers. Forget it. I've seen this Bob Shawkey, and if he isn't a pitcher there never was a guy with a right arm, and in the end this of itself will tell.

Connie is a wise fellow and a hard one to dope.

Shawkey has the stuff and he is game. Think what it would mean if he could step in there and grab off that first game (which he has better than an even chance to do), with Bender and Plank in reserve.

PENNANT IS CERTAIN: THORPE GETS CHANCE

Big Indian Drives Out a Home Run and Gets a Single in Game Against Boston.

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—New York having clinched the National league pennant, presented a make-shift team today which won one game five to three, and lost a second to Boston by eight to one. Darkness stopped the second game in the seventh inning.

Jim Thorpe, the former amateur athlete star, played his first full game as a member of the Giants. He drove a home run into the centerfield bleachers and also made a single in the first game. He also pulled down several hard flies. New York scored all its runs in the first game of Hess; Quinn, who succeeded him, holding them to one safe drive in the last four innings. Perdue was taken out after the third inning of the second game. James finishing the contest and holding New York to one hit. Schauer, New York's $11,000 recruit twirler, was given a tryout by New York and was easy for the local batsmen. Errors aided Boston in piling up runs.

New York 111 110 000—5 9 2
Boston 100 010 001—3 11 4

Hearne, Crandall and McLean; Hess, Quinn and Hariden.

VERMILLION, N. D., SEPT. 30.—

Coach Henderson and his Coyotes, undismayed by their 14-3 defeat by Minnesota Saturday, have begun preparations for their next big combat, with Notre Dame, at South Bend on Oct. 18.

The game came out of the Minnesota game in fine shape physically and with an added experience which will prove very valuable in the coming games with Notre Dame, Michigan Aggie and Denver university.

Henderson is very pleased with the work of his green team, which held Minnesota for three quarters without score. He says that the Coyotes were far stronger than a year ago when South Dakota won out. Capt. Brown at tackle, Potts at center, Hengel at end and full, and Ferguson at half, played remarkable games. Ferguson's punts being far better than the Minnesota kickers. Hengel was switched from end to full in the middle of the contest, and it is likely that he will become a fixture at that position, and a new end developed. Hengel seems the most likely candidate.

The game next Saturday with Nebraska is not taken seriously, although the team will run no unnecessary risks and will keep itself in good condition.

MINNIES BLANKED IN SECOND CONTEST

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30.—Columbus and Minneapolis finished the season Monday dividing a double-header. Neither Luhrsen or Turner was effective in the first game that went to Minneapolis nine to four. Eays, in addition to shutting out his opponents in the last game, made four hits.

First game:
Columbus 300 000 100—4 9 2
Minneapolis 010 203 002—9 9 4

Luhrsen, Turner and Coleman; Mogridge and Smith.

Second game:
Columbus 001 102 03*—10 18 2
Minneapolis 000 000 000—0 4 4

Eays and Murphy; Olmstead and Owens.

PRINCETON.—The Princeton coaches have reorganized the Tiger eleven. The changes are as follows: Glick goes to right halfback from end; J. S. BLANKS ARE RECEIVED BY THE COUNTY CLERK

Those Who Took Out Papers Seven Years Ago Can Secure Second Blanks.

Blanks for applicants for second citizenship papers were received Monday morning by County Clerk Christoph from the department of commerce and labor at Washington. These are to replace those sent last week which were of the wrong kind. Clerk Christoph announced that all those whose first papers are dated prior to June 29, 1906, who wish to take a chance on the supreme court ruling may apply for their second papers. The court is to rule on whether the first papers issued more than seven years ago are valid. A federal statute which went into effect in June, 1906, provides that first papers "shall be void for all purposes" after seven years.

The seven years for papers issued in 1905 was up Saturday, September 27. Many applicants who wished to get in under the wire were compelled to wait because of the blunder in Washington when the wrong blanks were sent.
