

CAR STRIKE SETTLED BY RALSTON

Street Car Service in Indianapolis to be Resumed in Twelve Hours, According to Terms of Agreement.

UTILITIES BOARD TO ARBITRATE DISPUTE

Grievances Will be Heard by State Commission—Both Sides Claim Victory, But Union is Not Recognized.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—The strike of the employees of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company was settled late Friday through the efforts of Gov. Samuel M. Ralston. The employees won their demand for arbitration, but Ralston said about recognition of the union in the terms of settlement.

Street car service is to be resumed within twelve hours, according to the terms of the settlement of the strike, which also provides against any further interference with the operation of cars.

All men who were in the employ of the company Friday night, Oct. 31, when the strike was called, and all employees who had been discharged on account of joining the union, are to be reinstated by the company with full seniority rights and without prejudice.

Disputes and grievances as to the wages, hours, conditions and service, will be referred to the utilities commission for arbitration if the company and employees fail to reach a mutual agreement within ten days.

In addition to the union officials the traction officers, the arrangement was signed by Ethelbert Stewart, representing the United States government, and Gov. Samuel M. Ralston for the state of Indiana.

The settlement of the strike means that the two thousand members of the Indiana National guard who were called to Indianapolis yesterday, on order of the governor for strike duty, will be discharged.

Both sides claim a victory in the settlement of the strike. The union officials declare that, while they are disappointed in that they did not obtain recognition of the union, they obtained their main contention, which was a demand for arbitration of all disputes between the employees and the company.

Credit for the settlement of the strike is given to Gov. Ralston, who has been untiring in his efforts to bring the company and its employees together. He not only has worked with the officials of the union and the company, but yesterday addressed a mass meeting of strikers and their sympathizers and pleaded with them to help him restore order.

RICH YOUNG BACHELOR VICTIM OF D. CUPID

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Vincent Astor, known as "the richest young bachelor" in America, is soon to lose that title. Formal announcements were made Saturday of the engagement of Mr. Astor to Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington, whose estate adjoins that of Mr. Astor, in Dutchess county.

The young couple are said to have been childhood sweethearts; they have at least known each other all of their lives. The wedding will probably take place in June.

At the last appraisal, Mr. Astor's fortune was estimated at $65,000,000.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 8.—Gov. Samuel D. Kelker Saturday ordered the extradition of Harry K. Thaw to New York in response to requisition papers charging him with the crime of conspiracy.

The decision of the governor was announced at 11:05 o'clock. It was written and copies were handed to the Thaw lawyers, to Thaw himself, to Bernard H. Jacobs, representing V. T. Jerome, and to the newspaper men.

Gov. Felker refused to comment on his action beyond referring inquirers to the written declaration. This decision designates Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county to take Thaw back to New York. Sheriff Hornbeck was named in the requisition papers filed by Wm. T. Jerome.

The decision handed down Saturday by Gov. Felker does not mean that Thaw will be returned immediately to Matteawan, from which he escaped on Aug. 17.

When the decision was made there were waiting in the governor's office about 50 persons including the members of the governor's council, the newspaper men and attorneys.

Attorneys Are Gloomy Although Expected Decision to Be Unfavorable.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Hope McEldowney of West Salem, Wis., testified Friday that she had given James Ryan, a clairvoyant known as "Prof. Crane," $15,000 to invest for her, after Ryan had convinced her that she was followed by a bad influence that would make investment through any other means unsafe.

Mrs. McEldowney answered Ryan's advertisement in a newspaper, she said. After one or two visits she became convinced that a "bad influence" was following her. She gave two drafts, she testified, one for $2,500 and one for $12,500.

This was to be invested in Great Northern railroad bonds, she testified. "He said that he and his father had been in conference with a representative of James J. Hill for several days and were in a position to buy a large number of the bonds cheap. No one else could get in on the ground-floor as he could," he said.

Gov. Felker left his office, nodded to the crowd that had gathered and said: "I have five copies of my decision. How many newspaper men are here?" Reporters went to him and he handed them the five copies. The attorneys for both sides then pressed up to the blow to his chances. He issued the following statement:

"It has been my opinion that Gov. Felker would order the extradition. The people of Concord thought so and I was nearly moved by their belief. "It is also my impression that Gov. Felker did what he believed to be right. I think he merely considered technical correctness and that he did not inquire into the motive which inspired the persecution of me."

Both sides have agreed that there shall be no unreasonable delay in the hearing. Both sides have likewise agreed that the United States circuit court of appeals has no jurisdiction in the case, so that no matter what the decision of the Portsmouth courts shall be the case will be appealed direct to the United States supreme court.

There it is a question of time. The Jerome lawyers admit, it is said, that Thaw will probably be free for at least another year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Luther Sisson, wife of a Brooklyn policeman, appeared in court against her husband whom she charged with spanking her. She said she objected not to the physical pain, but was humiliated by the undignified position in which she was held while the spanking was being delivered.
