

What So Precious As a Healty Baby?

Every Youngster Can Have Fine Digestion if Given a Good Baby Laxative.

In spite of the greatest personal care and the most intelligent attention to diet, babies and children will become constipated, and it is a fact that constipation and indigestion have wrecked many a young life. To start with a good digestive apparatus is to start life without a handicap.

But, as we cannot all have perfect working bowels, we must do the next best thing and acquire them, or train them to become healthy. This can be done by the use of a laxative- tonic very highly recommended by a great many mothers. The remedy is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and has been on the market for two generations. It can be bought conveniently at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, and those who are already convinced of its merits buy the dollar size.

Its mildness makes it the ideal medicine for children, and it is also very pleasant to the taste. It is sure in its effects, and genuinely harmless. Very little of it is required and its frequent use does not cause it to lose its effects, as in the case with other remedies.

Thousands can testify to its merits in constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sick headaches, etc., among their reliable people like Mrs. James H. Rouse, of Marinette, Wis. Her little son Howard was fifteen months old last April, but he was sick with bowel trouble from birth and suffered intensely. Since Mrs. Rouse has been giving him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin all trouble has disappeared and the boy is becoming robust.

Thousands keep Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it from infancy to old age. The users of Syrup Pepsin have learned to avoid cathartics, salts, mineral waters, pills and other harsh remedies for they do but temporary good and are a shock to any delicate system.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

MRS. GEORGE W. BAKER OLD RESIDENT, DIES

Believed to Have Been Nearly Ninety Years of Age—Husband Was Pioneer in County.

A resident of this city for nearly 40 years, Mrs. George W. Baker, 1026 W. Washington av., died Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, with the unique record of not having divulged her age, not even to a member of the family. It is believed she was between 80 and 90 years old. She was born in Vermont probably 37 years ago. She had been ailing for several years before her death, which was directly the result of heart trouble.

Mrs. Baker, until the time of her illness, was identified with charitable institutions and church work. She has been a member of St. Paul's M. E. church ever since that church was known as Milburn chapel, which has been nearly 12 years.

From Burlington, Vt., where she was born, Mrs. Baker moved to Jacksonville, Ill., where she was married to Mr. Baker. Later they moved to Decatur of that state, from which city they came to South Bend in 1874.

Mrs. Baker is survived by two children, a son and a daughter. The son is Arthur D. Baker, who is secretary and treasurer of the South Bend Chilled Plow works. Mrs. W. H. Owen, 1025 W. Washington av., is the daughter.

According to St. Joseph county history annuals the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Baker took place in March, 1850. Mrs. Baker, before marriage, was Miss Katherine Dewey.

Her husband, George W. Baker, was one of the pioneers of the farm machinery industry in South Bend. In 1875 he organized the St. Joseph Reaper and Machine Co., which was later merged into the South Bend Chilled Plow Co., of which, until his death in 1909, he was secretary and treasurer.

NONE TO BE MISSED. CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Every child in Chicago will have an interest in the municipal Christmas tree which will be erected in Grant park by the city on Christmas eve. The tree will be 50 feet high and illuminated by electric lights.

IMPRACTICABILITY OF ONE-IDEAD REFORM MOVEMENT

(CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE.) up, properly and deservedly so, in my opinion, as among the most desirable beverages that can be presented to the lip. But while Secretary Bryan and thousands of others are partial to grape juice, Pres. Wilson prefers orange juice, and ladies of high standing have told me at festal boards that grape juice soured their stomachs, but that a glass of beer at times just hits the spot. So there you are, as the saying goes.

Now here in our town, with its cosmopolitan population are thousands of people who from childhood have been brought up to regard beer as much a part of the daily meals as some other people look upon tea or coffee as indispensable adjuncts to their bill of fare. People thus reared simply won't believe that they are committing an unpardonable sin when they make beer a part of their daily food. They were brought up that way and are not likely to be swayed from it this or next year or the year following. These are largely matters of education and experimentation. Standardizing will come by and by. It was neither law nor thunder-bolts from the pulpit that abolished the demijohn or whisky jug as an indispensable adjunct to the harvest field in summer time. The notion that an appetizer in the form of a dash of whisky or brandy must precede a breakfast has become almost wholly extinct. Dry banquets are fast becoming more frequent than wet ones. Very few business men nowadays wend their way to a saloon at 10 o'clock in the morning to "bridge over" for the noon meal. All that is left to show how customs and habits are steadily changing—not as the result of prohibition legislation or thunder-bolts from the pulpits, but as the result of personal conviction and individual resolution. The normal person who doesn't drink simply because he or she can't get it is not fortified to resist temptation. Life insurance companies, railroad corporations and crafty doctors have done me to make people understand the benefits of temperate living and to comprehend the evils growing out of alcoholism. This has been accomplished in years and years by all the tirades from the rostrum and all the thunderbolts that have been hurled from the pulpits.

To that part of the clergy that gives thought and consideration only to one evil and conveniently closes its eye to all of the other evils I would again recommend to earnest and thoughtful study the comprehensive program mapped out by the Federation of Women's Clubs recently in session at Indianapolis. By adjusting their activities to that splendid program they will see opportunity for operating in a wider and more assuring field than they have operated in hitherto, and after experiencing the advantages of a new departure they will be able to see how shortsighted they were when they lent themselves to pulling chestnuts out of the fire for a grasping real estate junta and how cruelly unfair and unjust they were in seeking to prejudice the people of this city against electing to the mayoralty a man who stands pre-eminent as to fitness and qualification to perform the duties of that important office. Since it is now too late to make amends it may not be amiss to see that the lamp still holds out to burn and that a splendid way to atone for past transgressions is to resolve to place efficiency and capability above inexperience by entrusting the management of the municipality's affairs into the tried and true hands of P. A. Joyce.
