

Clifford G. Roë To Speak On "White Slavery" Sunday

CLIFFORD G. ROË

Sixty-sixth st., just east of Fifth av., was crowded with limousines yesterday afternoon, says the New York Times of Feb. 23, in discussing the white slave lecture given by Clifford G. Roë. More than one hundred motor cars grove up the avenue in a blinding rain to bring women of society to Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw's drawing room. A lecture by Clifford G. Roë of Chicago on "The White Slave Traffic" was the attraction.

Mr. Roë, who was assistant U. S. district attorney in Chicago, prosecuted the first white slave cases, thrilled his hearers by narrating incidents to show that not only were poor girls made the prey of the white slavers, but that girls were drawn into the clutches of houses of bondage from the middle and upper classes of society, sometimes by abduction. One result of his talk was that liberal contributions were made to the American Vigilance association's fund for fighting the white slavers.

Mrs. Laidlaw expressed herself as highly pleased with Mr. Roë's talk, which she said was all the more effective because it made no attempt to arouse the emotions. He emphasized the value of the fight against white slavery as a business proposition to insure a clean town. He added that embezzlements in Chicago had decreased since the closing of the segregated district.

Among those present were some of the leading society women of New York. Mr. Roë will talk at the Elks' temple Sunday night.

DEFENDS BIBLE AS GOD'S INSPIRATION

Rev. T. J. Parsons at Baptist Church Upholds Teachings of Holy Book in Sermon.

At the Sunday evening service of the Quincy street Baptist church the pastor, Rev. T. J. Parsons, began a series of sermons on the question, "Is the Bible the Word of God?" The preacher said "This is not a new question, but is asked by every succeeding generation. The Bible is subjected to investigation and criticism more than any other book. Some attack it as untrue, misguiding and of questionable ethics. Others allow that it is a 'good book' and to be classed with the best in our literature, but deny its inspiration.

Mr. Parsons arraigned the Bible before the Bar of human reason and called upon various witnesses to testify in defense of the inspiration of the scriptures. He cited the testimony of historical events, the testimony of the manuscripts, of archeology, of literature, of art, of the increasing popularity and of its transforming power in individual life, bringing his sermon to a close with the logical declaration that the Bible is the inspired message of God and men are bound to accept it, order their lives according to its teachings, or suffer the just condemnation of God.

Watch Carefully the Child's Diet

Start Them Off Right With a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Food.

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested. If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salter pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers, is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

RALPH M. PATTEN.

For her boy Ralph, who was constipated from birth but is now doing fine. Naturally she is enthusiastic about it and wants other mothers to use it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more. Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant and non-griping and free from injurious ingredients. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

LAST TURN VEREIN BONDS ARE BURNED

Final Vestige of Gymnastic Organization's Indebtedness is Cleared Away Amid Ringing Cheers of Members.

With a firm hand and amid the ringing cheers of 500 Turners and their wives John Lederer, one of the three surviving charter members of the South Bend Turn Verein touched a match to the last of the mortgage bonds held against the society at a big Turner banquet at Turner hall Sunday night.

The meeting was held in honor of the clearing up of the last vestige of indebtedness of one of South Bend's strongest organizations, the purpose of the Turner banquet at Turner hall Sunday night.

Paul Weiss, president of the organization was chairman of the evening, and introduced amid continued applause, George F. Geyer, for 31 years treasurer of the Verein.

He then introduced Simon Grenebaum, a former president, under whose administration the plan of issuing bonds to cover additions needed to the hall was devised and issued. The bonds were taken up by members of the society without interest, and Mr. Grenebaum told how proud the members were they had all been cleared off and lauded the purpose of the Turners which he said was not only to secure strong healthy boys and girls, but clean, honorable men and good citizens.

Turners started in a small way," he said, "to Mr. Lederer and Meyer Livingston, Mr. Elbel and the rest of the early members belongs much credit for their earnest work to make it grow, for their perseverance, their faith. And the Turn Verein did grow. We bought some land. We put up a building, we had to add to it and add to it again. Still it grew till we had to work out a plan of providing for its needs."

Then he told the story of the bonds and how they were finally paid off.

Judge Farabaugh Speaks. "The Turners were the first in America to give proper emphasis to the importance of healthy bodies," said Judge Farabaugh, the next speaker. "It was due to their influence that physical training was introduced in our public schools. You are all right in stating that the first gymnasium ever erected in this country was in a Turner hall."

"But the Turners did not stop with building strong bodies. They were building men and the influence of this organization has spread far and wide and has always been for the betterment and uplift of mankind."

"All the credit should go to the men," declared John B. Stoll in a witty speech. "The women have helped too. They have worked and planned with the men and we must acknowledge that debt cheerfully."

W. A. McNerny praised the qualities of the German nation. They have been influential in forming our American ideals. They are a nation of men of sound, sober, conservative judgment, not lightly carried away by every new theory, every plausible argument, insisting on careful study and deliberation before arriving at a judgment. They have proved a balance wheel in our nation.

"I am glad to see you pay tribute to your fatherland; glad to hear you speak the German tongue. I have no patience with those who argue that to be a true American one must forget the land of one's birth or ancestry. It would be very ungrateful to turn your back on your splendid heritage. You should continue to teach your children to revere the splendid German traits."

