

TAKES LONG TRIP TO FRISCO FAIR

Mrs. Sarah Van Nordstrand at 81, On Coast—Was Pioneer Resident of South Bend.

Mrs. Sarah E. Van Nordstrand, 713 E. Jefferson blvd., a pioneer resident of South Bend, has gone to San Francisco where she will visit her grandson, Glen R. Draw. Mrs. Van Nordstrand hopes to be present at the world's exposition in 1915. She is 81 years old.

Mrs. Van Nordstrand came to South Bend in a covered wagon from Ohio 55 years ago. The city was then a small village. Brownfield's store was located at the corner of Michigan st. and Colfax av., and was the only large store. The Studebaker brothers owned a small machine shop near the race and a blacksmith shop in town. Indians camped in Leeper park.

Mrs. Van Nordstrand remembers the first call that came to South Bend for volunteers in the civil war. Her husband enlisted in the 12th Indiana cavalry and served until the end of the war.

She is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Paxson, and was born in Chester county, Penn., in 1832. She was married when 17 to David Van Nordstrand. Her husband and seven children are dead. She has five grandchildren living.

Mrs. Van Nordstrand expects to return to South Bend after the exposition. She was accompanied by her grandson, Van O. Browne.

SEPTEMBER MORN HAS RIVALRY ON EXHIBITION

Anders Zorn, the Swedish Painter, Uses Outdoors and Nudé in His Work.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. — Etchings that will make the pensive "September Morn" feel less lonely were placed on exhibition yesterday in the Hablo gallery, No. 569 Fifth av. Included in a display of 89 works by Anders Zorn, the Swedish painter-etcher, are more than a dozen subjects showing the artist's skill in depicting the nude in an open air setting with water and sunshine as accessories. All of them are shown in the gallery and none in the window.

In the last year Mr. Zorn has produced seven etchings and five of them are of the "September Morn" variety, except that the typical Swedish and the sunshine that of the Swedish summer. All of them are artistic gems, distinguished for surety of handling and for the treatment of light on human flesh. "Eke" shows a girl in the stern of a boat pulling a branch of a tree from the water. "Seaward Skerries" shows two, one just entering the surf—and it is cold—and the other still on the rocky beach. In "Frightened" there are three of them on the shore line, not one having ventured in. "The Ford" shows a young woman who has had the foresight to place all of her drapery under her arm where it won't get wet as she crosses a stream.

All of Mr. Zorn's important etchings are in the exhibition, including the fine portraits of Saint-Gaudens, Rodin, Anatole France and Governor Cleveland. There is also a scene of the "Ape," of which only five proofs were made.

RUNAWAY BOY AFTER 11 DAYS COMES HOME

Good Supper and Warm Welcome Ready for Lad When He Returns to Parents.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The best supper in Yonkers was eaten by John Chisholm, 15 years old, of No. 2 Popular st., and his was the softest bed in the city, too.

Hungry, tired enough to fall asleep standing and covered with soil and cinders the lad returned to his parents' home just as his father, William J. Chisholm, superintendent of the Bronx branch of the New York Edison Co., was about to send out a general alarm for him.

Eleven days ago the boy ran away because he was tired of going to school, and when he dropped off a freight train at Yonkers he ended a trip on the bumpers from Leipsic, O. That was far west as he got when homesickness overcame his desire to see the world.

The joy in the Chisholm household over the boy's return did not by any means exclude him. In fact, he was about the happiest of the family. His mother, who was ill from anxiety caused by his disappearance, arose and prepared his supper.

ADVENTURE CALLS TO CATTLE LANDS OF WEST

And Miss Miller's friends, what are they saying? "They all think I'm crazy when they hear of it first," said Miss Miller, "and they come to remonstrate with me. But when they talk it over with me and hear my reasons they begin to see sense in my plans."

Here Are Reasons: And these are her reasons: She is tired of bridge and tea parties.

She is tired of a continual round of committee meetings and rummage sales. She is tired of nothing to do.

Besides she is a bit lonesome. Her nephew, Henry Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harper, with whom she makes her home, has gone away to college. The boy has been Miss Miller's chief interest and care. Now she is going to find a substitute.

After awhile she may have a partner. Her nephew is taking a course in scientific agriculture. When he is through college she will have the farm.

Miss Miller will buy a farm close to Klamath Falls this autumn. She won't wait until she gets her ranch to begin her life as a country woman.

She is going to build a bungalow and get settled right away. Then she is going to get some chickens and turkeys to take care of. They are the only kind of live stock with which she has had any experience. And she had magnificent success with them once, she says, when she lived in Illinois.

Of course, there is just a possibility that she may conclude to devote herself entirely to the chickens and turkeys. But the thing she is looking for now is a cattle ranch.

ARNEY STARES AT BOOKER AS STORY OF CRIME IS TOLD

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE.) rise its discretion cautiously in allowing a main offender or principal actor in a crime to come in and be whitewashed and then testify against an alleged accomplice. As members of the community we are just as much interested to see a man who actually committed murder punished as one who is charged as a co-conspirator. Prosecutor Montgomery pointed out that although the evidence will show that Booker fired the fatal shot, Arney was the man who suggested the robbery which resulted in the shooting, according to the state's theory.

CHICAGO MUST BE A SWEET SCENTED PLACE

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Garbage that has been piling up since Oct. 1 is still untouched by garbage collectors and it was announced Wednesday that it would be several days before collections could be made by the city. Mayor Harrison Wednesday was being urged to seize the plant of the Chicago Reduction Co. which was closed when the city refused to buy it for nearly a half million dollars.

RAILROAD IS MADE DEFENDANT IN SUIT

ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 8.—The Lake Shore Railroad Co. is made defendant in a suit filed in Justice E. A. Campbell's court Tuesday by Atty. E. B. Zigler, in which judgment for $100 is demanded by Finn and Gemberling, Main st. grocers.

The basis of the complaint is that on April 24, last, the company had in its employ, one J. W. Ernestine; that at that time the company owed the Ernestine $95; that Ernestine assigned $52 of the amount to the plaintiff to satisfy a debt he owed them; and that the company refused to pay the assignment.

The question involved is whether an assignment of wages in this state is a valid claim against the person or corporation on whom the assignment is made. It is a rule of the Lake Shore company not to acknowledge assignments.

SARECKY TAKES BLAME ON SELF

The examination of Louis A. Sarecky Tuesday, Sulzer's former confidential secretary, was expected to last most of the day.

Sarecky, a youth of 27, shouldered the blame for the omission of unreported contributions to the governor's campaign statement, confessed he had imitated the governor's signature to deceive a bank and admitted that he was an alien, born in Russia and never naturalized, had been promoted from the position of governor's stenographer to the head of the deportation bureau of the state hospital commission.

Question Was Raised. "The question came up as to whether the committee of the governor's friends, of which I was treasurer, had the right to file a statement inasmuch as it had been neglected, or some one had neglected on behalf of the committee, to file with the secretary of state a notice to the effect that such committee had been formed. So some one suggested that I take the matter up with Mr. Sulzer. I went into his room and told him of the quandy we were in and he said, 'well, make up the statement any way; it does not matter very much who signs it as long as we comply with the spirit of the law.' So I went outside and then worked on the statement for about a day and a half, brought it back to Mr. Sulzer and he signed it."

"Did William Sulzer have anything whatever to do in the work of preparing that statement?" "Yes sir," said the witness.

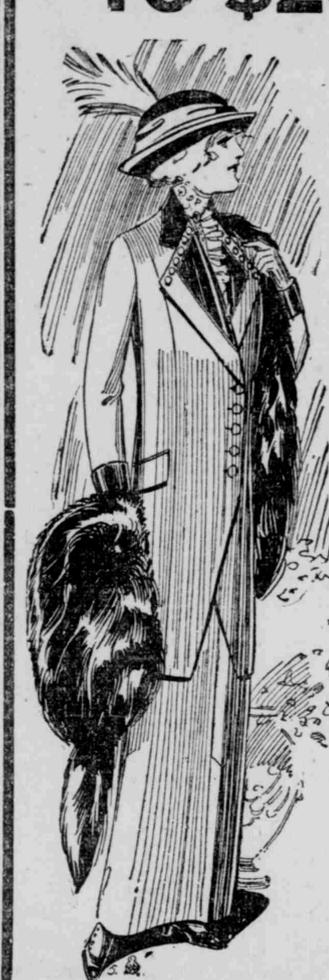

Sulzer Was Busy. "What was Mr. Sulzer doing when you took the completed statement to him for his signature?" "I think he was going through some of his correspondence. I said, 'here congressman, here is the statement, which I got up.' I had the first page folded over back and showed him where he was to sign. He turned it back and said 'is this all right?' I said, 'this is as accurate as I could get it, and he signed it.' "Did he read any part of the statement or examine it?"

"He could not have read it carefully, because he did not hold it over a minute or two at the most—just long enough for him to sign his name."

"Why did you leave out any money?" "Because I did not have any record before me at the time I made up the statement to cover the items I omitted. I used part of the money that I deposited to my own in settling a suit out west that had been brought against Mr. Sulzer during the campaign."

THEY LEFT WEAPONS BACK WITH MEXICANS

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 8.—James Proves, Lee Lavallee and Charles Hansen, three adventuresome American youths, strayed into Mexico Monday in search of game while on a hunting trip east of Douglas. They were captured and held for ransom by Mexican guerrillas of Pancho Villa's command. The boys were instructed to write notes to their parents asking for $50 as the ransom for each. Proves was allowed to return with the letters, under threat that his companions would be marched into Chihuahua and shot unless he returned. Through the solicitation of Col. J. H. Slaughter, a wealthy cattleman, the commandant at Agua Prieta ordered the boys' release. The youths returned without their guns.

YOU TAKE RANCH AND I'LL TAKE YOUR WIFE

Denver, Col., Oct. 8.—"Top take the ranch and I'll take you wife." This is said to have been the note sent to George Scherach, employed in a packing house, by William Betts, a prosperous ranch owner of Arapahoe county. Scherach says that his wife left their home in Aurora, a suburb of Denver, a few days ago, and eloped with Betts. He will apply for a divorce. Betts' deserted wife is a sister of Scherach. Betts is a middle-aged man and father of grown children. Both Betts and Mrs. Scherach are well known. It was not until Tuesday that the fact that they had eloped became known. It was then that Mrs. Scherach's neighbors suddenly remembered that Betts had been a frequent caller at the Scherach home and that he had always called when Scherach was not at home. Scherach refused to discuss his wife and brother-in-law's disappearance, any further than to say that they had eloped and that he was preparing to begin an action for divorce.

LOCKER HOUSE ENTERED

THIEVES ARE BUSY IN HOTELS AT PARIS

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The hotels here are being systematically robbed, many Americans being among those who have lost considerable personal property.

Apparently a band of thieves, both daring and expert in their work, is operating. At one hotel in the Place Vendome, Mrs. Kirkland, an American, has just been robbed of a quantity of valuable jewelry. At another house in the same day, while practically all the occupants were absent from their rooms, one of the largest of the recent robberies was carried out. A man dressed in workmen's clothes, who said he had come to execute some repairs, was admitted to a number of rooms. He carried away from them without being detected almost everything that was portable.

The police have been unable to obtain any clue as to the identity of the thieves.