CHURCH WIPES OUT DEBT OF $900

River Park Methodists in Good Meeting Pledge to Clean Up All Obligations.

Pledges amounting to $900 to pay off the old church debt were received at the River Park Methodist church Sunday morning by Rev. M. H. Appleby, district superintendent. Dr. S. C. Bronson of Garret Biblical Institute, Chicago, delivered the sermons at both morning and evening services.

The subject of the morning sermon was "The Relation of the Church to the Community." In delivering this subject Dr. Bronson pointed out five characteristics of the early church as revealed in the first part of the Book of Acts: Evangelism, beautiful communal life, benevolence and fraternalism, healing ministry, and safeguarding of religious life.

"The Social Program of the Church," was the subject of the evening sermon. Dr. Bronson outlined this program as follows:

Extension of privileges; equal rights to all; a living wage; safe guarding of life and health; best division of products of industry that can be devised. The preacher pointed out that, in the industrial world lives seem cheaper than dividends and declared that the church can not sit by and keep silent. Its program, he said, seeks advancement, not final solution of the industrial and social programs. The church is not working for ends but for progress, he said.

MEXICAN CRISIS AFTER ELECTION

Five Candidates in Field Assures Huerta's Position as None Will Receive the Required Majority.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20.—Gen. Huerta made known Monday that the presidential election will be held on Oct. 26 as scheduled. He means that Huerta will remain in office after that date.

Five parties are in the field with a candidate for the presidency. In view of the internal situation of the country no candidate can receive a majority of the votes cast. The constitution requires that the successful candidates must receive a majority.

It is expected that the crisis in the relations between Mexico and the U. S. will come immediately after the election. Announcement will be made that the electors have failed to choose a new president and that Huerta will continue in office as constitutional president.

The parties in the field and their presidential candidates are: Catholic, Frederick Gamboa; Felicista, Felix Diaz; Liberal, Manuel Calero; Liberal Progressive, David de LaFuente; Anti-re-election, Vasquez Gomez.

Rodolfo Reyes, ex-minister of Justice, would have been nominated by the republicans but he is now in prison on a charge of sedition and cannot figure in the election.

The belief is general that the return of Felix Diaz to Mexico City will be the signal for dangerous rioting. Huerta has strengthened his grip on the army by placing commanders in charge upon whom he can absolutely rely. Gen. Blanquet, the commander-in-chief, may be succeeded by a man more amenable to Huerta's purposes. With the election but six days off, few actual preparations have been made for balloting on a successor to Huerta. The election machinery is

OUR FELLER CITIZENS

BLUE MONDAY—WORRY DAY. Arthur Russell has cause to worry because this community is so darn healthy.

Walt Miller, the coal man, fears we air going to have a pretty mild winter. W. B. Hollingsworth, the ice cream man, on the other hand calculates we air in fer a late spring.

George Wheelock says cooks nowadays are gittin' too daggoned kearfal with the crockery. They don't smash dishes like they used ter in the good old days.

John McGill admits that marriages are frequent and often, but complains that the young folks are too willin' to keep house with pa and ma, which ain't no advantage to the furniture dealers.

Harvey Hager ran a splinter into his foot when he was bowling one night last week. Seems like we can't do nuthin' no more without taking a awful chance.

J. C. Bowsher has three automobiles and says he don't git enough exercise. Fred Woodward hasn't any automobile and says he gits too much.

Ralph Keltner agrees that yesterday was a mighty fine day, but the fact that he had to go to work again this morning spoiled it all.

Dr. Varier saw the Notre Dame game Saturday, but it might have been played in South Dakota and then he couldn't have saw it.

Jack Heckaman says business is fust rate now—but they ain't no tellin' what may happen. For instance, it might become the fashion for men to wear long hair and full beards.

Arch Mardock is working like a pirate to make the social season at the C. A. club eclipse that of last winter. But there's the rub—he'll have to work twice as hard next year to beat it.

Ami Ives ran a needle into his foot 20 years ago and had a terrible time. Of course it's all healed up now—the foot, not the needle—but then, he might run another one into it any time.

Ike Lower enjoys a horse race as controlled by Huerta's military governors. The Mexican government may protest against the assembling of a foreign fleet in Mexican waters.

Foreign Minister Mohna declared Monday that, so long as the mission of the warships was one of peace his government would not object to their presence.

"We will not allow any attempt at coercion though," he declared.

MAN WAS OUT IN SOCIETY

Couldn't Talk English But He Got Drunk.

Frank Kolmusk of Huey st. said he had been out in society Sunday and that a friend at whose house he was visiting had given him beer enough to get him drunk. The man was not able to talk English—but was compelled to pay an additional dollar for an interpreter after he had been found guilty and fined $1 and costs.

BUDWEISERS BEAT PORTAGE PARKS

The fast Budweiser eleven defeated the Portage Parks on Hospital field by the score of 28 to nothing. The line smashing and frequent end runs of the Budweisers clearly upset the Portage Park eleven. G. Burns featured in a play in which he fumbled the ball and turning and picking it up ran for a 25 yard touchdown. The Budweiser eleven has not been scored on this year and expect a hard battle at Laporte next Sunday. The locals will present a strong lineup and will try hard for a victory.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

When Headachy, Bilious, Constipated, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad.

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clear, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.—Adv't.
